Airplanes Bomb Metropolis and Towns

Visit Yorkshire.

AIR DREADNAUGHTS ARE DRIVEN AWAY

London, Sept. 25.—Fifteen persons were killed and seventy injured in last night's air raid over London.

The Zeppelins which crossed the Yorkshire and Lincolnshire coasts but did not penetrate inland, being driven off by gun fire. Three women were injured.

Only two airplanes at the most penetrated the defenses of London last night, it is reported officially. The following official report was given out by Lord French, commander of the home defenses:

"Airplane raid: The latest reports concerning last night's airplane raid show that the group of raiders which approached London was driven off by the fire of anti-aircraft guns. Only one or at the most two machines penetrated the defenses. The casualties in all the raided districts reported by the police up to the present are: Killed, 15; injured, 70. The material damage was not great.

"Airship raid: Enemy airships crossed the Yorkshire and Lincolnshire coasts between midnight and 3 a. m. There is no evidence of their having penetrated to any distance inland. They were driven off by gun fire from various defended localities which they attempted to approach. Bombs were dropped at one coast town, three women being slightly injured. Little damage was caused."

STORY OF THE RAID.

London, Sept. 25.—Reports from Kentish towns say that about eight bombs were dropped in last night's air raid. According to a telegram from an Essex coast town the first intimation of the raid came about 7:30 o'clock when anti-aircraft opened fire and the dropping of the airplane motors could

SECRECY KEPT IN BINGHAM AUTOPSY

Analysis of Organs of the Wealthy Woman Will Be
Most Thorough.

New York, Sept. 25.—Secrecy was maintained today regarding the chemical analysis in progress here of the vital organs from the body of Mrs. Robert Worth Bingham, privately exhumed at Wilmington, N. C., last week by direction of members of her family as a result of rumors regarding her death. The organs are at Bellevue hospital being subjected to exhaustive tests in the pathological laboratory. The examination, it is said, is for the purpose of discovering by all known tests whether there was any unusual conditions present, will take several days. The work is being done, it was said, for the Kenan family of Wilmington, relatives of Mrs. Bingham, formerly Mrs. Henry M. Flagler, widow of the Standard Oil financier who left her an estate that has been valued at $70,000,000. The organs were brought here several days ago. Some of the work, it is said, is being done at Columbia university.

WOULD DISPATCH THE HOPELESS INCURABLES

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 25.—The American Association of Progressive Medicine in convention here is on record as favoring a movement to have state legislatures legalize the administration of an easy death to the hopelessly incurable. The decision was made last night by a vote of 37 to 24 on a motion to refer the proposition to a committee with instructions to submit to the legislature of every state the recommendation of some action favorable to the procedure.

Will Return to Work
Wednesday.

San Francisco, Sept. 25.—The San Francisco iron trade councils voted late last night to recommend to affiliated unions which meet today the acceptance of temporary wage schedule agreed upon yesterday by representatives of the men, the employers and federal mediators.

The schedule provides 20 per cent increase for all men earning $4.25 a day or less; a 12½ per cent increase to men earning more than $4.25 a day and less than $5; a 10 per cent increase to those earning $5 a day; a $6 maximum daily wage and double time for all overtime after 11 p. m.

According to the agreement the 25,000 metal trades unionists who walked out a week ago are to return to work tomorrow. The men demanded increases of 50 per cent and a minimum wage of $6 a day.

AMERICAN BANKERS IN ANNUAL MEETING

Holding Convention in Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 25.—Bankers from virtually every section of the country were in attendance today at the opening session of the war convention of the American Bankers' association. In addition to the part the bankers should take to help win the war other financial matters of great importance were to be discussed. One of the principal subjects to come before the trust company section today was the relation of trust companies to the federal reserve system. Some of the speakers contended that the merging of state banks with the federal system must inevitably lead to a conflict of authority and confusion. The good results to be obtained, it was declared, would not justify the trust companies in making the change until the federal reserve act is modified, if at all. Only twenty-eight out of twenty-two hundred state institutions, it was pointed out, have thus far allied themselves with the federal system. The clearing house and savings bank sections also held meetings today.

Great Quantity of Oil in the Tanker Fails to Take Fire.

Richmond, Cal., Sept. 25.—Two men were killed here early today in an explosion which tore out the forward works and superstructure of the Standard Oil tanker, J. A. Moffet, as she lay at her pier here.

The explosion, according to J. F. Brooks, superintendent at Richmond for the Standard Oil company, was probably caused by an explosion of gas while the men were cleaning the hold. More than sixty thousand gallons of oil, which had been pumped aboard, escaped destruction.

The Moffet, of 4,012 net tons, arrived yesterday from Vancouver in ballast and repairs were being effected before she filed her tanks. The explosion awoke residents of San Francisco seven miles away. Officials of the Standard Oil company of California said the pier had been closely guarded before and since the Moffet's arrival and discounted any possibility of sabotage.

GOVERNOR SAID TO BE IMPROVED SLIGHTLY TODAY

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 25.—The condition of Gov. Goodrich, ill at a local hospital of typhoid and bronchial pneumonia, was reported as slightly improved early today.

When the physicians attending Gov. Goodrich issued the usual morning bulletin it was found to contain an optimistic note. It follows:

"The governor spent a very good night, his temperature ranging around 100. While there is no radical change in his condition, we feel that there is a distinct improvement over yesterday. His general condition is entirely satisfactory."

Buenos Aires, Sept. 25.—The conservatives, who control the chamber of deputies, have agreed to vote tonight on a rupture with Germany. From all indications they will have a majority of thirty votes, virtually forcing the government to cease relations with Germany.

The government desires to postpone formulation of its policy until it receives from Ambassador Nao at Washington translations of the 415 telegrams sent or received by the Swedish legation here. These messages were telegraphed to Dr. Nao with instructions to send translations. The government is considering the imposition of a rigid censorship of all messages in the republic to prevent

CHARGE GERMAN INHUMANITY TO WAR PRISONERS

London, Sept. 24.—(Delayed by Censor.)—The treatment by the Germans of British prisoners in German East Africa, are contained in a white paper just issued. The paper contains a mass of testimony recited by prisoners and others, including a number of women, to the effect that the Germans deliberately adopted a policy to lower the prestige of the British in the eyes of the natives, forcing them to do all manner of degrading work and subjecting them to terrible hardships without proper food, clothing and shelter. Bed linen was offered to the prisoners, but they were forced to lodge in native huts which were damp and all became ill. The commandant, according to the testimony, declared that the prisoners had no rights and that any humane treatment was a disgrace.

PRODUCTION OF COAL MUST GO ON

Operators and Miners Meet
in Washington to Settle Wage Scale.

Washington, Sept. 25.—A plea for concerted efforts to obtain a maximum production of coal during the war was made by Dr. H. A. Garfield, the fuel administrator, today at the opening of a conference of central field operators and miners here to discuss a proposed wage increase. "Under no circumstances," said Dr. Garfield, "must we allow production to stop. Our duty as American citizens is to produce all we can just as it is the duty of American citizens in the ranks of the army to march ahead over all obstacles. We must put aside for the time being all questions that might separate men under normal circumstances and work in the closest harmony. There must be no suspension of work." The conference was called by John P. White, president of the United Mine Workers of America.

TRADE BOARD TO AID PUBLISHERS WITH ITS PROOF

Washington, Sept. 25.—The federal trade commission decided today it would turn over to newspaper publishers for such use as they desire to make of it, all records and correspondence in the agreement of last March made with newsprint manufacturers by which paper prices were to have been cut. Some of the manufacturers declined to carry out the agreement when the government refused to halt grand jury proceedings against them in New York, charging violation of the anti-trust law. Publishers who signed the agreement have made frequent inquiries of the commission as to what are their rights in the circumstances. The commission, giving no definite answer, will turn over the records and let the publishers themselves judge what they best can do.

OPERATORS AND MINERS GATHER TO MAKE SCALE

Washington, Sept. 25.—An interstate conference of coal operators and miners opened here today for the purpose of settling the wage question in the central competitive district of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and western Pennsylvania. The meeting was called by John P. White, president of the United Mine Workers of America, following an informal conference of operators and miners in Indianapolis September 6. It is understood the workers will ask the daily wage scale be increased from $3.60 to $5.50 and that an advance of 10 cents per ton in the mining rate be granted.

ANDERSON COAL PRICES MAKING BIG LOCAL STIR

Anderson, Ind., Sept. 25.—An investigation of coal prices in Anderson has been ordered by Mayor J. H. Mellett, and the cause of the continued excessive charge for coals being sought. Quotations indicate that Kentucky and West Virginia lump coal can be secured for $2.40 at the mine and an additional cost to the consumer of $1.70 for freight and 50 cents for unloading and delivery should set the price near $4.70 per ton. Anderson coal dealers, however, are charging $7.00 per ton.

BAVARIA'S PEACE VIEWS.

Berlin, Monday, Sept. 24.—The Bavarian government has made an individual reply to the peace proposals of Pope Benedict, according to a special dispatch from Munich to the Zeitung Am Mittag. It is taken for granted that the German imperial government is fully conversant with the contents of the reply made by King Ludwig.

FIGHT REICHSTAG PLAN.

London, Sept. 25.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen says the main committee of the national liberal party, of Germany, has adopted a resolution opposing the reichstag's peace resolution, disarmament and establishment of a parliamentary government in Germany and restoration of Belgium, and advocating annexation of conquered territory. The socialist newspaper Vorwaerts, of Berlin, characterizes the resolution as a challenge to the reichstag majority.

Summary of the Day's War News

The double air raid on England and by German Zeppelins and airplanes last night resulted in the death of fifteen persons and the injury of more than seventy.

Nearly all the casualties were caused by the airplanes division, two of the machines of which reached London. The bombs of the airplane fleet accounted for all the dead and all but three of the injured according to the official reports today. Three women were injured by bombs from the Zeppelins which crossed the Yorkshire and Lincolnshire coasts, but did not penetrate inland.

On the French front in northern France the Germans are keeping up their activities north of Verdun. Their guns are still bombarding General Pe-

John Irwin, 67 years old, 713 St. Mary's avenue, street cleaner employed by the city, died at the St. Joseph hospital Tuesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. His death resulted from injuries sustained earlier in the day when he was struck by an automobile, while at work on the streets.

William Rummell was driving the automobile, a Getz, Sharp & Orr company delivery machine, when the car hit the aged street sweep. Rummell reported to police that the steering gear on his car broke and the machine ran wild as it bore down upon the man who was wielding the heavy street brush.

The accident occurred in the 1000 block on Pope avenue. Irwin apparently did not know of the approach of the car. He was struck in the back and hurled several yards along the curbing. He was unable to arise. The

The flight was the first of the late George Cayley type, which was designed by the late George Cayley, a pioneer of aviation.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

It Cross, Feverish or Bilious Give "California Syrup of Figs."

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Advertisement.

SOME AMERICAN WIDOWS TO WHOM FELL GREAT FORTUNES WHEN THE BUILDERS OF THEM DIED

Odd Fates of Bulked Millions Illustrated by Twin Mysteries of Carolina—The King Murder and the Flagler Sensation, With Some Less Tragic Instances.

(Staff Special.)
Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 25.—Wealthy widows, beware of North Carolina.

Such a warning to relicts of millionaires may follow if the state adds to its collection of death mysteries.

The secrecy shrouding the issuing of a permit to exhume the body of Mrs. Lila Flagler Bingham, whose first husband, H. M. Flagler, Standard Oil magnate, left her millions, follows closely the mysterious death of Mrs. Maude A. King, wealthy Chicago widow.

Both women had originally married millionaires well along in years. Mrs. Flagler-Bingham by a second marriage was the wife of an old girlhood sweetheart, Judge Robert W. Bingham, when she died.

Mrs. King had not re-married, but there was a man in the case just the same—Gaston Means, who had been her secretary, and who was a member of the auto party which Mrs. King is said to have left just before her body was found in a lonesome spot near Blackwelder Spring.

Both women, while widows, spent much time traveling and enjoying life.

That, it seems is what most wealthy widows do. And in many instances the widow and her wealth are rapidly parted.

This however, does not hold good in the case of the wealthiest, as witness Mrs. J. P. Morgan, sr., Mrs. Mary Harriman, Mrs. Russell Sage, Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, Mrs. Potter Palmer and Mrs. J. J. Hill.

They, of course, were past middle age when they acquired wealth and lost their husbands.

The younger ones marry. It seems that Dan Cupid hasn't much else to do but sit around and shoot arrows at widowed hearts.

Just the other day news floated across the Atlantic that Mrs. W. B. Leeds, widow of America's "tin-plate king," was engaged to a Greek prince. She had been wooed by half the world's bachelor noblemen. J. J. Astor's Titanic widow, Madeline Force Astor, is now Mrs. William K. Dick, and living happily.

Mrs. Lella Post, widow of the Battle Creek cereal food millionaire, married the manager of the hotel she inherited from her husband.

Years ago Mrs. Marshall Field, jr., married Malvina Drummond, a Britisher, and carried $500,000 American money across with her. Mrs. Philip Van Valkenburgh left immense fortunes by her first two husbands, now announces her engagement to the duke of Oporto.

The widow of Tom Shevlin, millionaire football player, gave her hand and the care of the Shevlin millions to Marshall H. Russell, a year or so after her husband died.

Then there was the widow of James "Silent" Smith, who gave her somewhat aged heart and a barrel of money into the keeping of youthful John H. H. Orr, who posed as a student at an Ohio college, but was really a professional gambler.

With few exceptions millionaire widows "lived happily ever after" their second marriages. Those who seemed to have made the failure were the ones who asked husbands

ed that claim as well as the name he wore.

Seldom does a death mystery follow a wealthy widow's second venture in the sea of matrimony.

And more rare is it for a death mystery to follow a wealthy widow who does not remarry.

In North Carolina both have happened—and in a month!

It is expected to take at least two weeks. The official count of the vote cast in the boroughs outside of Manhattan reduced Mayor Mitchell's plurality to 392. Official computation of the Manhattan vote will be made today.

MRS. FREDERICK FUNSTON WRITES WITH LIVELY INTEREST ABOUT UNCLE SAM'S GREAT NEW ARMY

Widow of Famous General
Tells of Marvelous Patriotism of the Men When
Their Country Calls—An Incident of General Bell and a Disabled Automobile.

No name in recent American military annals is more inspiring than that of General Frederick Funston, captor of Aguinaldo, leader of the American expedition that occupied Vera Cruz, and commander of the department of the south during the recent affair
in Mexico. The general's widow, who has the responsibility of caring for their three fatherless children, has taken to the pen
in order to support them. The Sentinel believes its readers will be greatly interested in this, her first articles as a professional writer.

BY MRS. FREDERICK FUNSTON.

Give our nation a reason, a cause,
and behold, we not only rise to the situation, but we do it heartily, wonderfully well.

Who said we were a country without patriotism? I have just seen soldiers—army—navy—the very atmosphere permeated with the thrill of patriotism! I saw where 12,000 acres of virgin forest had been razed in a twinkling to make way for one cantonment—Camp Upton, on Long Island.

From this one training ground, set up as quickly as a scene on the stage,
an army of 40,000 soldiers can be rushed, trained and equipped, every three months to protect humanity's interests.

The approach to the reservation reminds me most vividly of an old mining camp, or the outskirts of a circus, with all its men loafing around the various shacks and wagons, smoking, chewing and swapping stories, with, seemingly inside the gates of the camp was quite another aspect. Soldiers—not so many. They are to come later. But workmen! I would hate to guess how many! Carpenters, plumbers, electricians—the place was swarming with them! The only business opportunity I have ever seen

This interesting group shows Mrs.
Frederick Funston, widow of the famous general, and her fatherless children, for whose support she has taken up the pen. The children are Frederick, Jr., aged 18; Barbara, aged 8;
Elizabeth, aged 5.

was an anti-hill on moving day.
Where a few short weeks ago a virgin forest stood, the camp is laid out in avenues and streets. They are numbered so, so soon as the little city is completed, the mothers and sweethearts will have no difficulty in locating and finding their "boys."
And here may I disagree for a moment with the soldiers' wives who claim that the new army is a

who give up home, father, mother and everything they hold dear—in short, their lives—why speak of them lightly as "boys"? Men they are—every atom of them! Only a real man could do what is expected of them. Men—let us call them as they are!

Most of the soldiers were colored (and fine soldiers they make!) Just enough of them to do guard duty. As we drove in, we were stopped by one of these—a fine, clean specimen with bright, intelligent eyes, and a smile that showed every snow-white tooth
in his head.

The morning had promised a cool
return trip, consequently the tonneau
of the car was full of wraps of various description. Our colored friend poked around among them and asked smilingly: "Any packages?" We did not look like spies, evidently, for when we assured him that we had only a basket
of pears with which to keep the wolf
from the door until we could return to our humble shacks, he permitted us to proceed, after having given us a few directions as to how we might find headquarters, and General Bell, who is in command of this wonderful camp.

We were most cordially greeted by General Bell, a tall soldierly man who emanates energy and kindness. We found him most amiable, ready to answer any questions—and we asked many! We started off to inspect the officers' quarters.

As we walked away from the building, an officer stepped up to the general and requested a few moments. In a short time General Bell returned and told me a remarkable story.

General Bell, learning that the contractors were having some difficulty in getting their men paid off, had offered the services of his officers. A captain has just finished paying off
the men. He said that after all had been paid, one still hung around stepped up to the officer, and handing him a $20-bill, said:

"Captain, I have been over-paid $20." Another man standing by said to him: "You fool, why didn't you keep it?" And he replied, "I couldn't cheat my government."

"That," said General Bell, "shows what universal training would do for the men of our country. That man was an ex-soldier, had served an enlistment in the regular army."

I asked the general, "What will become of this vast contention when the camp is over?"

"So many ask that question," the general smiled, "and I do not know what to answer. With this stupendous war upon us, it behooves us to think and observe and learn so that when finally this war is over and we have passed through the fiery furnace, we will know how to be prepared against
the next one."

"Oh! don't throw up your hands in deprecation—there will be more wars!
Not for a long time, perhaps, after this one is over, but there will be, as long as human nature is human nature, and the millennium is still a long way off."

"Which is the best way out of the camp?" we asked our general.

"Why—" he thought a moment and said, "I'll go with you and escort you on the right road," he said.

"But," we demurred, "how will you get back?"

"Walk," he replied and stepped into the car. "I have walked only about eight miles today, and need a little more exercise."

Presently we came to the end of the reservation and started down a hill
over a badly rutted stretch of road.
Below us, half way up the hill, a roadster was "stuck." The women had gotten out of the car and the man was making vain efforts to start it up hill.

As soon as the general took in the situation, he said to our driver: "Stop!
Stop! They are in trouble—we must help them. All they need is to be pushed up the brow of this hill.
Come on."

And with that, out he jumped, followed by the two men of our party,
and literally pushed the little roadster
into camp. We wondered what its occupants would have thought had they known they had been pushed into the camp Upton by its commanding general.

SAVE YOUR HAIR AND BEAUTIFY IT WITH "DANDERINE"

Spend 25 Cents! Dandruff Disappears and Hair Stops Coming Out.

Try This! Hair Gets Beautiful, Wavy and Thick in Few Moments.

If you care for heavy hair, that glis-ters with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolved every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy,
healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverish itching of the scalp; the hair roots famine, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes later you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. It positively will not harm your hair.

Sir!! It's Important!

CONGRESS NEEDS A FOOLKILLER.

Speaking by and large—whatever that means—congress appears to be in fair mood to make about the same description of fool of itself over the exposure of von Bernstorff's propaganda in America that it did over the big bear raid in Wall street following the leak of the president's December peace note.

We doubt if it ever has entered any sensible American's mind to suppose for an instant that von Bernstorff—ready enough though he may have been to do it—even so much as supposed he could "hand something" to a member of the congress of the United States. The German ambassador was not operating that fashion. He knew, a trick worth two of that in bare matter of results and attended with less risk of immediate exposure and consequences to himself. The suave and subtle count had been long enough in America to learn thoroughly that there is nothing the demagogue in American politics so much fears as that some of his votes may up and fly from him. He dreads nothing so much as letters and telegrams counselling him against support of this measure or enjoining him to support of that measure. Von Bernstorff's essays to influence congress were guided by knowledge of that fear. He got the elements that, without special danger, he could make his mercenaries to assault congress with letters, telegrams and on practicable occasion by word of mouth. That some have been influenced in this way we believe there is no reason to doubt. That any were so sordid and traitorous as to criminally and basely yield to subornations from such a source is almost unbelievable and we do not believe an investigation will bring any evidence of it.

It is true enough some members of both house and senate have been so steadfastly and in a few instances so aggressively the friends of every congressional proposal the kaiser would admire and so consistently and implacably the foes of every congressional move the kaiser would fear and deplore that there has been now and then excited a suspicion of motives. Yet even in these extreme instances it will take clear evidence to convince the great body of clear-headed people in America that in congress there were mercenary traitors to their country and its cause. Prussian gold has been hush in this land for a good while and it no doubt has been at the refusal of any congressman who would pollute his hand by touching it, but we cannot think that any man in the American congress has done that or would do that.

Just as a man like our own Indiana Bill Wood, who is the sort to harbor sinister suspicions of others, went off half-cooked on the Wall street bear drive, so a bloviating emotionalist like Tom Heflin, of Alabama, who loves to pose with his elephantine body and soar with his mellifluous voice, blew the lid off his noise a day or two ago with the wholly unconsidered intimation that he had seen and he had noticed and there had been this and that and more else, wherefore there sat right among themselves in the congress of the United States men and members who—and so on and so forth.

Whereupon and forthwith the house goes into a regular corn-sweat of wrath and a vast heat of purpose to have the whole body of it laid bare in all its naked wickedness or in all its shining virtue, as the case may be, and the truth may come out. Wherefore congress needs an able-bodied and painstaking foolkiller in its precious midst working overtime for a day or two. The state department has expressly declared that it does not desire an investigation and that it has obtained no evidence whatever to bring any congressman under aspersion. It has offered to aid any inquiry congress may choose to make but has emphasized that it is not asking for one and has no reason to do so.

However, as there seems to be a fine opportunity to make much the same sort of monkey of Tom Heflin, of Alabama, that some months ago was made of Willer Wood, of Indiana, the house doubtless will go on the nosing adventure and so possess itself of a pair of very callow simians.

The place to look for the trail of von Bernstorff is not in congress, and congress knows it. It has a deal of proof of that. It can get more proof of it. And we believe that after it has foolishly amused itself a bit with Tom Heflin and made him good and sorry he has so much voice and only loose lips to control it there will be an end of the matter so far as the house is concerned. The state department knows, and still better the department of justice knows, what men and women in America have permitted themselves to become involved in the von Bernstorff propaganda.

THE CUT IN STEEL.

We know it was not a painless and we suspect it was not a bloodless operation whereby the government excised from 40 to 70 per cent of the profits on steel. It was a capital job of surgery and the patient will recover and maintain his health, we are assured by Judge Elbert H. Gary, whose interests and affections are quite acutely touched by this professional intervention for the removal of excess profits. Judge Gary admits that the area explored by the federal knife was somewhat more extensive than was looked for, but not so great as might have been and on the whole something of which the best can very well be made. To this Judge Gary adds that there will be no necessity for cutting the wages of men employed in the steel and related industries, which is a solid reassurance, for the United States Steel company raised the wages of its employees 10 per cent a few days ago.

What has been proceeding in the way of war profiteering in the steel industry may be approximated by any who will take the trouble to examine the cuttings and slashings that were made. In some instances almost three-fourths of the price littered the floor of the operating room. Yet Judge Gary stands for the statement that nothing was done that cannot be borne, and that, too, without any turning round to recoup the loss of these fat-excesses at the expense of labor. It is very fine and it kindles to effulgent glow and stirring warmth the hope that when the government gets at fuel prices and food prices, as it has the fixed purpose to do, there will come benefit and relief that the average man will more readily appreciate and more directly feel than he does the lopping off of the excesses that have made the steel industry seem like the specially favored of God.

If there is to be federal control let us have it all along the line after the fashion of control set for steel. That means a level of prices that leaves something for the industry affected and yet takes enough off the top to save the consumer from eating and burning himself up. There is and there ought to be no purpose to reduce any branch of industry or trade to a profitless endeavor and a bootless energy. What the government is about is to see that rapacity shall cease to make the abnormal conditions brought on by the war the occasion and opportunity to heartlessly exploit the people and clean up on the government itself.

DO YOU WANT TO WIN? THEN HELP.

It will be worse than a disappointment of expectation if there shall fail to be a great crowd at the court house tonight to attend the patriotic meeting. Such failure will be taken for a sign that Fort Wayne is not interested in the purpose of the big drive that is to go on this week in Indiana to stir the people to a fuller sense of the fact of war and to give them a better understanding of the nation's position in the war.

Fort Wayne cannot afford to gain any reputation for slacking or even of lukewarmness in this patriotic effort because to do so will be to incur a great injustice. Fort Wayne so far has done the great part allotted to her on every call and occasion for support of the government, the army, the nation and all activities and movements that relate to the war. She has been lavish with the Red Cross. She was generous to the Y. M. C. A. fund movement and she shone brightly in the campaign of the Knights of Columbus for their big fund to establish institutions similar to the Y. M. C. A. in the army camps at home and abroad. She did her part for the Liberty Loan and she has set an example to the country in furnishing troops for all branches of the service. Not one has been missing from the ranks when the men selected for service were called. That and much more make up a record that is difficult to match.

Now let Fort Wayne's part in this big movement for a patriotic stirring of all of the people of the state to full spirit for the war be fully met. You want to win. Help to win by further effort.

This is the week of the big patriotic drive in Indiana—the struck hour for everybody to line up, be counted for the nation and help on with the war in whatever way each can serve the best. Fall in and march with the big.

Some educators believe honestly that German will never again be used and respected, as a language, in the United States, and some go so far as to say that it should be made elective in college. Much as we dislike all things that are German or of German origin, we must candidly admit that such an idea savors of pure and simple foolhardiness. Forbid the general conversational use of the language, if you like, but do not make it impossible to tap the stores of German literature—for, you must know, there is a culture in Germany that is not spelled with a "K."

DONNERWETTER!

SAYS BUTTER IS CHEAP.

Editor of The Sentinel: In The Sentinel issue of September 14th, the writer learned with some surprise that we are to be confronted with another attempt to change the present oleomargarine law. A representative from Louisiana attempts to tell of his troubles in times of high cost of living and attacks the subject with which he is least familiar. He lives where neither butter or oleomargarine are produced and cannot talk with intelligence on this subject. The undersigned was raised on a farm and during the last ten years has been actively engaged in the manufacture of butter on a large scale and at the same time selling oleomargarine in a somewhat limited way.

Butter is a food produced in cows milk and consists of butterfat moisture and salt. Its caloric food value is higher than any other food of the same weight and price we have. It is as our southern representative says, very palatable, nutritious and wholesome, in fact it has no comparison or substitute. Any other food like it is something false. Oleo is the finished product of a mixture of neutral oils, cottonseed and peanut oil and what not, churned in milk to make it taste like butter. Or it is the combination of by products of the packing industry and cotton gins. The sources of supply is the control of industries, and therefore limited by them.

Why is butter more expensive than in past years. All commodities have advanced in price from 25 to 200 per cent. Butter is today about 25 per cent higher than a year ago. Land values are higher, labor on the farm is doubled in price and impossible to get. Corn, wheat and hay, in fact everything the cow eats has advanced more than butter.

The high cost of meat is gradually diminishing the number of milk producing animals and unless the dairy man is getting a price for his product that will produce as much profit as other lines of farming he will not continue as a dairyman. The work is confining, as cattle demand attentions every day at a certain time and place. It is a long way from grass and grain to butter on the table of the ultimate consumer.

Several years ago the United States government attacked the dairymen of the Elgin district as being a trust and violating anti-trust laws. A very thorough investigation of the production and manufacture of butter was made and in their reports they state that they have never investigated any industry where food was produced or manufactured, or manufactured product of any kind, where the margins of profit were so small as they are in the production of milk and manufacture of its products, especially butter. The annual average production of one cow is about 200 pounds of butterfat in one year. This, at prices averaged for the past year for feed, will mean a very small profit for one cow in a year. The farmer is patriotic and charitable, and will feed cows sometimes at a loss, as some of the feeds will bring more on the markets than his cows can manufacture from them, but he will not do it all the time and we should not, and can't ask him to do it.

Did it ever occur to you that butter at 60c per pound is the cheapest milk product you buy today? A quart of milk retails for 10c or forty-eight quarts (100 lbs) $4.80. This hundred pounds of milk will make four pounds of butter and retails for $2.00. The skim milk is worth 35c for feed. The butter for your table is costing you only one-half as much as the milk you buy. Butter is cheaper than the meat, potatoes, bread, vegetables, sugar, coffee, beans and many articles I might mention and still the man from Louisiana believes that a tax on oleomargarine is making butter too expensive.

Other industries, such as leather manufacture, meats, cheese, automobiles, pumps, belts to drive machinery, depend on the cow wholly or in part, for their most necessary parts and operations. Even oleomargarine could not be produced without the cow to furnish the neutral fats and some butter to put with the oleomargarine. Now then, how much of a burden is this tax anyway. The oleomargarine tax is a burden on the consumer.

Ninety-nine per cent of oleomargarine is uncolored. The manufacturers pay a license of $500.00 a year, a nominal fee for the amount of output. The retailer also pays a small tax of 50c per month for selling it. In fact the total revenue is intended to be enough to pay the cost of supervising the manufacture and selling of the food. Why does it need supervision? Because unscrupulous dealers and even manufacturers have made and sold oleomargarine as butter, and at prices obtained for butter, defrauding the consumers of millions of dollars for a product that was not what it was sold to be. The dairy business received a setback from which it has not yet recovered and the government passed rigid supervision laws to protect the public from being further defrauded in the sale of oleomargarine. Why should anyone but the manufacturer want this tax removed. The cost to the consumer because of this tax is about 10c per year. Oh! you say how about the ten cents tax on colored oleomargarine. When oleomargarine is colored it is with the thought of representing it as butter and getting butter prices for it, nothing else.

The public is paying enough for what it gets. Let us not permit any legislation that will permit such frauds as have obtained in the oleomargarine manufacture before the present laws were made and put in force.

THE FORT WAYNE MARKET.

(Indianapolis News.)
Fort Wayne city officials are considering closing the city's $200,000 market, higher than a year ago. Land values are higher, labor on the farm is doubled in price and impossible to get. Corn, wheat and hay, in fact everything the cow eats has advanced more than butter.

The situation suggests a wrong attitude of mind on the part of some farmers as well as middlemen. Of course, the farmer, who takes the time to raise his produce for the public market, stands in the sun all day to dispose of it, and takes to himself the work and the worry of selling his products in small quantities, should have a higher price than he would receive from the middleman. But the middleman, who takes the time to buy the produce from the farmer, should have a higher price, which is often high enough to cover the legitimate cost of handling by, it may be, several middlemen and to include speculative and unjust profits besides. Possibly the farmer's product is fresher and hence more desirable than that of the middleman, but it should be remembered that the price charged by the retailer is often artificially set through the operations of middlemen, and is not representative of the real value of the goods.

The practice of some farmers, noted in cases other than the Fort Wayne, is to find out the highest retail price and then charge the customer that price. This course may be natural, but it is certainly not considerate and is, at this time, unpatriotic. What has the ordinary retail price to do with the price charged by the farmer? The farmer's price should be the lowest he can charge and obtain a reasonable return on his investment in the labor of producing and selling—not the highest he can squeeze from an already badly squeezed customer. Even in the case of consumers who visit farms by automobile, other means, farmers often demand city retail prices. Of course the only effect of persistence in such practices is to discourage direct buying and to play into the hands of the middleman, from whom the farmer must accept lower prices.

BREAKING IT GENTLY.

(Indianapolis Star.)

It may be significant, as London papers contend, that the German censor is permitting the Berlin journals to publish rumors of peace. The early ending of war is not expected but the public mind in Germany apparently is being prepared for a changed attitude on the part of the government. The papers are allowed to say that Germany may receive peace terms to which it will agree.

draw absolutely from that kingdom, as a part of a peace program. The allied governments have insisted from the first that the evacuation of Belgium is one of the first conditions that would be imposed. Peace could not be considered on any basis short of that. France insists that it will listen to nothing that does not include restoration of Alsace-Lorraine. It also is on the allied cards that Serbia and Montenegro are to be evacuated and restored and that Poland is to be rehabilitated and made independent.

The German press, apparently, is not saying anything about what is to be conceded anywhere except in Belgium, but that is a long step forward. It indicates that the Berlin government realizes the futility of hoping to enforce the terms of a conqueror on the allies. It is getting the public mind ready by intimating that Berlin magnanimously will come down in its Belgian attitude in the interest of the cause of peace.

Thus in authority in Berlin know the full truth. They are aware that they will have to make other concessions. They know that if they can not keep Belgium through strength of arms they can not force allied acceptance of a German peace, and that they will have to yield to Serbia, Poland and elsewhere. But it would not do to tell all that to the people at once. The news is being broken to them gradually, beginning with reports of yielding in Belgium.

It is an interesting manifestation of what is going on back of the enemy's lines. A year or two ago he was obsessed with the idea that it was only a question of a little time before the allies would be begging for mercy. That era has passed and the German people, evidently, are being schooled to disappointment in the hope of tempering their wrath when the truth is brought home to them and peace is made.

HOW TO SERVE WILL BE THEME TONIGHT

Patriotism Will Be Keynote of First Meeting in District.

The initial meeting in the Fort Wayne district comprising Allen, Whitley, Huntington and Wells counties, will be held this Tuesday night at the court house assembly room for the purpose of expounding patriotic questions. Judge J. W. Eggeman will preside and he has urged a large attendance, particularly of parents of young men who are in the service of their country. The meeting and others throughout the state are under the auspices of the State Defense Council. Three speakers will be heard at the meeting. They are: Fred I. King, of Wabash; Herman Wilkie, of Elwood, and Byron Somers, of this city. All of these men have established a reputation as public speakers and as being leading thinkers in their communities on political and patriotic subjects. They are coming here as a part of the plan of the state and county councils of defense to arouse the people to the causes at stake and the prosecution of the war. It is probable also that Red Cross work and the liberty loan will come in for a full share of attention of the speakers.

The speakers in the meeting here are also scheduled to talk at Columbia City, Huntington and Bluffton.

JUDGE KERR STANDS BACK OF SOLDIERS

Man Who Stole Suit from Patriot Gets Half Year of Labor.

Judge H. W. Kerr, who presides in the city court nearly every morning, is one of the men who stand back of the soldier boys. He fined Roman Pettit, of Anderson, $10 and costs and sentenced him to 150 days at the state farm because the man attempted to steal the civilian clothes left behind by an enlisted youth.

"It is for us who remain at home to guard the property of the brave men who have marched away to fight our battles," said the judge Tuesday morning after sentencing Pettit. "I want the word to go out that the property of the soldiers is not to be molested while they are working for the cause of freedom."

Pettit had taken a suit belonging to the son of Lydia Harvey, 616 Montgomery street, it was testified. Pettit was a roomer in the Harvey home. He had been here but a few days and his wife remains in Anderson. The man said he had only borrowed the garments. He will be at the state farm until the March winds are blowing.

Lot Case Drop.

When it was shown that Jack Harold, waiter in the Summit City restaurant, had paid $30 for the fur collar which he removed from a chair in the restaurant, Judge Kerr dismissed the case against the young man.

Must Have Battled.

Jack Hess, teamster, peered through two swollen and discolored eyes Tuesday morning. He had been the victim of the strength of three police officers when he resisted arrest on Monday night.

Hess had caused a disturbance at the corner of Fairmount avenue and Wells street, shortly before 10 o'clock. In a melee he had hit Knute Miller, who is deaf, with a piece of iron. Miller lay by the sidewalk when the police arrived. He was taken to the St. Joseph hospital and revived. Later he was taken to the city jail.

Hess battled the police, the officers testified. He was fined $5 and costs.

JOHN B. ARCHER TO LEAD 35,000 MEN

Well Known Musician Will Be at Battle Creek Cantonment.

The hundreds of friends of John B. Archer, in this city, will be interested in knowing of his part in the service of his country which the following clipping from the North Adams, Mass. Herald explains:

"John B. Archer, of this city and Providence, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Archer, of Blackinton, has been selected by the United States war department commission on training camp activities to lead in singing at the big national cantonment at Battle Creek, Mich., and will leave shortly for that city to take up his new duties. Mr. Archer will have direct charge of the singing of 35,000 or more men, and while of course it will be necessary to make a start with a small contingent, the present plan of those interested is to have every man in camp take part in the singing after the work is once established.

"The war department stands back of the idea, for it is realized that the happy, singing soldier is the best soldier, and not only will he be sustained through the trying period of the war by reason of his songs, but when peace is once more restored on earth, these soldiers gathered from every village, every town and city in the United States will carry back with them the idea of the benefit of song, and will assist in developing the community song spirit all over the country.

"A song leader will be appointed for every one of the big cantonments in the country, and also at the naval training stations. Mr. Archer could have been taken the Newport school, had he so desired, and this would have been much more convenient as he makes his home a goodly portion of the time in Providence, but the Battle Creek offer gives better chances, the field being much larger.

"A uniform book is now being prepared by the commission, and this will be used in all the cantonments. Instead of light and silly songs, something much more substantial and patriotic will be secured, and these will be taught the soldiers. It is expected that song leaders will be developed in each camp, so that when the men go across to France they will take their song leaders with them, thus keeping up the work which will be so well started in this country."

AT THE MAJESTIC

Ruth Gordon in "Seventeen" Wednesday and Thursday.

Ruth Gordon, whom Stuart Walker is engaging for Lola Pratt role in "Seventeen," the new comedy, made from the Booth Tarkington book of that name, and which will be seen at the Majestic Wednesday and Thursday evenings, is actually only a few years older than the character she is to represent. Only nineteen years ago Miss Gordon was born in Boston and four years ago she decided upon a stage career. Her first engagement was with Maude Adams for "The Little Minister" and "Peter Pan," in which she played Nibs and Liza. Then followed a season of stock and a summer of motion pictures. Last season she fell heir to the Madge Kennedy role in "Fair and Warmer."

AT THE PALACE

THE GREAT HOWARD.
Remarkable Ventriquist on Great Bill at Palace.

The Great Howard, a real master of the difficult art of ventriloquism and the highest paid "voice thrower" in vaudeville, is one of the biggest hits on the smart bill for the first half of the week at the New Palace. Employing a doctor's office as a setting for his act with a smart kid and a boy with toothache as his "dummies" the Great Howard keeps an audience in an uproar for fifteen minutes and then turns on the patriotic tag with his war songs

Irene Bordoni DESCRIBES HER BEST AFTERNOON GOWN

Written for the Daily Sentinel
By IRENE BORDONI.
("Best Dressed Woman on the Stage.")

This street costume, which I use for dress occasions in the afternoon, is in the French style. The skirt consists of four panels of green satin, the side panels starting only at the hip and exposing the white chiffon foundation up to the waist line at the sides, as well as at the spaces between the green panels. The crush girdle is of the same green satin, as is also the small pointed bib-effect which emerges just above the girdle. The blouse is made of white chiffon matching the foundation of the skirt and is simply made with a deep laydown collar. There are leg-of-mutton sleeves with deep cuffs, which are finished off by white chiffon frills, drooping over the hand.

There are three ornaments fashioned of green and white beads which adorn the vest. The two small ornaments are suspended by a triangular shaped piece from the lower edges of the bib, while the larger ornament hangs directly from the left side of the girdle and is finished off with ropes of beads. The costume is completed by a white long-handled parasol and a large sailor hat of broad-brim variety which is made of green satin-faced with double folds of white chiffon. There is a somewhat unique ornament on the hat in the shape of a key which pierces the crown. I call this my "French Key to Victory." I wear with this costume white shoes and stockings.

This is my favorite afternoon gown because of the color, green, which in French is the color for "Hope," and because the costume is very plain, while at the same time highly decorative.

Somehow in France is Daddy," a simple little melody but one with a compelling swing to it that easily persuades the audience to sing with Howard.

Louis Hart is one of those physical marvels who beneath an almost effeminate exterior conceals the muscular strength of a draft horse. His handling of some big husky assistants is an astounding exemplification of muscular power. The Melody Six, a sextette of accomplished girl musicians, present a brief recital of some of the best known classics that is a relief for music lovers from the jazz so much in vogue these piping days.

Among the others on this bill are Al Shayne, the singing beauty in his interpretation of some song numbers and his absurd talk stuff; George and Mae LePevre, in novelty dances and Hirschel Hendler, the poet of the piano, in a classy pianologue.

Butter Is Needed Fat In Dietary for Child

Without some property which exists in butter or in the fat of milk a child can not grow properly. Scientists do not yet quite understand what that property is. It exists; that is as far as they have got.

In the present high price of foods there is danger that many children will be stunted unless their parents take the precaution to inform themselves regarding food values. Even though the stomach is filled, that is no sign that the body is getting all of the food elements necessary to its welfare.

All the straight fats and oils have about equal food value—butter, olive oil, cottonseed oil, lard or pork fat, etc.—reckoning the total food units that they contain per pound.

But butter has what the others have, plus that mysterious something that promotes growth. So that oils and other fats, while perfectly healthful for adults as substitutes for butter, will not do for growing children, unless they take a good quantity of whole milk. Skim milk will not do for this purpose, for it contains none of the butter fat.

It has been known for many years growth and maintenance of tissue, fat and carbohydrate (starch and sugar) for fuel and energy, and inorganic salts for "balance." Certain amounts of these food elements are extracted from food by the body and utilized. Yet when the same amount and kinds of these food elements in a diet

Patriotism in Gowns Means Good Taste, T

A great deal has been said on the subject of American women being patriotic in the buying and planning of their clothes. Some say buy little; some say buy much. The fact remains that the manufacture of women's clothes plays an enormous part in the business of the country, and that if women hoard their money in this respect they are going to precipitate a great deal of suffering among the workers that might otherwise be averted by their help.

The government needs all the dark blue and olive drab woolen material it can gather together, and therefore it stands to reason that women shouldn't try to make these colors fashionable at the present moment. There seems no immediate prospect of their doing so. The smartest color today is brown, in every possible shade and tone.

Woman's patriotism may have something to do with her increasing independence in the matter of clothes. She no longer submits to a complete change in cut and line every six months. It is a fact undeniable that she has demanded plainer and more comfortable clothes—not that Paris has told her to wear this sort; not that the war has put the pall of somberness upon her soul. Her clothes are not somber, nor sad, nor plain. They are simply sensible, and that they will be from now on—or the signs of the times are to be distrusted. This does not mean, as some cynics would have you believe, that woman's clothes will not be beautiful. It means that she refuses absolutely to be a party to any freakishness deliberately planned by some remote person with an eye only to his own account.

When separate cuffs are worn with a dark frock, pins to keep them in place are quite permissible. Sometimes cuffs are made with buttons that insure their neat appearance. But more often either pins or basting is depended on to keep them in place. All sorts of little pins at any price one wishes to pay are sold for cuffs. Small enameled pins in colors harmonizing with your frocks are always a good choice, and the various kinds of silver and gold pins are also always worth while. For such a purely useful purpose as keeping the cuffs neat the more elaborate jeweled pins are not especially suitable.

BAG HELD TO WRIST BY ITS OWN WEIGHT.
A handbag that holds itself to its wearer's wrist by means of its own weight has been invented by a New York man. The leather handle is fitted with two metal slides on one end of which is a roller. These slides are fitted to the handle straps and are connected by a short piece of leather of the same width as the handle.

When the handle is slipped over the arm the metal slides are pulled up by the weight of the bag so that the handle fits close around the wrist and it is then impossible for the handle to slide over the hand.

ALWAYS KEEP OPEN THE BEDROOM WINDOW
In almost every home the necessity of keeping the bedroom window open at night is a recognized truth. But many housekeepers forget or do not know that it is just as important to keep the windows in the sleeping rooms open for an hour every morning after rising.
On cleaning day once a week, the windows should be kept open as long as the cleaning is being done. This gives the rooms the proper airing when untenanted.

ANTO TURNS OVER.

Two Bluffton Boys in Accident on Country Road.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 25.—Ernest Hurt and Grant Johnson, two grade school boys, luckily escaped serious injury Sunday evening en route home from Fort Wayne, when their auto turned over in the road three miles north of the city. They escaped with only a few bruises.

The boys had rented a 5-passenger Ford car from the Seabold livery and were driving rapidly. The machine began swerving and is said to have struck a culvert. The boys were thrown into the air and across the traction line tracks as the machine turned over. They were able to come alone to the city to report the accident to Mr. Seabold, who is making arrangements for the repair of the auto. The body of the machine was badly damaged and it will be necessary to get a new one.

BUYS ROAD FOR $310,000.

C. B. & C. Railroad is Purchased by a Junking Firm. Huntington, Ind., Sept. 25.—The Sonken, Galamba Iron and Metal company, of Kansas City, a junking company, has bought the C. B. & C. railroad for $310,000. At least fifteen bids for the road, most or all of them from junkers, were placed at the receivership sale this morning. It is believed that the sale of the road to the successful bidder seals the doom of the short line, operating between this city and Portland and that the line will at once be torn up and junked, thereby putting the little road out of commission.

WHY HAIR FALLS OUT

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub well into the scalp. After a few applications all dandruff disappears and the hair stops coming out. Advertisement.

RELEASES CLAIM.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 25.—Mayor John Mock sent the following message to the Electric Light department, late this afternoon: "Major Benton releases government claim on turbine." This means that the big engine will be shipped to Bluffton by the General Electric company instead of going to the government for service on an aviation field in Louisiana. This comes as good news to the people of Bluffton and shows that the greatest consideration was given the city's side of the case when it was presented to the war department by Mayor Mock and Superintendent C. W. Clark.

NORMAN ASSISTED IN HUNT FOR LOST MONEY

All the Time He Knew He Had Given the Coin to His Wife.

Norman E. Weaver, 26 years old, who lives near the soap factory, took employment with the Indiana Furniture company Monday. He aided Elder Sherrick in making deliveries with the big truck.

suspected Weaver. He learned that Weaver had bought several pounds of meat when the man had represented himself as being penniless a few hours before. Weaver is claimed to have confessed Tuesday noon that he took the money and that he had deposited the sum with his wife before he helped in the search. The detective was able to recover $16.50 of the amount from Mrs. Weaver. It is stated.

INVITATION SENT TO THE VICE PRESIDENT

He is Asked to Attend City Garden Fair to Be Held in October.

An invitation was telegraphed to Vice President Thomas R. Marshall at Washington, Tuesday, by M. Costello, who is in charge of the local foot race work, to be present at the City Garden Fair beginning October 1.

Owing to the fact that F. W. Gray, formerly local food relief director and garden expert, has gone into the army, plans have been delayed in getting up exhibits for the fair. The fair, which it is hoped to have produce grown on city lots exhibited, will be held at League park.

Whether the vice president can come here for the fair will largely determine the success of the occasion and it is felt that owing to the fact that the food director has been called into the service that it may not be feasible to hold the fair at this time. However, it is believed if Mr. Marshall accepts the invitation more interest will be aroused in the project.

The open air school now located on West Berry street will be moved into the house occupied by Dr. A. G. Emrick on Rivermet avenue, near the Lakeside school. Another unsuccessful effort was made to sell the $40,000 issue of bonds for the new high school gymnasium by A. L. Randall, president of the school board, at Indianapolis, Monday. Giants Win Final Game In National League Pennant Race

New York Victorious for Eighth Time in History.

The White Sox will meet the Giants for the world's championship. Of course, most fans have known that fact for some time, but not until yesterday, when the Giants defeated St. Louis, was it absolutely certain that New York would represent the National League. Now, even if the Giants lose their remaining nine games, the Phillies cannot overtake them by winning their nine contests.

This is the eighth National League flag won by New York and the sixth for Manager McGraw. It is a peculiar situation, that although the Giants were conceded the pennant before the season started and the Sox were expected to have a hard fight, Chicago clinched the American League pennant four days before the Giants did the same in the National.

There is nothing sensational or surprising in the news that the Giants are the flag winners of 1917 in the National. Last fall when McGraw had strengthened his club by the addition of Heinie Zimmerman, of the Cubs, and Charles Herzog, of the Reds, the club went out and broke all records by annexing twenty-six consecutive victories. Right then and there everybody in the land who knows baseball at all realized that the Giants were stronger at that time than the National League entry in the 1916 world's series, the Brooklyn Dodgers, who succumbed rather easily to the Boston Red Sox in the annual October classic.

This spring every critic, manager, player and fan in the country predicted that the Giants would win in a romp, which they have done. Though pushed surprisingly hard by the Cubs and Phillies in the early weeks of the race there was never a serious doubt about the outcome. Wise ones knew that the Cubs did not have pennant winning material and that their early spurt was but a flash in the pan. Some hoped the Phils, flag winners in 1915, would come through with the aid of Alexander's pitching, but they never had a real chance. McGraw had a great machine and it steadily battered down all opposition once it struck its actual stride. The Cubs went to the front on May 16 and led for almost a week. The Phils were tied with the Giants June 7, led again on June 8 and June 25. On June 27 the Giants went to the top never to be headed. From then on it was a procession. A peculiar thing about the figures on the National League marathon is that the Giants were on top on the 1st and 15th of every month, dates from which major league races usually are reviewed, from May to October. October is not here yet, but its a clinch now the McGraws will lead on Oct. 1.

SCHOOL OPENING SEES PURDUE STOCK RISE

Morning Practice Scheduled for Boilermakers by Coach O'Donnell.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 25.—Nearly all of the candidates for the Purdue varsity football team reported to Coach O'Donnell yesterday and some hard work will be done this week on Stuart field to prepare for the opening of the gridiron season Oct. 6. The practice last week was very light, only a few of the varsity men being on hand. The university does not open until Wednesday and it was difficult to get the football men here much before that date. However, it was expected that today or tomorrow all the candidates would be here. Several are still on the doubtful list, having conditions to remove. This includes Spencer, the big 200-pound sophomore guard, who is counted upon to take Proud's place in the forward wall; McDonald, a sophomore end, and Mize, another end. If these men should be lost to the team the effect would be disastrous. Prudden has barely enough candidates to make up one varsity eleven. Substitutes will be very scarce both in the line and the back field, but particularly in the back field. Coach O'Donnell sprung an innovation today when he inaugurated morning practice. The football men assembled on Stuart field this morning and went through a strenuous period of drill. Tomorrow there will be another practice period in the morning. The usual afternoon practice was held today and will be held tomorrow also. After tomorrow there are candidates for the Purdue varsity O'Donnell expects to begin team work drill within a few days. The Franklin game on Oct. 6 is less than two weeks off, and there is no time to lose.

INJURIES CUT DOWN ALREADY POOR CHANCES

Jumbo Stiehm Has Hard Sledding—Play Franklin Saturday.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 25.—Old Doc Jinx is still on the trail of the Crimson football squad. With barely enough men to face Franklin next Saturday, Coach Jumbo Stiehm faces loss of Ingles, varsity tackle, and a mainstay of the Crimson line. Ingles' right hand was swollen to twice normal size today as a result of injuries received in scrimmage Friday and Saturday. Unless the hand shows unexpected improvement, Ingles will not be in the lineup on Jordan field next Saturday. Physicians took four X-ray photographs of the injured member Saturday.

Wilson, with comparatively little experience and weighing only 160 pounds, took Ingles' place at right tackle when the regular was forced from the practice game. Wilson, though a fighter, is too light for the line. Ingles' injury may force Coach Stiehm to shift Keefer, who is holding down the right halfback position to the line, giving Heuring a berth in the back field. Von Trees at right guard, showed a decided improvement in play Saturday, and he may keep his place at right guard provided Ewert holds to his determination not to return to Indiana.

RAINING WHEN BOYS ARRIVED

Many Fort Wayne Men in Low Spirits Upon Entering Camp Taylor.

BUT THEY SOON FORGET ABOUT IT All Well Pleased With Accommodations and Treatment Accorded Them.

E. F. F. (Staff Correspondent.) Camp Taylor, Ky., Sept. 25.—Fort Wayne's second contingent of men for the national army arrived at Camp Taylor Friday evening in a slow, cold, drizzling rain.

Many of them were disheartened as they were compelled to march from the chutes to the battalion headquarters under this unpleasant condition. However, through preparedness on the part of the battalion staff officers and through the efficient work of the officers and the men who arrived here on the fifth they were quickly disposed of and conducted to their respective barracks.

On entering their "homes" the men lost all the disheartenment which had overtaken them. At the barracks they were assigned to bunks. All the bed sacks had been filled and all the equipment had been placed in order on the bunks previous to their arrival. All the men immediately made themselves at home.

To make the men feel more contented the call was sounded that the cook had a steaming hot lunch ready for them and all the men grabbed their mess kits and hurried to the dining room where they were introduced to the "real army food." Hot coffee and bread was also served.

On Saturday morning and also on Saturday afternoon the men were taken before the examining officer. The men from the second district took their trip to the infirmary Sunday morning. In addition to being examined the men were also vaccinated and inoculated. The result is that Sunday afternoon found most of the men nursing stiff and sore arms. Many of the Fort Wayne boys became weak in the knees when the doctor injected the anti-typhoid serum. None became seriously sick, however.

Edgell Mess Sergeant. Mess Sergeant Frank Edgell is acting as battalion mess sergeant. He is about the busiest man in the battalion but has won the esteem of all the men. Feeding 230 men is not a small task but Frank has proven himself to be capable of the task. None of the men have complained about the mess since he has taken charge.

All the men who arrived on September 5 and the following four days are acting in the capacity of non-commissioned officers and each one of them has been placed in charge of some of the new men and Monday morning the latest arrivals were taught the foot movements. It has been stated by officials that it is their sincere belief that three months training will make the Fort Wayne boys the crack soldiers of the entire camp.

Sunday was visitors' day at Camp Taylor and over 6,000 people took advantage of the opportunity. The visitors were conducted through the camp and shown the principal places of interest. All expressed surprise at the speed of organization and the cleanliness of the place and the accommodations which it offered the enlisted men.

Ten people of Fort Wayne were at the camp. Included in the number were Fred Bloemker and Cecil Rohyans.

How to Find Them.

They spent several hours in finding the Fort Wayne boys. The benefit of those from Fort Wayne who at any time wish to come to Camp Taylor the following directions are given: Board a Camp Taylor or Preston street car in Louisville and ride to the camp, alighting from the car at Coke's station. This will place you directly at the road which leads down the battalion headquarters street. The first building on your right upon entering the ground is marked 23rd. Bn. Follow the buildings until you reach the 17th battalion headquarters, marked in plain letters on the front of the building. Inquiry at that office will reveal the headquarters of the Fort Wayne men. Jay county and Adams county men are housed in the same barracks.

Too much stress cannot be laid upon the fact that mail and packages from home work wonders with the men here in training. Nothing is more greatly appreciated than the mail wagon when it drops a letter. Any additional "eats" are entirely welcome.

Adopt New Name.

The Sixty-sixty company, captained by Second Lieutenant O. R. C. P. I. Davidson has dropped the name of the Fighting Sixty-sixth and will hereafter be known as the "Scrappy Sixty-sixth." The reason of the change is noted in the name itself.

The company composed of men from the Third district, Fort Wayne, has in addition to the piano secured two pool tables for the use of the men. Other home-like articles will also be installed.

Through the kindness and generosity of Father John Cavanaugh, of Notre Dame university, this company will soon be the recipient of football equipment for twenty men. The company has chosen Elvin C. Blair as captain of the football team and all candidates for places on the team are soon to be called for practice. The Scrappy Sixty-sixth intends to have the crack team of the battalion, regiment and brigade.

Physicians Assigned. Physicians and surgeons have been assigned to each one of the regiments and battalions and cleanliness and sanitation is being exercised. Every precaution is being taken for the safety of the men's health.

Fort Wayne men in general have termed Camp Taylor a summer resort and are enjoying the work to the greatest degree. With this willingness and pleasure displayed for work it is plainly evident that the young men here will do justice to the city of Fort Wayne and return in due time with honors and laurels. Fort Wayne mothers, fathers and sweethearts should be proud of the fact that they have given a man to the service.

Pleased With Officers. Fort Wayne men are elated over the officers which have been assigned to this battalion. The officers have won the respect and esteem of all.

The regimental surgeon has made the explicit statement that Fort Wayne men who have passed under his eye for examination are without exception the best type of men in the entire regiment. He concedes that the Fort Wayne men with but few exceptions are in the highest grade in regards to physical and mental conditions.

Officers have further made the statement personally that if any commissions are passed out to the men, and it is very likely that commissions will be awarded, that Fort Wayne men will be the first to receive them.

The statements were not made with intentions of publicity and therefore is not newspaper talk. The statements were made conscientiously and without being asked for.

SERGEANT CHENY TO HANDLE RECRUITING

Will Be in Charge of Local Station in Absence of Major Ryan.

Sergeant Cheny has been appointed as the successor to Maj. Thomas F. Ryan, who leaves Monday for Indianapolis, and will be in charge until the return of Sergeant Turner, who will be the permanent recruiting officer.

Major Ryan, who has been in charge of the Fort Wayne district recruiting station since September 22, 1916, has been ordered to take charge of the station at Indianapolis. While Major Ryan's departure will be a matter of much regret to all who knew him or know of his splendid record while at the recruiting station here, his promotion was a deserved one and Fort Wayne will be proud to learn of his advancement. The plan is to abolish the four district stations and combine them all in one at Indianapolis, with Major Ryan in charge.

Major Ryan is spending a busy week packing and preparing for his departure Monday. Recruiting has been good and forty have enlisted Monday and Tuesday. Major Ryan reports that Fort Wayne's engineer unit will be examined Thursday and will leave soon for training at Camp Grant at Rockford, Ill. After a short training period they will leave immediately for France.

Spends Sunday Here. Corporal Urban A. Arnold, a member of the medical corps stationed at Fort Benjamin Harrison, was the guest of his parents here Sunday. Mr. Arnold was formerly a clerk in the Pennsylvania trainmaster's office.

ALIENS MUST SERVE IN NATIONAL ARMY

Major Crowder Raises the Lid by Calling Them Into Service.

Aliens who have not been subject to draft and who have not been permitted to enlist will be taken into the army according to orders received by Major Ryan from Provost Marshal Enoch M. Crowder. Major Ryan was ordered to notify twenty-five alien laborers in Michigan City to report at once to the commandant at the Rockford, Ill., training camp.

This decision is thought to settle the alien question and open a way whereby they may get into the national army. Many have sought to enlist, but have been denied because they were not citizens. The converse of opinion has been that aliens should not be permitted to remain in this country and receive the benefit of the high wages and positions of those who have gone to war without being made to fight the same as the American born.

During the last five years one of the western railroads has not had a single passenger killed in an accident, although the road has handled more than 24,000,000 persons.

BRANCH UNIVERSITY GETS UNDER WAY

Fort Wayne Has One of Two Extension Centers in State.

Professor J. A. Hess, of Indiana university, will conduct the first class in elementary French under the auspices of the Indiana University Extension division here tonight. Professor F. W. Shockley, who is in charge of the extension center here, conducted a class at the Wayne Knit club house Monday night, which was regarded as highly satisfactory by both the instructor and the students.

Owing to the numerous activities connected with the war the enrollment in the extension division has suffered more than would have been expected in normal times, according to Professor Shockley, although the enrollment here so far is regarded very good for the first year. There is only one other center of the kind in the state where members of the state university faculty regularly hold classes, and that is at Indianapolis. The enrollment at the capital city is naturally larger. Many organizations of women's clubs, which were expected to take a bigger interest in the work of the extension division, have been unable to do so because of war service.

Professor Shockley says, however, that he is well pleased and expects the enrollment to continually increase. Credit is allowed toward a college degree for the work done here and this has proven to be an inducement for many who are preparing to go to college. In respect to college work, although the courses offered are necessarily limited, the college classes are taught by the same members of the faculty who teach students at the university. Persons unable to attend college at the present time are allowed the same benefits from the extension center as those who go away to school, it is pointed out.

Wednesday night the first classes in journalism and short story writing will be conducted. Professor J. W. Pierce, head of the school of journalism at the state university, will be here as will Miss Ory, who is regarded as being exceptionally high in the short story writing profession.

Ross F. Lockridge, head of the welfare department of the Wayne Knitting mills, will conduct the classes in public speaking. Mr. Lockridge is well known over the state for his activity in behalf of a new constitution for the state of Indiana. Mr. Lockridge formerly was head of the public speaking department at the university.

HAVE THE BEST OF TOMATO ARGUMENT

In the injunction suit between farmers of Piercetown and the Reid, Murdock & Co., which was to have been decided in Piercetown, Monday, the canning company failed to put in an appearance.

The court ordered that costs be assessed against the Chicago firm.

Police Officers Charles Eisenhut, John Harris and George Eisenhut were witnesses in the case. They were accompanied to Piercetown by Judge H. W. Kerr, on Monday. They will ask that the Reid, Murdock & Co., whose employees took fourteen bushels of tomatoes from the piercetown farmers, be ordered to pay damages.

ANOTHER CARRIER IS TAKEN FROM SCHOOL

Completion of Cultures Finds Throat Filled With Germs.

A second diphtheria carrier has been removed from the James H. Smart school. When health officers were completing their cultures in the east end building, Monday, they found that the disease germs were thick in the throat of Fred Seip, aged 7, 2909 Alexander street, pupil in the second grade. The boy is now quarantined in his home.

The Seip lad had been ailing for several days, but was not critically ill. He had been allowed to return to school by his parents, who did not know that he carried disease cells. He was in line when the completing of cultures were taken.

His case is the second one to bring out the rare condition of a disease carrier, in which the person having the disease symptoms is not sick himself. Both cases of the kind have been in the James H. Smart school.

Health officers now plan to take cultures in all city schools in which there has been a recent case of diphtheria. Tests may also be made to ascertain if any of the children are carriers of other ailments.

ARE BUILDING CABIN.

Giant Oak Will Shelter Lincoln Home Replica.

Hewing of timbers for the replica of the Kentucky cabin here of Abraham Lincoln is going on in Foster park. The large timbers, which have been hauled to the city park, are being cut and shaped for forming the log house that will represent in every detail the southern home of the great president.

The cabin will stand in the southeast part of the main portion of the park, near the entrance. It will be sheltered by a giant oak tree, one of the largest in this section of the state. The cabin will face the roadway, but will be far enough from the drive to allow a picturesque view of the building from the way.

The log cabin will be at least two weeks in the building.

Want More Action.

The board of works sent a letter to the Brooks Construction company, Monday afternoon, asking that immediate attention be given to the completing of the track elevation at Coombs street. The board had made numerous efforts during the past few days to obtain action from the Brooks company. Councilman A. H. Keller, of the Eighth ward, called upon the board Monday and explained that his constituents are growing weary of much waiting on the street elevation work.

Place Petition on File.

The petition for sidewalks on Popular street, from Fox avenue to Miner street, was placed on file by the board of works Monday afternoon. Plans for a sewer in the alley south of Rudisill boulevard, from Indiana to South Wayne avenue, were ordered by the board at the regular session. No action was taken on the petition for placing ornamental lights along Florida drive, from Vermont to State boulevard.

Improving Park.

Work of improving Seiling park, the triangular strip of land bounded by Warren street, New Haven avenue and Wayne street, is going on at a rapid rate. Under direction of Park Superintendent Adolph Jaenicke, the land is being graded and sodded. Trees are to be planted in the half acre strip in November. A wading pool will be installed next spring and a drive way laid through the open spot.

Let Curb Contract.

The McLeer Construction company, upon a bid of $433.30, was awarded the contract of building 500 feet of curb and gutter, from the Bluffton road to the Frank Brown property, by the park board, Monday afternoon. Work of installing the curbing will start at once. Grosjean and Roemer bid $487.28 on the same job.

SOLDIER EVANGELIST DEAD.

Somerville, Mass., Sept. 25.—Rev. George W. Pierce, known for many years as the "Soldier-evangelist," died at his home here yesterday. Mr. Pierce who was born in New Bedford in 1835, served in the navy for several years and enlisted in the army at the outbreak of the civil war. He was with Sherman on the march through Georgia. Later he served in the regular army until 1876 when he retired to take up evangelistic work with the late Dwight L. Moody.

Cox, of Ohio, and John Mitchell Chappell, of Boston, were announced today as speakers at the dedication of the McKinley memorial at Niles on October 1. MUST HAVE MORE SCRAPS FOR COMFORT PILLOWS

Cotton Materials Are Needed to Finish Emergency Order.

The Red Cross society is bending every effort to furnish five hundred comfort pillows Thursday but in order to do this more cotton material must be received. This is the largest emergency order that the ladies have had and they want to finish it on schedule time so it will be necessary for every one to help and aid the work by turning over all the pieces of new cotton material that they have. Many waste pieces of cotton goods are allowed to be lost or destroyed which might be used to great advantage in this work. Over half of the pillows have been completed but there is much more to be done. Thirty-three new members have joined the Red Cross, but a number of these belonged to the Harlan auxiliary.

At a board meeting of the Red Cross work shop Tuesday morning it was decided to close the work shop on Saturday afternoon. It was also decided to establish an information desk. Mrs. N. D. Dougman will have charge of this bureau.

A. L. McDONALD CALLS MEETING OF BOYS

Labor Differences Will Be Adjusted He Says.

A meeting of the boys who worked in the onion fields or a farmer near Columbia City, will be held this afternoon at the Utility building at 5:30 o'clock. The meeting has been called by A. L. McDonald, city director of the United States Boys' Working Reserve. Some differences have arisen over the price paid for labor by the farmer and they will be settled, according to McDonald. The boys who went to work on the farm did so at the urgent request for help at the time of a recent frost which threatened the onion crop.

Isaac D. Strauss, of Indianapolis, state director of the Boys' Working Reserve, is in the city in the interest of the reserve. All boys, it is stated, who have applied for enrollment in the Working Reserve and have failed to return their cards, will be liable to the federal authorities.

VOTING IN MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston, Sept. 25.—Republican voters went to the polls in the state primaries today to decide whether Governor Samuel W. McCall should be renominated for a third term. His opponent was Grafton D. Cushing, of Boston. All other state officers also were candidates for renomination on the republican ticket. Frederick W. Mansfield was the only candidate for the democratic nomination for governor.

PULL IN DOUBLE HARNESS IN THE UNITED STATES CAMPS

Red-Blooded Y. M. C. A.

Tames War and Makes Religion Humanly Practical and Appealing to Our Boys

"Over There" and Uncle

Sam's Soldiers Swear by It and Are Made Better.

BY C. C. LYON. (Staff Special.) With the American Troops in France, Sept. 25.—The American Y. M. C. A. over here is a mighty helpful organization. Also mighty human.

The boys in khaki all swear by it—not at all.

The Y. M. C. A. is dominated by young, red-blooded Americans who know how to get next to soldiers and stay next.

There has been a marked improvement in the moral atmosphere of the American camp since the Y. M. C. A. got under full steam, yet the soldiers themselves wouldn't be able to explain it.

The other day word came that a contingent from America would arrive and a couple of Y. M. C. A. secretaries were dispatched to meet the ship.

One, the older, had recently left the military for army Y. M. C. A. work. The other was a former Wyoming cow-puncher who got religion a year or two ago.

They stood on the dock waiting for the Americans. "Now the first thing," said the preacher, "is to organize our Bible classes and get our prayer meetings going."

"Nix on that stuff, parson," replied the cow-puncher. "The first thing we've got to do with this crowd of he-soldiers is to fill their bellies with candy and decoy them into our circus tent to write letters to their mothers and sweethearts."

"Get the phonographs going and the soft drinks flowing and your Bible classes will follow."

The cow-puncher represents the spirit of the Y. M. C. A. in France. The prime objects are to lighten young men in mind, body and soul. "You can't get a soldier's soul until you've got his mind and body right."

READY FOR BIG DRIVE

$5,000 Campaign for Soldiers' Books Starts Wednesday Morning.

WILL GET ENTIRE QUOTA IN TWO DAYS

Others Cities Will Require Full Week to Solicit Their Share.

Fort Wayne is to take only two days to secure the $2,000 as its share of the $1,000,000 war library fund while other cities throughout the country are taking the entire week to fill their quotas.

Campaign director Henry Beadell has the assurance of the captains of the sixteen teams of workers who will solicit the funds that they may be counted on to secure the entire $5,000 between tomorrow morning and Thursday night.

The War Library Fund campaign will not follow the same lines as previous drives of a similar nature were conducted on. Inasmuch as pledges are to be eliminated and all subscriptions will be made in cash, Mr. Beadell also points that this drive will probably not be as extensive as other campaigns.

"Owing to the whirlwind nature of this campaign," he says, "no doubt many relatives and friends of boys in khaki will not be solicited and therefore, we want to urge everyone not to wait the call of a solicitor, but to send in their subscription voluntarily." Such subscriptions may be addressed to W. H. Shambaugh as treasurer of the Fort Wayne War Library Fund.

Books Are Enjoyed. It is said that no one who is not actually in touch with the situation can appreciate how much the Sammies in the national cantonments and in the trenches desire the books which this campaign is to supply. In a letter to his father one soldier says: "We read, of course. But there never could be a library here big enough to keep us going. We can do with all sorts of books, but I don't think the ordinary sensational novel is quite the catch it was for a lot them in peace times. Some break towards serious reading in the oddest fashion. I used to imagine that reading was meant to be a stimulant, but here it has been an anodyne."

Officers who have visited the trenches in France report that homesickness, dissipation, and other influences which seriously lower the morale of the troops can best be avoided by supplying our soldiers with the proper kind of reading matter that the funds raised in this campaign will furnish.

The Lady Moose will give a pedro party Wednesday afternoon in Moose hall. The public is invited.

letic activities are in charge of the Y. M. C. A. secretaries.

While not encouraging Sunday sports, they do not oppose them. With diplomacy, they have arranged the practical part of all the Sunday sports come in the afternoon. This leaves the mornings free for religious activities in the numerous Y. M. C. A. "huts," and they are jammed.

It is not unusual for the Catholic, Protestant and Jewish services to follow in quick succession in the same hut.

The secretaries are "regular fellows." They have made their huts popular clubhouses. As long as a soldier is at the Y. M. C. A. he isn't out filling up on cheap wine, which flows like water over here.

In these huts are music, games, writing tables with plenty of free stationery, soft drinks of all kinds, candy, cigars and cigarettes.

Yes, cigarettes. Don't be shocked. Exactly 99 per cent. of all soldiers in France use tobacco, mostly cigarettes. When they can't get good cigarettes they buy bad ones.

The Y. M. C. A.'s cigarettes are the best to be had and they sell them cheaper than anybody else.

A young Y. M. C. A. secretary the other day wrote his chief: "The crowd here kidded me along until I had to put on the boxing gloves with the regimental champion or lose my standing as an athlete, and you know I couldn't sacrifice that."

"As I stepped into the ring he hung one on my jaw which made the one pine three nearby. Look like a damn forest. I managed to remain vertical for a two-minute round, but never again. I agree with General Sherman that boxing is very un-secretable."

No wonder the soldiers are warming up to such fellows as this young secretary. He'll have 'em all reading out of their Bibles before Christmas. The Y. M. C. A. is teaching the soldiers how to entertain themselves. "Stunt nights" are great stuff at the huts, when the fellow that can entertain goes on for a "turn."

Recently a call went out for soldiers to write secretaries what they could do. One mule skinner wrote: "I have been a lion tamer and a bear trainer. Listen to what I have to say. I have proved to the world today that I am the only one who is there is. No trick about it, sir, plain fire, and I can prove it to anyone."

"People in America who have contributed millions to American Y. M. C. A. work in France."

ORMSBY DOES WELL IN RACES AT ANDERSON

Local Boy Captures Big Event, Competing With Armentrout.

Driving in a program of races similar to that given here at Centerville park several weeks ago, Ralph Ormsby, the local speed merchant in a Hudson Super-Six, captured the main event of the afternoon in the Anderson races Saturday.

Ormsby beat out Dale Armentrout and several other drivers whose reputations are known here. He was given credit for making a game race in each event entered and showed more nerve than some of the other drivers in passing cars on turns.

The Automobile Racing association had scheduled a meet at Muncie for last Sunday, but the Delaware county prosecutor stepped in and called it off. The meet there will be held Saturday, September 29, instead.

BOWLERS WILL MEET.

Jack Collins Gets Three Hits But Ruth Stops Others.

Boston, Sept. 25.—Babe Ruth's good left arm and frigid climatic condition proved too great a handicap to the champions and they dropped the final tilt of the series to the Red Sox 3 to 0. At no time during the contest did the Rowlands get warmed up to the situation, although they nicked the export left-hander for nine widely scattered wallops. WITH THE WHITE SOX—

The White Sox aren't themselves this year. It has taken the Sox just eleven years years to recover from their last world series.

We believe "Pants" Rowland was the only American league manager whose spring prediction came true.

Nobody can appreciate the joy of nursing and coaxing a century plant until it blooms, more than Comiskey.

Wonder how it feels to be a south sider and realize the Sox aren't playing jazz baseball this season.

Lost—somewhere between April and October on the Ben Johnson circuit, a phrase, "Hitless wonders." No reward is offered for its return. Finders, keepers.

AMERICAN RED CROSS RECLAIMING FRANCE

A Land Swept Desolate by Prussian Ruthlessness Must Be Helped.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 25.—H. P. Davidson, chairman of the Red Cross war council, announces the receipt of the following cable from the Red Cross commission to France:

"Along that desolate path of ruin behind the French and British lines from Belgium to Switzerland, the American Red Cross work of relief and economic rehabilitation under Edward Eyre Hunt, chief of the bureau, has rapidly taken shape. Re turning refugees and repatriates have earth under them and sky over them—that is all. The land has been swept clean.

Twentieth century Frenchmen have to begin again where North American Indians would begin—by hunting for food, temporary shelter, a few clothes to cover them, a handful of household goods and utensils such as pots, pans, knives and spoons, an agricultural implement or two and perhaps a rabbit and some chickens, and if they are very lucky, a goat or a donkey.

"It is to help such people as these that the American Red Cross has located its relief warehouses at strategic points just behind the lines, such as Soissons, Noyon, Ham and Peronne, and is shipping in food, clothes, blankets, beds, mattresses, stoves, kitchen utensils, reapers and binders, moving machines, threshing machines, garden tools and hundreds of other articles of prime importance to people who were prosperous and contented only three years ago. The service of relief and economic rehabilitation has divided its field into six districts:

"One for the extreme north and Pas de Calais; one for the Somme; one for the Oise; one for the Aisne; one for the Marne and Meuse; one for Meurthe and Moselle.

"Resident American delegates have been assigned to these whose duties are to oversee distribution of relief, to report new needs, and to co-operate in every possible way with the admirable relief work of the French government and scores of devoted French and other organizations."

CICOTTE, THE SOX WIZARD, TELLS THE SECRET OF HIS "SHINE" BALL AND ITS JUST PSYCHOLOGY

(Copyright, 1917, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)
What is the "shine ball"? What will it mean in the world series? Will Eddie Cicotte be able to fool the cream of the National league with something American league players claim he has fooled "Ban" Johnson with all this season, helping the Sox to top the American league pennant? Or—is the "shine ball" a myth? I am going to tell you what Eddie Cicotte says about it himself. Eddie is given credit with being the inventor and the originator of this delivery which astute batters of the American league declare has resurrected him from an early trip to the bushes.
Here is the story of Cicotte on his work: "The talk about the 'shine ball' this year has probably had a great deal to do with making one of the leading pitchers in the American league. I can state truthfully that the talk has done me more good than any so-called 'shine ball.'"
"It was merely a matter of psychology. I outguessed the other fellow."
"So long as the batters in the league felt that they were battling against something they knew nothing about I had an advantage."

HEALTH OFFICERS AND THE DAIRYMEN

Dr. Barnard Points Need of Greater Co-Operation of Them.

Indianapolis, Sept. 25.—The need for greater co-operation between public health officers and dairymen is explained by Dr. H. F. Barnard, state food and drug commissioner, in a statement issued today. Dr. Barnard explains that the business of the health officer is not to put the dairyman out of business through the demands for the most careful handling of milk but that the health officer's duty is solely to insure the best of milk to safeguard the health of the public, especially the health of children.

In his statement Dr. Barnard says: "Health officers have always been interested in milk supplies. Once as the farmer saw it, their chief concern seemed to be to put the dairyman out of business. Of course that was not true—all the health department wanted was good milk. But now they are more interested in milk than ever for they are alarmed at the scarcity of milk and see in the disappearance of the dairy cow a menace to the health of growing children."

"Every increase in the cost of milk at the farm or at the consumer's door cuts down the use of milk, and the first cut is made in the families of the poorer classes whose children can ill afford to go without the milk that is absolutely necessary to their health. The health officer would have every family use more milk instead of less. He would repeat the advice of Dr. Graham Lusk, who says, 'Every family of five has no right to eat meat until it had used three quarts of milk a day.'"

"The state board of health last spring foresaw the coming milk scarcity and passed a rule effective January 1, 1918, which puts into effect the ideal milk regulations that are in force in Massachusetts, New York and California, and in many cities which so far are not suffering from a diminished milk supply. The health board realizes that bad milk is quite as great a danger as too little milk. It could not afford to say to the dairymen whose barns were poor, you are not equipped to produce good milk. Go out of business. It could not say, 'bovine tuberculosis is a terrible menace to health; kill your cows before they kill children.' So it said to the dairymen, 'Make your milk safe by pasteurizing it before delivery. Then we shall know it will do its great duty as the one essential food without injuring the health of children or causing, as in the past, much of the deplorable waste in little lives.' Infant mortality tables and bad milk have a direct connection. Now with all market milk pasteurized, this connection is broken and the dairymen absolved from the horrid charge so often laid at his door by the mourning parents."

To Be First Girl Page in Congress

CECILIA MARTIN.

(Staff Special.) Washington, D. C., Sept. 25.—The first girl page in congress—that's the goal of Cecilia Martin, 14-year-old Washington lassie, backed for the job by Miss Jeannette Rankin, first woman congressman, and Representative Clyde Kelly, representing the district including Cecilia's former home, Swissvale, Pa.

Even if circumstances prevent Cecilia from attaining this ambition she has already qualified as the youngest and sharpest little lobbyist Washington ever saw. She has amazed house office building employees with her shrewdness and energy in lining up support.

"There's a woman in congress now," Cecilia says, "and there'll soon be more. So why not girl pages? The women congressmen will need them."

"I want to study law later, and I think the house job will help me a lot."

Does Cecilia understand the perils of politics and is she fitted to cope with them? Listen:

"Miss Rankin has told me she would do all she could for me, but she's a republican, but she can't help much when the democrats are in control. But Mr. Kelly is a democrat."

The girl's father is a steel shop foreman.

SCHWIER PLANS NEW FEATURES FOR LOAN

Chairman of County Outside of Fort Wayne Calls Meeting.

A call has been sent to trustees, assessors and other county and township officers in the Allen county area outside of Fort Wayne by W. C. Schwier, liberty loan campaign chairman for that district, for a meeting at the court house Saturday, September 23, at 1:30 p. m. The purpose of the meeting is to arrange matters concerning the big October liberty loan drive.

Mr. Schwier in a statement Tuesday said that the success in the county of the liberty loan depends largely upon all officials. Mr. Schwier will name the trustees and assessors with the advisory boards of each township to select twenty more from each township to boost the loan in a concerted drive October 23, 24, 25, 26. The work in each township will be up to men in that township and no persons will be sent out from Fort Wayne or other cities to aid in the campaign. It is planned to put the work squarely up to the townships themselves. Four towns, however, Monroeville, New Haven, Harlan and Grabbill, will have their own organizations independent of those in the townships located.

A new feature of the campaign as planned by Mr. Schwier will be the assistance asked from ministers.

NEW BALLAD BY 'INDIANA'S WRITER'

Latest Song Entitled "Good Bye, Little Lady."

A new song somewhat out of the ordinary is one just issued, entitled "Good Bye, Little Lady," which is the latest sensation with the fair sex in the metropolis. The new song abounds with quaint and jingling musical phrases. Following is an extract of the chorus from a copy just received:

It is a song, which, like Hanley's song hit, "Indiana," possesses contemporary heart interest. The orchestra and hands are making a feature of the song for all sorts of dances.

be heard. The bombing over this town continued for about two hours at intervals, but so far as could be learned only three bombs were dropped and apparently there was no great property damage.

Reports from Yorkshire indicate that the Zeppelins which appeared early this morning off the Lincolnshire and Yorkshire coasts dropped bombs and aerial torpedoes. The amount of damage has not been ascertained. The signal that all was clear was given about 5 o'clock this morning. According to the official announcement the raiders came in different places in Kent and Essex. A few of them followed the Thames river and attacked London.

Bombs were dropped at several points. The casualties so far reported are six persons killed and about twenty injured.

British airmen engaged the raiders but with what result is not yet known. The Germans used a number of aerial torpedoes.

The German planes appeared over the southeastern district of London soon after 8 o'clock and the engagement lasted until nearly 9:30 o'clock. The raiders were scattered and did not come in compact formation. Many star shells were used by the defense guns, giving the appearance of spectacular fireworks. The scream of the torpedoes used by the Germans was distinguishable easily from the explosions of guns or bombs. The people of London behaved well. They followed police instructions for taking cover and there was no panic.

German Zeppelins also appeared across the coast of Yorkshire and Lincolnshire. The result of their visit has not yet been learned.

STRIKE AT NORFOLK.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 25.—The labor situation was unchanged today at the Norfolk navy yard where the first general strike ever called at a navy yard became effective yesterday. Advice to the navy department said the workers who went out yesterday comprised all but the electricians, electricians and ship fitters and were still out, about half the yard force being involved.

Settlement of the strike is still in the hands of the yard officials. The navy department has not been called upon as yet to intervene in any way. Details as to the demands of the strikers are lacking here, it is said.

Secretary Daniels indicated that he still hoped for an early agreement. He has taken no steps as yet to send representatives to Norfolk.

JAP LAW DOES NOT HIT SLAYER HARD

Nagasaki, Japan, Sept. 5.—(By mail.)—Manuel Neumeier, a bandman attached to the Thirteenth United States Infantry, has been sentenced to three years' imprisonment and fined 3,000 yen after conviction on the charge of inflicting fatal injuries on a Japanese tradesman.

The complaint admitted that the occurred during intoxication. In escaping from the police Neumeier is said to have knocked over a toilet powder manufacturer. It was alleged that the Japanese was kicked and that he received internal injuries from which he died five hours later.

The public prosecutor recommended imprisonment for ten years. The fine was imposed in connection with a civil suit instituted by the family of the victim.

tain's Chaume wood positions, where the German infantry attacked yesterday but failed to drive the French from any portion of their line.

A new attack was delivered last night in the Beaumont region to the southeast of Chaume wood and in this liquid fire was employed by the crown prince's troops. Here again they failed to gain ground and suffered heavy losses from the French.

The British front has quieted down from the state of marked activity prevailing for a week or more. Nevertheless there is a great deal of artillery work in progress, notably in Flanders, and London mentions especially the energy being displayed by the Germans north and east of Ypres.

Further south in the Lens region, a surprise attack made on a British post northeast of the city of Lens was repulsed while on the Somme front the British raided a trench east of Ephy and brought back prisoners.

SAYS C. M. RICHEY

Ironated Herbs with Pepsin is superior to all forms of organic iron for the reason that pepsin in concentrated form, has immediate action on the gastric juices, thereby causing prompt assimilation of the food and enabling the organic iron in liquid form to be carried to the veins, forming thick, red blood.

The following is the statement of C. M. Richey, a sign painter, of 315 East Main street, Muncie, Ind. Mr. Richey, who has been taking Ironated Herbs with Pepsin for his run-down condition, in speaking of the new strength and vigor he has obtained through this efficient preparation, says: "I have been suffering for some time from a general run-down condition. I caught a severe cold some weeks ago, which left me in a very weakened condition. I have tried a number of remedies, but none seemed to benefit me. I heard so much of this new medicine, Ironated Herbs, that I got a bottle, and am delighted with the results. My appetite is improved, in fact, I am hungry all the time, and am rapidly gaining strength and I am sure another bottle will entirely restore my health. It is a pleasure to recommend this modern medicine to all."

Ironated Herbs with Pepsin (liquid form), which brings new strength and vitality to nervous, run-down men and women, is now being sold in Fort Wayne by the following druggists who will gladly explain its merits upon request.

Our demonstrator will gladly explain to you its merits and supply you with a bottle at Meyer Bros' drug store, 902 Calhoun street, Fort Wayne. STEEL STOCKS HEAVY

IN WALL STREET TRADE

Higher Prices Rule in War Shares at Opening But Recede.

New York, Sept. 25.—Higher prices prevailed at the outset of today's trading, the war shares and related issues extending yesterday's gains by large fractions to a point. These were offset, however, by the heaviness of copper, motors and tobacco. United States Steel also reflected pressure. Most advances were surrendered early.

Persistent selling of United States Steel which rallied to 1 1/4, only to recede to 1 1/4, served to undermine the general list during the active first hour. Bethlehem Steel also displayed marked heaviness. The few strong issues were mainly represented by shippings, leather and oils.

Liberty bonds sold at 99.98 to par.

Of Japan's 54,000,000 people, about 200,000 are Christian believers. This figure includes Roman and Greek Catholic converts. Protestant church members number 97,350, of whom 11,886 were baptized in 1915-1916. The gain was about 14 per cent.

TOMORROW TO BRING STILL LARGER CROWDS

Today's Sentinel Contains Many Attractive Suburban Day "Specials."

TOMORROW'S SPECIALS.

The columns of The Sentinel today contain much good news not only to the people from the nearby cities, towns and farming communities, but to the town people as well. In these times of conservative buying, while still keeping the volume of traded up to normal, the merchants of Fort Wayne exhibit a most liberal willingness to do their part. The Suburban Day Specials deserve the most careful attention of every reader of The Sentinel.

The pages of The Sentinel today are crowded with Suburban Day "Specials" for tomorrow's buyers. The issuing of these "invitations" is one of the ways in which Fort Wayne seeks at this time to extend the glad hand to the thousands of people of the nearby cities, towns and farming communities who look upon this city as the logical center of trade.

But the element of trading is only a part of the Fort Wayne idea. The members of the local association hope, through this means, to make Fort Wayne the common center of meeting for all purposes. Never before has the community spirit manifested its power. One strong lesson of the war period is the value of united effort. Never before have the rural and city communities found themselves so closely bound in sympathetic interests, and this fact has been especially shown in matters pertaining to the conservation of means and keeping the channels of trade open, by making careful purchases without in any way curtailing the volume of business done. This result is best obtained when merchant and patron are well acquainted. Every one likes to trade in the store where he feels the salespeople and the proprie-

Why Society Women Wash Their Own Hair

They do, not because it is a fad, but because they wish to obtain the greatest possible hair beauty and be sure they are not using anything harmful. They have found that in washing the hair it is never wise to use a makeshift but is always advisable to use a preparation made for shampooing only. Many of our friends say they get the best results from a simple home-made canthrox mixture. You can use this at a cost of about three cents a shampoo by getting some canthrox from your druggist, and dissolving a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes enough shampoo liquid to apply to all the hair instead of just the top of the head, as with most preparations. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear in the rinsing water. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you.—Advertisement.

His dodging the engine was by a close margin, the big monster being so close his hat was left on the pilot of the engine. The velocipede was broken into kindling wood. The train was stopped and backed up to pick up the remains.

Eighty Years Young -- Physician Says Nuxated Iron Did It

How Would You Like to Feel Like a Boy Again, Full of Energy, Vim and Vigor, With a Strong, Elastic, Forceful Step, Instead of That Nervous, Shambling Gait?

Doctor Says Nuxated Iron Often Increases the Strength and Endurance of Delicate, Nervous, Run-down Folks 100 Percent in Two Weeks' Time.

What's the use of feeling so old, cross, nervous and "rumpy" all the time, a burden to yourself and a constant irritation to others? It's not how old you are in years that counts, but it's the amount of iron in your blood that tells the story. For want of iron, you may be an old man at thirty, dull of intellect, poor in memory, nervous and irritable, all "run-down" while at 50 or 60, with plenty of iron in your blood, you may still be young in feeling, full of life, your whole being brimming over with energy and vital force.

As proof of this, take the case of Dr. James Louis Beyer, who for fifteen years was Adjunct Professor in the New York Homeopathic Medical College. At nearly 80 years of age, Dr. Beyer was very much weakened and run-down. He made up his mind to renew his vital energy and fill his veins again with youthful vim and vigor. He therefore prescribed Nuxated Iron for himself and took it. A short course of it made him feel like a new man. So much so that he says his friends ask, "What have you been doing to yourself you look so well and full of life?" His reply is, "Taking care of my blood and building it up with iron—Nuxated Iron." Dr. Beyer further says there is nothing like it in his opinion to put youthful strength and power into the veins of the weak, run-down, infirm or aged.

Then there is former Health Commissioner Wm. L. Kerr of Chicago, who is nearly half a century old and asked me to hesitatingly recommend Nuxated Iron to all who feel the need of renewed energy and the regularity of bodily functions.

Dr. E. Sauer, a Boston physician, who has studied both in this country and great European Medical Institutions, said: "Nuxated Iron is a wonderful remedy. Not long ago a man came to me who was nearly half a century old and asked me to give him a preliminary examination for life insurance. I was astonished to find him with the blood pressure of a boy of twenty, and as full of vigor, vim and vitality as a young man, in fact a young man he really was notwithstanding his age. The secret, he said, was taking iron—Nuxated Iron had filled him with renewed life. At 50 he was in bad health, at 46 he was careworn and nearly all-in now at 50, after taking Nuxated Iron, a miracle of vitality and his face beaming with the buoyancy of youth."

If people would only take Nuxated Iron when they feel weak or run-down instead of dosing themselves with habit-forming drugs, stimulants and alcoholic beverages, I am convinced that in this way they could ward off disease, preventing it becoming chronic in the majority of cases, and thereby the lives of thousands might be saved who now die every year from pneumonia, grippe, influenza, typhoid fever, and other dangerous maladies. NEW ELECTRICAL DEPARTMENT

In the Steele-Myers Store Opened by Hoffman & Harber.

A new department has been added to the basement of the Steele-Myers store in the way of electrical supplies. The Messrs. Hoffman and Harber are the owners and managers of the same, and will carry and specialize in electric household supplies, vacuum cleaners, electric washers, electric irons, toasters, etc. The department has already taken hold and doing business. Mr. Harry Hoffman, the senior member of the firm was, for many years identified with the Protective Electric Supply company, and is an expert in household electrical appliances. Mr. Fred Harber, the junior member of the firm, has long been Ohio distributor for portable and stationary vacuum cleaners. Both gentlemen, owing to their past and general experience in the field of things electrical, are well equipped to give good service and competent advice. We bespeak a big future for the new department.

Fred Gokey, age fourteen, of Newport, Vt., wishing to plant some ground which was too low to be used, hauled some old railroad ties from nearby for a foundation, and then from a distance took earth enough to make a plot 50x20 feet. Besides planting this plot Gokey had also one-sixteenth of an acre of school land planted to beans and another quarter of an acre planted to potatoes.

COMB SAGE TEA IN FADED OR GRAY HAIR

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens so Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease. Advertisement.

PUT ME AMONGST THE GIRLS

And Boys—I'll be G-d darned if that there Nuxated Iron hasn't made me feel like a boy again; full of vim and vigor—it certainly has the "kick" in it.

Henceforth I shall not be without it. I am in a position to testify for the advantage of others, to the remarkable and immediate helpfulness of this remedy, and I unhesitatingly recommend Nuxated Iron to all who feel the need of renewed energy and the regularity of bodily functions.

Dr. E. Sauer, a Boston physician, who has studied both in this country and great European Medical Institutions, said: "Nuxated Iron is a wonderful remedy. Not long ago a man came to me who was nearly half a century old and asked me to give him a preliminary examination for life insurance. CHAS. EDWARD RUSSELL TELLS HOW TO READ NEWS OF RUSSIA

Inside Story of How a Houseful of Anarchists, Issuing Manifestos and Touring in Automobiles Convinced World That All Was Chaos in Petrograd.

BY CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL.
(Daily Sentinel Staff Writer Just Returned from Russia, Where He Spent Three Months as a Member of the Official American Commission.)

(Copyright, 1917, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)
I will now tell you a little story that shows how easily these scores are manufactured in Petrograd, and what they really amount to.

These fifteen gunmen from New York that I mentioned once before, looking for a little light, raided one afternoon the office of a Petrograd newspaper. They didn't happen to like, drove out the printers and editors, and took possession of the shop. A few hours later they were ousted by the soldiers, but the exploit gave them what they wanted, which was publicity and plenty of it.

It looked good to them, so two days later they took possession of one of the palaces of moldering dukes and such Catarhal Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts thru the blood on the mucous surface of the system.

things with which Petrograd was over-supplied. This one was in the suburbs and had been bestowed, at public expense, by the czar upon one of his mistresses.

The place was now become government property, so these east siders, having seized it, issued a flamboyant proclamation defying the government to remove them, and uttering a lot of rubbish about the blood with which they purposed to soak the streets of Petrograd.

Next they called on the telephone all the factories of the city that were then operated by the workmen, and announced in terrifying shrieks that the counter-revolution was about to be pulled off, the Russian democracy was in danger, the czar's friends were about to rise and overthrow the power of the people and the old system was about to be brought back.

You can start pretty nearly anything in Russia if you can make people believe there is danger of the czar's return. These gunmen urged the workers to rush with their arms in hand to the defense of liberty, and come to the palace, because that was where the first battle would take place.

In the next six hours about 3,500 workmen arrived at the palace with their guns and prepared to struggle to the death against the powers of reaction. They camped that night in the palace grounds, and looked for the big fights to start in about 8 a. m.

The next day passed without any more disturbance than there is at a prayer meeting, and by nightfall, it being apparent there was nothing doing, the workers began to go back home.

Meantime the gunmen who were all anarchists had scattered through the city hair-lifting accounts of the proletarian uprising at the palace and the slaughter of the capitalists, which was about to begin, and this stuff had been eagerly seized upon by the correspondents and cabled around the world as conclusive evidence that everything in Petrograd had gone to ruin.

Two or three days passed, all the workers returned to their homes, and as the government was plainly resolved not to advertise the gang by ousting it, some new press agent device was necessary to get it back into the center of the stage. So the gunmen now announced for the following Sunday a grand anarchist demonstration that they were to lead, and if the government attempted to interfere with the marching hosts, blood would flow in rivers. They went through the city in automobiles, scattering proclamations telling of these direful deeds, and warning all citizens to keep within their houses on Sunday, for the general massacre would begin about 10:15 and last all day, and no life would be safe.

A lot of timid souls took on a panic at this and begged the government to interfere. So on Friday the government issued an order forbidding for the next four days all kinds of demonstrations and parades in the streets.

Of course, here was the finest kind of scare material. The situation was so terrible that to save the lives of thousands of people and the destruction of the city in a civil war, the government had been obliged rigorously to prohibit all crowds in the streets, and keep the people in their houses, while it sat in terror, expecting every moment to be his last!

Sunday passed without a ripple of excitement. No city in the world that day was more peaceful. This gave a good chance to get up stories of suppressed excitement, tense atmosphere, expectant waiting for the slaughter, and all that sort of thing.

On Tuesday in the national council a bolshevik (or extreme radical) bought the matter up with a resolution condemning the government for prohibiting the demonstration and authorizing the anarchists to go ahead with their demonstration on the following Sunday.

At this, of course, there was a hot debate, and when the vote came on the bolsheviks were defeated in the usual way, getting about 119 out of 800.

As soon as the result was announced the bolsheviks, at a pre-arranged signal, arose, and started to leave the chamber in a body. The council was therefore about to split, which of course would create the worst possible impression and reveal Russia to the world as hopelessly divided. The wise men on the other side of the council had a hunch in advance of what was coming, and were prepared for it. The bolsheviks were moving toward the door but were still within the chamber, when one of Kerensky's party hopped up.

"Hold on!" says he. "Before our comrades leave us I have a proposal. I wish to submit to them," and he read a resolution ardently prepared for the emergency, which was to be read next Sunday for everybody to demonstrate—anarchists—bolsheviks, men-sheviks, trudevics, maximalists, minimalists, people's liberty party, people's socialist party, Baptists, Methodists, Seventh Day Adventists and Quakers, everybody, high and low, sickly and hearty, come out on that day and demonstrate until they didn't have a kick left in them.

This, of course, left the bolsheviks helpless. They couldn't object to demonstration, which is the Russian national game, and they couldn't object to the anarchists. So they sat down again and looked pretty sheepish while the resolution boomed through unanimously.

But of course here was the grand chance for hectic imagination to flourish. So on Friday the government issued an order forbidding for the next four days all kinds of demonstrations and parades in the streets, and keep the people in their houses, while it sat in terror, expecting every moment to be his last!

"Sweetheart, You Look Ten Years Younger"

Complexion Blemishes Banished—No Sign of Wrinkles—How She Did It.

Only a woman who has watched her complexion change from wrinkles, coarse, yellowish, to clear, soft, youthful beauty can realize the feeling of joy that came over me when first I saw that my own care-worn, aged-looking skin was actually regaining its girlish freshness. Yet prior to this there was scarce a preparation, including treatment at the highest prices, which I had not tried, only to make my face look worse. Finally a French lady gave me a beauty recipe which she had obtained from a doctor in Paris, who told her the reason most things failed was because they lacked the power to get down into the skin and renew the youthful activity of the tissues. It was only a short time after that my husband exclaimed, "Sweetheart, you look ten years younger! That French beauty recipe is a marvel! I am certain that most any woman can successfully use the same plan, so I gladly repeat it here for the benefit of others. Merely wash your face with buttermilk and rub in a teaspoonful of roseated cream which can be obtained from drugists; wipe the face and apply Poudre Pettit's very fine cornstarch powder, prepared especially for shiny noses and bad complexions. If your face is badly wrinkled, get a box of Japanese Ice Pencils to use in connection with the roseated cream. Have seen many a wrinkled, hollow-checked, faded-looking woman banish every sign of wrinkles and complexion blemishes and marvelously increase her beauty, through this simple and inexpensive recipe.

TELL THEM DAILY

The business man, the public stenographer, the architect, the moving man, the chiroprapist and the carpenter who advertise in the classified columns of The Sentinel all know how important it is to keep their business announcements before Fort Wayne people every day in the week, month after month. They know that Fort Wayne people use these columns like they use the City Directory or the telephone book, "looking up" what they want to buy in the carefully indexed "For Sale" classification, and using the "Services Offered" column in the same way when they want to get in touch with reliable professional people. Whatever you do can profitably be told every day in The Sentinel.

LOCAL MARKETS

CITY MARKET FAIRLY WELL PATRONIZED

Prices About the Same as Last Week—Reduction in Corn Expected.

The city market was fairly well patronized Tuesday morning. There were about the usual number of buyers although they bought more carefully. Good quantity of vegetables and produce of all kinds was offered at prices practically the same as last week. Butter sold at 45 cents a pound and eggs from 41 to 45 cents a dozen. There were plenty of tomatoes on the market with the price slightly lower. A reduction in corn is expected. One miller reduced his paying price from $1.95 to $1.70. Seven loads of corn were received at the city scales, more than on any one day in two weeks. The price was $1.80 to $2.05. As a matter of fact Tuesday was the busiest day at the city scales in two or three weeks. Nineteen loads of hay were weighed and ten loads of oats. Wheat prices remain the same.

DID NOT TAKE DRAFT TRAIN

Howard McDarby Failed to Appear for Final Roll Call.

YOUNG MAN SUBJECT TO COURT MARTIAL

Board for District No. 1 Will Call Offender for Hearing.

Howard McDarby, salesman, 1003 East Wayne street, has been assigned a place in the second draft contingent from the first city district. He did not appear for the final roll call and did not go to Camp Taylor with the rest of the men from the east end.

McDarby will be called before the first district draft board, probably on Thursday, to give his reasons for not answering the conscription call. He may be subject for court-martial, it is said.

It is reported that he was at the railroad station but failed to report or board the draft train.

ATHLETICS BOOM IN INDIANA COLLEGE

War Has Only Crippled the Big Squads and the Outlook is Fair.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 25.—Despite the preliminary announcements of some Indiana colleges at the beginning of the war that athletics might be dropped during the war preparations are in full swing for the major branches of collegiate sports. Practically every college in the state is claiming to have been the most seriously affected by the loss of athletes who have gone to the service, but a careful survey of conditions discloses the fact that while every institution has been crippled to a great extent there is in every case a nucleus of seasoned men who can aid the coaches in getting the new material together.

The usual interest in Purdue, Notre Dame and Indiana obtains at the beginning of the season this year as usual and the smaller institutions are bidding for attention because of their intrastate contests scheduled more generally with the larger schools.

Wabash is hard at work under its new coach, J. E. Townsend, who has just arrived to take the place of P. P. Sheeks, who is now an officer in the army. Five letter men—Captain Hanker, Stonebraker, Bacon, Walker and Thompson—are already practicing and the new athletes are slowly getting into form. The team are being pointed toward the Indiana game at Bloomington, October 6. The first game will be with Marietta college at Crawfordsville, September 29. Purdue will be played at the close of the Indiana games Wabash has instead of the beginning as heretofore.

Couch has been in hand for more than a week. The old men have been slow to show up for practice but the coach has been taking the new men through active practice. The first game with Hanover is only three days after the opening of college and practically all of the practice must be in the players' own time. DePue is actively awaiting the contest with Purdue at Lafayette the day Wabash meets Indiana at Bloomington.

The Franklin team is again working under Coach John M. Thurman, while the left of men for army service was largely from the ranks of athletes, the college reports a number of prominent high school athletes in view. Practice has already started, but the prospects for getting all the old men back in time for thorough practice work before the scheduled game with Indiana September 29, has led to talk of cancelling that game.

Rose Poly has one of its largest schedules—nine college games and one alumni game—and Athletic Director Rufus Gilbert has been putting the men through a grilling every after-

GASTON B. MEANS TO BE HELD FOR MURDER

Counsel for Widow's Secretary Consent to the Procedure.

Coward, N. H., Sept. 25.—The defense in the case of Gaston B. Means, charged with the murder of Mrs. Maude A. King, consented this afternoon to having Means bound over to the grand jury.
When counsel for the defense announced today at the opening of the second day's preliminary hearing of Means that it would offer no evidence but would rest its case on arguments for dismissal, it became apparent that Means' story of the tragedy would not be retold at this time.

Two of the defendant's eight lawyers, Frank Osborne and L. T. Hartzell, had addressed Magistrate Pitts when court recessed for lunch and it was indicated that the remaining six would have something to say before the defense was through. Solicitor Hayden Clement spoke also this morning in answer to Mr. Osborne's arguments. Means' counsel today obtained an order from Circuit Judge James L. Webb, at Gastonia, directing that all documents seized in Means' apartments in New York, including the alleged second will of J. C. King, be delivered to the court of Cabarrus county. The order was directed against John Dooling, of District Attorney Swan's office, in New York, and against other New York officials aiding in the prosecution of Means.

BRITISH BREAK UP AIRCRAFT ATTACKS

FIFTEEN DEAD AND SEVENTY HURT ARE LOSSES OF LONDON

Airplanes Bomb Metropolis and Towns
on Kentish Coast and Zeppelins Visit Yorkshire.

AIR DREADNAUGHTS ARE DRIVEN AWAY

London, Sept. 25.—Fifteen persons were killed and seventy injured in last night's air raid over London.

The Zeppelins which crossed the Yorkshire and Lincolnshire coasts but did not penetrate inland, being driven off by gun fire. Three women were injured.

Only two airplanes at the most penetrated the defenses of London last night, it is reported officially. The following official report was given out by Lord French, commander of the home defenses:

"Airplane raid: The latest reports concerning last night's airplane raid show that the group of raiders which approached London was driven off by the fire of anti-aircraft guns. Only one or at the most two machines penetrated the defenses. The casualties in all the raided districts reported by the police up to the present are: Killed, 15; injured, 70. The material damage was not great.

"Airship raid: Enemy airships crossed the Yorkshire and Lincolnshire coasts between midnight and 3 a. m. There is no evidence of their having penetrated to any distance inland. They were driven off by gun fire from various defended localities which they attempted to approach. Bombs were dropped at one coast town, three women being slightly injured. Little damage was caused."

STORY OF THE RAID.

London, Sept. 25.—Reports from Kentish towns say that about eight bombs were dropped in last night's air raid. According to the first intimation of the raid came about 7:30 o'clock when anti-aircraft opened fire and the droning of the airplane motors could

SECRECY KEPT IN BINGHAM AUTOPSY

Analysis of Organs of the
Wealthy Woman Will Be
Most Thorough.

New York, Sept. 25.—Secrecy was maintained today regarding the chemical analysis in progress here of the vital organs from the body of Mrs. Robert Worth Bingham, privately exhumed at Wilmington, N. C., last week by direction of members of her family as a result of rumors regarding her death. The organs are at Bellevue hospital being subjected to exhaustive tests in the pathological laboratory. The examination, it is said, is for the purpose of discovering by all known tests whether there was any unusual conditions present, will take several days. The work is being done, it was said, for the Kean family of Wilmington, relatives of Mrs. Bingham, formerly Mrs. Henry M. Flagler, widow of the Standard Oil financier who left her an estate that has been valued at $70,000,000. The organs were brought here several days ago. Some of the work, it is said, is being done at Columbia university.

WOULD DISPATCH THE HOPELESS INCURABLES

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 25.—The American Association of Progressive Medicine in convention here is on record as favoring a movement to have state legislatures legalize the administration of an easy death to the hopelessly incurable. The decision was made last night by a vote of 37 to 24 on a motion to refer the proposition to a committee with instructions to submit to the legislature of every state the recommendation of some action favorable to the procedure.

San Francisco, Sept. 25.—The San Francisco iron trade councils voted late last night to recommend to affiliated unions which meet today the acceptance of temporary wage schedule agreed upon yesterday by representatives of the men, the employers and federal mediators.

AMERICAN BANKERS IN ANNUAL MEETING

Holding Convention in Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 25.—Bankers from virtually every section of the country were in attendance today at the opening session of the war convention of the American Bankers' association. In addition to the part the bankers should take to help win the war other financial matters of great importance were to be discussed. One of the principal subjects to come before the trust company section today was the relation of trust companies to the federal reserve system. Some of the speakers contended that the merging of state banks with the federal system must inevitably lead to a conflict of authority and confusion. The good results to be obtained, it was declared, would not justify the trust companies in making the change until the federal reserve act is modified. If at all. Only twenty-eight out of twenty-two hundred state institutions, it was pointed out, have thus far allied themselves with the federal system. The clearing house and savings bank sections also held meetings today.

BEST DRESSED ACTRESS WRITES SENTINEL'S FASHIONS FOR A WEEK

IRENE BORDONI

Before Betty Brown went on her vacation she arranged for Miss Irene Bordoni, famous French actress now in America, and known as the "best dressed woman on the stage," to write the Daily Sentinel's New York fashions for a week. The first of Miss Bordoni's articles illustrated with her own picture appears on page six today.

TWO MEN KILLED BY GREAT BLAST

Great Quantity of Oil in the Tanker Fails to Take Fire.

Richmond, Cal., Sept. 25.—Two men were killed here early today in an explosion which tore out the forward works and superstructure of the Standard Oil tanker, J. A. Moffet, as she lay at her pier here.

The explosion, according to J. F. Brooks, superintendent at Richmond for the Standard Oil company, was probably caused by an explosion of gas while the men were cleaning the hold. More than sixty thousand gallons of oil, which had been pumped aboard, escaped destruction. The Moffet, of 4,912 net tons, arrived yesterday from Vancouver in ballast and repairs were being effected before she filled her tanks. The explosion awoke residents of San Francisco seven miles away. Officials of the Standard Oil company of California said the pier had been closely guarded before and since the Moffet's arrival and discounted any possibility of sabotage.

GOVERNOR SAID TO BE IMPROVED SLIGHTLY TODAY

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 25.—The condition of Gov. Goodrich, ill at a local hospital of typhoid and bronchial pneumonia, was reported as slightly improved early today. When the physicians attending Gov. Goodrich issued the usual morning bulletin it was found to contain an optimistic note. It follows: "The governor spent a very good night, his temperature ranging around 100. While there is no radical change in his condition, we feel that there is a distinct improvement over yesterday. His general condition is entirely satisfactory."

Buenos Aires, Sept. 25.—The conservatives, who control the chamber of deputies, have agreed to vote tonight on a rupture with Germany. From all indications they will have a majority of thirty votes, virtually forcing the government to cease relations with Germany.

The government desires to postpone formulation of its policy until it receives from Ambassador Neaon at Washington translations of the 415 telegrams sent or received by the Swedish legation here. These messages were telegraphed to Dr. Neaon with instructions to send translations. The government is considering the imposition of a rigid censorship of all messages in the republic to prevent

London, Sept. 24.—(Delayed by Censor.)—The treatment by the Germans of British prisoners in German East Africa are contained in a white paper just issued. The paper contains a mass of testimony recited by prisoners and others, including a number of women, to the effect that the Germans deliberately adopted a policy to lower the prestige of the British in the eyes of the natives, forcing them to do all manner of degrading work and subjecting them to terrible hardships without proper food, clothing and shelter. Bodily punishment was meted out to prisoners who were forced to lodge in native huts which were damp and ill becoming. The commandant, according to the testimony, declared that the prisoners had no rights and that anything was good enough for the British.

PRODUCTION OF COAL MUST GO ON

Operators and Miners Meet
in Washington to Settle
Wage Scale.

Washington, Sept. 25.—A plea for concerted efforts to obtain a maximum production of coal during the war was made by Dr. H. A. Garfield, the fuel administrator, today at the opening of a conference of central field operators and miners here to discuss a proposed wage increase.

"Under no circumstances," said Dr. Garfield, "must we allow production to stop. Our duty as American citizens is to produce all we can just as it is the duty of the army to march ahead over all obstacles. We must put aside for the time being all questions that might separate men under normal circumstances and work in the closest harmony. There must be no suspension of work." The conference was called by John P. White, president of the United Mine Workers of America.

TRADE BOARD TO AID PUBLISHERS WITH ITS PROOF

Washington, Sept. 25.—The federal trade commission decided today it would turn over to newspaper publishers for such use as they desire to make of it, all records and correspondence in the agreement of last March made with newspaper manufacturers by which paper prices were to have been cut. Some of the manufacturers declined to carry out the agreement when the government refused to halt grand jury proceedings against them in New York, charging violation of the anti-trust law. Publishers who signed the agreement have made frequent inquiries of the commission as to what are their rights in the circumstances. The commission, giving no definite answer, will turn over the records and let the publishers themselves judge what they best can do.

OPERATORS AND MINERS GATHER TO MAKE SCALE

Washington, Sept. 25.—An interstate conference of coal operators and miners opened here today for the purpose of settling the wage question in the central competitive district of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and western Pennsylvania. The meeting was called by John P. White, president of the United Mine Workers of America, following an informal conference of operators and miners in Indianapolis September 6. It is understood the workers will ask the daily wage scale be increased from $3.50 to $3.80 and that an advance of 10 cents per ton in the mining rate be granted.

ANDERSON COAL PRICES MAKING BIG LOCAL STIR

Anderson, Ind., Sept. 25.—An investigation of coal prices in Anderson has been ordered by Mayor J. H. Mollett, and the cause of the continued excessive charge for coals being sought. Quotations indicate that Kentucky and West Virginia lump coal can be secured for $2.40 at the mine and an additional cost to the consumer of $1.70 for freight and 60 cents for unloading and delivery should set the price near $4.70 per ton. Anderson coal dealers, however, are charging $7 per ton and no prospect of a decrease is in sight.

BAVARIA'S PEACE VIEWS.

Berlin, Monday, Sept. 24.—The Bavarian government has made an individual reply to the peace proposals of Pope Benedict, according to a special dispatch from Munich to the Zeitung Am Mittag. It is taken for granted that the German imperial government is fully conversant with the contents of the reply made by King Ludwig.

FIGHT REICHSTAG PLAN.

London, Sept. 25.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen says the main committee of the national liberal party, of Germany, has adopted a resolution opposing the reichstag's peace resolution, disarmament and establishment of a parliamentary government in Germany and restoration of Belgium, and advocating annexation of conquered territory. The socialist newspaper Vorwaerts, of Berlin, characterizes the resolution as a challenge to the reichstag majority.

Summary of the Day's War News

The double air raid on England and by German Zeppelins and airplanes last night resulted in the death of fifteen persons and the injury of more than seventy. Nearly all the casualties were caused by the airplanes division, two of the machines of which reached London. The bombs of the airplane fleet accounted for all the dead and all but three of the injured according to the official reports today. Three women were injured by bombs from the Zeppelins which crossed the Yorkshire and Lincolnshire coasts, but did not penetrate inland.

On the French front in northern France the Germans are keeping up their activities north of Verdun. Their guns are still bombarding General Per-

FIRST FLIGHT FROM ITALY TO ENGLAND MADE BY AIRPLANE

London, Sept. 25.—Captain Lauriat, a new type, started from Turin this morning. Captain Lauriat flew at a height of 10,500 feet. He encountered high winds, fog banks, rain storms and clouds on the route, which lay over Modena and Toulouse in southern France and then over the French battle lines in northern France to Cape Grishere and thence the English channel. He brought mail to the Italian ambassador.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED!
LOOK AT TONGUE

If Cross, Feverish or Bilious Give "California Syrup of Figs."

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given. If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look! Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that it's little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently move out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle. Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Advertisement.

Odd Fates of Bulk'd Millions
Illustrated by Twin Mysteries of Carolina—The King Murder and the Flagler Sensation, With Some Less Tragic Instances.

(Staff Special.)
Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 25.—Wealthy widows, beware of North Carolina.

Such a warning to relicts of millionaires may follow if the state adds to its collection of death mysteries.

The secrecy shrouding the issuing of a permit to exhume the body of Mrs. Lila Flagg Bingham, whose first husband, H. M. Flagg, Standard Oil magnate, left her millions, follows closely the mysterious death of Mrs. Maude A. King, wealthy Chicago widow.

Both women had originally married millionaires well along in years. Mrs. Flagg-Bingham by a second marriage was the wife of an old girlhood sweetheart, Judge Robert W. Bingham, when she died.

Mrs. King had not re-married, but there was a man in the case just the same—Gaston Means, who had been her secretary, and who was a member of the auto party which Mrs. King is said to have left just before her body was found in a lonesome spot near Blackwelder Spring.

Both women, while widows, spent much time traveling and enjoying life.

That, it seems is what most wealthy widows do. And in many instances the widow and her wealth are rapidly parted.

This however, does not hold good in the case of the wealthiest, as witness Mrs. J. P. Morgan, sr., Mrs. Mary Harriman, Mrs. Russell Sage, Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, Mrs. Potter Palmer and Mrs. J. J. Hill.

They, of course, were past middle age when they acquired wealth and lost their husbands.

The younger ones marry. It seems that Dan Cupid hasn't much else to do but sit around and shoot arrows at widowed hearts.

Just the other day news floated across the Atlantic that Mrs. W. B. Leeds, widow of America's "tin-plate king," was engaged to a Greek prince. She had been wooed by half the world's bachelor noblemen. J. J. Astor's Titanic widow, Madeline Force Astor, is now Mrs. William K. Dick, and living happily. Mrs. Lella Post, widow of the Battle Creek cereal food millionaire, married the manager of the hotel she inherited from her husband.

Years ago Mrs. Marshall Field, Jr., married Malvina Drummond, a Britisher, and carried $50,000,000 American money across with her. Mrs. Philip Van Valkenburgh left immense fortunes by her first two husbands, now announces her engagement to the duke of Oporto.

The widow of Tom Shevella millionaire football player, gave her hand and the care of the Shevella millions to Marshall H. Russell, a year or so after her husband died.

Then there was the widow of James "Silent" Smith, who gave her somewhat aged heart and a barrel of money into the keeping of youthful Jean H. E. St. Cyr, who posed as a scion of an old family but who really had borrowed

ed that claim as well as the name he wore.

With few exceptions millionaire widows "lived happily ever after" their second marriages. Those who seemed to have made the failures were the ones who picked husbands much younger than they.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS
ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Byron Hayes Selected as Grand Exalted Knight of Local Council.

At a meeting of Fort Wayne council No. 451, Knights of Columbus, Monday night at their hall in the Lau building, Byron Hayes, deputy prosecuting attorney, was elected grand exalted knight of the order.

Franke; treasurer, O. N. Heiney; trustee, J. J. Wolfe; warden, August Borghoff; inner guard, J. W. DeWald; outer guard, Henry LeMaster; delegate to Fort Wayne Council of Patriotic Service, J. Stephen Weber; alternate, John E. O'Connor.

The retiring grand knight read a report showing the local chapter to be in excellent shape. It has been active and taken part in all patriotic and civic events during the year and has also waged a successful campaign toward raising Fort Wayne's share of the million-dollar Knights of Columbus war fund. Financially the council is in good shape, having assets of $47,000, including cash on hand and property where the lodge intends to erect their new home.

Base Post Initiates.

At a meeting Monday night the Lion S. Base post No. 40, G. A. R., initiated Washington Duntin, Huntestown; Henry Marker, Spencerville, and E. D. Skedgel, Fort Wayne. Plans were also made for erecting a monument for the late General Lawton, and for attending the Bluffton Free Street Fair on Wednesday, which is to be featured by a G. A. R. parade and old soldiers' day.

Give Rank of Knight.

Phoenix lodge No. 101, Knights of Pythias, gave the rank of knight to Harry Filkins Monday night. Afterwards the members, together with a number of visitors, enjoyed a chicken-pie supper. Prosecuting Attorney Frank A. Emrick acted as toastmaster and called on a number of brothers for toasts.

MRS. FREDERICK FUNSTON WRITES WITH LIVELY INTEREST ABOUT UNCLE SAM'S GREAT NEW ARMY

Tells of Marvelous Patriotism of the Men When
Their Country Calls—An Incident of General Bell and a Disabled Automobile.

No name in recent American military annals is more inspiring
than that of General Frederick Funston, captor of Aguinaldo,
leader of the American expedition
that occupied Vera Cruz, and
commander of the department of the south during the recent affair
in Mexico. The general's widow,
who has the responsibility of caring for three fatherless
children, has taken to the pen
in order to support them. The Sentinel believes its readers will be greatly interested in this, her first article as a professional writer.

BY MRS. FREDERICK FUNSTON.
Give our nation a reason, a cause,
and behold, we not only rise to the
derfully well.

Who said we were a country without patriotism? I have just seen soldiers—army—navy—the very atmosphere permeated with the thrill of patriotism! I saw where 12,000 acres of virgin forest had been razed in a twinkling to make way for one cantonment—Camp Upton, on Long Island.

From this one training ground, set up as quickly as a scene on the stage,
an army of 40,000 soldiers can be rushed, trained and equipped, every three months to protect humanity's interests.

The approach to the reservation reminds me most vividly of an old mining camp, or the outskirts of a circus, with all its men loading around the various shacks and wagons, smoking, chewing and gawping stories, with seemingly nothing else to do.

Immediately inside the gates of the camp was quite another aspect. Soldiers—not so many. They are to come later. But workmen! I would hate to guess how many! Carpenters, plumbers, electricians—the place was swarming with them. The only busier community I have ever seen

This interesting group shows Mrs.
Frederick Funston, widow of the famous general, and her fatherless children, for whose support she has taken
up the pen. The children are Frederick, Jr., aged 13; Barbara, aged 8;
Elizabeth, aged 3.

was an anti-hill on moving day.
Where a few short weeks ago a virgin forest stood, the camp is laid out in avenues and streets. They are numbered so, as soon as the little city is completed, the mothers and sweethearts will have no difficulty in locating and finding their "boys."
And here may I digress for a moment. Why call these fine fellows,

who give up home, father, mother
and everything they hold dear—in short, their lives—why speak of them lightly as "boys"? Men they are—every atom of them! Only a real man could do what is expected of them. Men—let us call them as they are!

Most of the soldiers were colored
(and fine soldiers they make!) Just enough of them to do guard duty. As
of these—fine, clean specimen with bright, intelligent eyes, and a smile
that showed every snow-white tooth
in his head.

The morning had promised a cool
return trip, consequently the tonneau
of the car was full of wraps of various description. Our colored friend poked around among them and asked smilingly: "Any packages?" We did not look like spies, evidently, for when we
of pears with which to keep the wolf
from the door until we could return
to our humble shacks, he permitted
us to proceed, after having given us a few directions as to how we might find headquarters, and General Bell,
who is in command of this wonderful
camp.

We were most cordially greeted by General Bell, a tall soldierly man who emanates energy and kindness. We found him most amiable, ready to an-
many. We started off to inspect the officers' quarters.

As we walked away from the building, an officer stepped up to the general and requested a few moments. In a short time General Bell returned
and told me a remarkable story.

General Bell, learning that the contractors were having some difficulty in getting their men paid off, had offered the services of his officers. A captain has just finished paying off
the men. He said that after all had been paid, one man still hung around stepped up to the officer, and handing him a $20-bill, said:

"Captain, I have been over-paid
$20." Another man standing by said to him: "You fool, why didn't you keep it?" And he replied, "I couldn't cheat my government."

"That," said General Bell, "shows what universal training would do for the men of our country. That man was an ex-soldier, had served an enlistment in the regular army."

I asked the general, "What will become of this vast cantonment when the camp is over?"

"So many ask that question," the general smiled, "and I do not know what to answer. With this stupendous war upon us, it behooves us to think
and observe and learn so that when finally this war is over and we have passed through the fiery furnace, we will know how to be prepared against
the next one."

"Oh! don't throw up your hands in deprecation—there will be more wars!
Not for a long time, perhaps, after
this one is over, but there will be, as long as human nature is human nature, and the millennium is still a long
way off."

"Which is the best way out of the camp?" we asked our general.

"Why—" he thought a moment and said, "I'll go with you and escort you
on the right road," he said.

get back?"

"Walk," he replied and stepped into the car. "I have walked only about eight miles today, and need a little more exercise."

Presently we came to the end of the reservation and started down a hill
over a badly rutted stretch of road.
Below us, half way up the hill, a roadster was "stuck." The women had gotten out of the car and the man was making vain efforts to start it up hill.

As soon as the general took in the situation, he said to our driver: "Stop!
Stop! They are in trouble—we must help them. All they need is to be pushed up to the brow of this hill.
Come on."

And with that, out he jumped, followed by the two men of our party,
and literally pushed the little roadster
into camp. We wondered what its occupants would have thought had they known they had been pushed into the camp Upton by its commanding general.

Few Moments.

If you care for heavy hair, that glis-

Just one application doubles the
beauty of your hair, besides it imme-

druff; you cannot have nice, heavy,
healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverish and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famine, loosen and die; then the hair
falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and

AN INTERESTING PLACE, SHOWING WHERE IDLEWOOD ROAD CROSSES WESTOVER ROAD.

South Wood Park, the new Higeman & Schaaf subdivision, is so large that many have difficulty in comprehending its magnitude. There is one spot which is easily reached and which places the visitor about half-way between the extreme ends of the subdivision, and that is the spot in the photograph here shown. To reach it, go south on Idlewood Road (the automobile route which passes the Bechtel and Polhamus estates) until the region of the big trees is reached. Then take from your pocket the clipping and compare it with the landscape that spreads before you. In front of you is Section B, where scores of valuable wooded lots have been purchased, and to the west is Section C, which has not yet been opened for sale. Many are awaiting the opportunity to buy in Section C.

CONGRESS NEEDS A FOOLKILLER.

Speaking by and large—whatever that means—congress appears to be in fair mood to make about the same description of fool of itself over the exposure of von Bernstorff's propaganda in America that it did over the big bear raid in Wall street following the leak of the president's December peace note.

We doubt if it ever has entered any sensible American's mind to suppose for an instant that von Bernstorff—ready enough though he may have been to do it—even so much as supposed he could "hand something" to a member of the congress of the United States. The German ambassador was not operating that fashion. He knew a trick worth two of that in bare matter of results and attended with less risk of immediate exposure and consequences to himself. The suave and subtle count had been long enough in America to learn thoroughly that there is nothing the demagogue in American politics so much fears as that some of his votes may up and fly from him. He dreads nothing so much as letters and telegrams counselling him against support of this measure or enjoining him to support of that measure. Von Bernstorff's essays to influence congress were guided by knowledge of that fear. He got the elements that, without special danger, he could make his mercenaries to assault congress with letters, telegrams and on practicable occasion by word of mouth. That some have been influenced in this way we believe there is no reason to doubt. That any were so sordid and traitorous as to criminally and basely yield to subornations from such a source is almost unbelievable and we do not believe an investigation will bring any evidence of it.

It is true enough some members of both house and senate have been so steadfastly and in a few instances so aggressively the friends of every congressional proposal the kaiser would admire and so consistently and implacably the foes of every congressional move the kaiser would fear and deplore that there has been now and then excited a suspicion of motives. Yet even in these extreme instances it will take clear evidence to convince the great body of clear-headed people in America that in congress there were mercenary traitors to their country and its cause. Prussian gold has been lush in this land for a good while and it no doubt has been at the refusal of any congressman who would pollute his hand by touching it, but we cannot think that any man in the American congress has done that or would do that.

Just as a man like our own Indiana Bill Wood, who is the sort to harbor sinister suspicions of others, went off half-cocked on the Wall street bear drive, so a bloviating emotionalist like Tom Heflin, of Alabama, who loves to pose with his elephantine body and soar with his mellifluous voice, blew the lid off his noise a day or two ago with the wholly unconsidered intimation that he had seen and he had noticed and there had been this and that and more else, wherefore there sat right among themselves in the congress of the United States men and members who—and so on and so forth.

Whereupon and forthwith the house goes into a regular corn-sweat of wrath and a vast heat of purpose to have the whole body of it laid bare in all its naked wickedness or in all its shining virtue, as the case may be, and the truth may come out. Wherefore congress needs an able-bodied and painstaking foolkiller in its precious midst working overtime for a day or two. The state department has expressly declared that it does not desire an investigation and that it has obtained no evidence whatever to bring any congressman under aspersion. It has offered to aid any inquiry congress may choose to make but has emphasized that it is not asking for one and has no reason to do so.

However, as there seems to be a fine opportunity to make much the same sort of monkey of Tom Heflin, of Alabama, that some months ago was made of Willer Wood, of Indiana, the house doubtless will go on the nosing adventure and so possess itself of a pair of very callow simians.

The place to look for the trail of von Bernstorff is not in congress, and congress knows it. It has a deal of proof of that. It can get more proof of it. And we believe that after it has foolishly amused itself a bit with Tom Heflin and made him good and sorry he has so much voice and only loose lips to control it there will be an end of the matter so far as the house is concerned. The state department knows, and still better the department of justice knows, what men and women in America have permitted themselves to become involved in the von Bernstorff propaganda.

THE CUT IN STEEL.

We know it was not a painless and we suspect it was not a bloodless operation whereby the government excised from 40 to 70 per cent of the profits on steel. It was a capital job of surgery and the patient will recover and maintain his health, we are assured by Judge Elbert H. Gary, whose interests and affections are quite acutely touched by this professional intervention for the removal of excess profits. Judge Gary admits that the area explored by the federal knife was somewhat more extensive than was looked for, but not so great as might have been and on the whole something of which the best can very well be made. To this Judge Gary adds that there will be no necessity for cutting the wages of men employed in the steel and related industries, which is a solid reassurance, for the United States Steel company raised the wages of its employees 10 per cent a few days ago.

What has been proceeding in the way of war profiteering in the steel industry may be approximated by any who will take the trouble to examine the cuttings and slashings that were made. In some instances almost three-fourths of the price littered the floor of the operating room. Yet Judge Gary stands for the statement that nothing was done that cannot be borne, and that, too, without any turning round to recoup the loss of these fat excesses at the expense of labor. It is very fine and it kindles to effulgent glow and stirring warmth the hope that when the government gets at fuel prices and food prices, as it has the fixed purpose to do, there will come benefit and relief that the average man will more readily appreciate and more directly feel than he does the lopping off of the excesses that have made the steel industry seem like the specially favored of God.

If there is to be federal control let us have it all along the line after the fashion of control set for steel. That means a level of prices that leaves something for the industry affected and yet takes enough off the top to save the consumer from eating and burning himself up. There is and there ought to be no purpose to reduce any branch of industry or trade to a profitless endeavor and a bootless energy. What the government is about is to see that rapacity shall cease to make the abnormal conditions brought on by the war the occasion and opportunity to heartlessly exploit the people and clean up on the government itself.

DO YOU WANT TO WIN? THEN HELP.

It will be worse than a disappointment of expectation if there shall fail to be a great crowd at the court house tonight to attend the patriotic meeting. Such failure will be taken for a sign that Fort Wayne is not interested in the purpose of the big drive that is to go on this week in Indiana to stir the people to a fuller sense of the fact of war and to give them a better understanding of the nation's position in the war.

Fort Wayne cannot afford to gain any repute for slacking or even of lukewarmness in this patriotic effort because to do so will be to incur a great injustice. Fort Wayne so far has done the great part allotted to her on every call and occasion for support of the government, the army, the nation and all activities and movements that relate to the war. She has been lavish with the Red Cross. She was generous to the Y. M. C. A. fund movement and she shone brightly in the campaign of the Knights of Columbus for their big fund to establish institutions similar to the Y. M. C. A. in the army camps at home and abroad. She did her part for the Liberty Loan and she has set an example to the country in furnishing troops for all branches of the service. Not one has been missing from the ranks when the men selected for service were called. That and much more make up a record that is difficult to match.

Now let Fort Wayne's part in this big movement for a patriotic stirring of all of the people of the state to full spirit for the war be fully met. You want to win. Help to win by further effort.

This is the week of the big patriotic drive in Indiana—the struck hour for everybody to line up, be counted for the nation and help on with the war in whatever way each can serve the best. Fall in and march with the flag.

Love choked my breath.

Now, I'm grave as the end of things,

Some educators believe honestly that German will never again be used and respected, as a language, in the United States, and some go so far as to say that it should be made elective in college. Much as we dislike all things that are German or of German origin, we must candidly admit that such an idea savors of pure and simple foolishness. Forbid the general conversational use of the language, if you like, but do not make it impossible to tap the stores of German literature—for, you must know, there is a culture in Germany that is not spoiled with a "K."

DONNERWETTER!

SAYS BUTTER IS CHEAP.

Editor of The Sentinel: In The Sentinel issue of September 14th, the writer learned with some surprise that we are to be confronted with another attempt to change the present oleomargarine law. A representative from Louisiana attempts to tell of his trouble and attacks the subject with which he is least familiar. He lives where neither butter or oleomargarine are produced and cannot talk with intelligence on this subject. The undersigned was raised on a farm and during the last ten years has been actively engaged in the manufacture of butter on a large scale and at the same time selling oleomargarine in a somewhat limited way.

Butter is a food produced in cows milk and consists of butterfat moisture and salt. Its caloric food value is higher than any other food of the same weight and price we have. It is as our southern representative says, very palatable, nutritious and wholesome, in fact it has no comparison or substitute. Any other food like it is something else. Oleo is the finished produce of a mixture of neutral oils, cottonseed and peanut oil and what not, churned in milk to make it taste like butter. Or it is the combination of by products of the packing industry and cotton gins. The sources of supply is the control of industries, and therefore limited by them.

Why is butter more expensive than in past years. All commodities have advanced in price from 25 to 200 per cent. Butter is today about 25 per cent higher than a year ago. Land values are higher, labor on the farm is doubled in price and impossible to get. Corn, wheat and hay, in fact everything the cow eats has advanced more than butter.

The high cost of meat is gradually diminishing the number of milk producing animals and unless the dairyman is getting a price for his product that will produce as much profit as other lines of farming he will not continue as a dairyman. The work is confining, as cattle demand attention every day at a certain time and place. It is a long way from grass and grain to butter on the table of the ultimate consumer.

Several years ago the United States government attacked the dairymen of the Elgin district as being a trust and violating anti-trust laws. A very thorough investigation of the production and manufacture of butter was made and in their reports they state that they have never investigated any industry where food was produced or manufactured, or manufactured product of any kind, where the margins of profit were so small as they are in the production of milk and manufacture of its products, especially butter. The annual average production of one cow is about 200 pounds of butterfat in one year. This, at prices averaged for the past year for feed, will mean a very small profit for one cow in a year. The farmer is patriotic and charitable, and will feed cows some mention still the man from Louisiana believes that a tax on oleomargarine is making butter too expensive.

Other industries, such as leather manufacture, meats, cheese, automobiles, pumps, bolts to drive machinery, depends on the cow wholly or in part, for their most necessary parts and operations. Even oleomargarine could not be produced without the cow to furnish the neutral fats and some butter to put with the oleomargarine.

Now then, how much of a burden is this tax anyway. The oleomargarine you buy uncolored requires a tax of 4c per pound. Colored 10c per pound. Ninety-nine per cent of oleomargarine is uncolored. The manufacturers pay a license of $600.00 a year, a nominal fee for the amount of output. The retailer also pays a small tax of 50c per month for selling it. In fact the total revenue is intended to be enough to pay the cost of supervising the manufacture and selling of the food. Why does it need supervision? Because unscrupulous dealers and even manufacturers have made and sold oleomargarine as butter, and at prices obtained for butter, defrauding the consumers of millions of dollars for a product that was not what it was sold to be. The dairy business received a setback from which it has not yet recovered and the government passed rigid supervision laws to protect the public from being further defrauded in the sale of oleomargarine. Why should anyone but the manufacturer want this tax removed. The cost to the consumer because of this tax is about 10c per year. Oh! you say how about the ten cents tax on colored oleomargarine. When oleomargarine is colored it is with the thought of representing it as butter and getting butter prices for it, nothing else.

The public is paying enough for what it gets. Let us not permit any legislation that will permit such frauds as have obtained in the oleomargarine manufacture before the present laws were made and put in force.

THE FORT WAYNE MARKET.

(Indianapolis News.)
Fort Wayne city officials are considering closing the city's $200,000 market square because of the high prices charged by farmers who dispose of produce there. The producers, it is said, ask even higher prices than the retail stores. This is a phenomenon that is not peculiar to Fort Wayne. It has also occurred on the Indianapolis market, although the trouble here is generally believed to be due to monopoly by the middlemen, though not wholly so.
The situation suggests a wrong attitude of mind on the part of some farmers as well as middlemen. Of course, the farmer, who takes the time to bring his produce to a public market, stands in the sun all day to dispose of it, and takes to himself the work and the worry of selling his products in small quantities, should have a higher price than he would receive from the middleman. But the price should not be higher than the ordinary retail price, which is often high enough to cover the legitimate cost of handling by, it may be, several middlemen and to include speculative and unjust profits besides. Possibly the farmer's product is fresher and hence more desirable than that of the retailer, but it should be remembered that the price charged by the retailer is often artificially set through the operations of middlemen, and is not representative of the real value of the goods.
The practice of some farmers, noted in cases other than that of Fort Wayne, is to find out the highest retail price and then charge the customer that price. This course may be natural, but it is certainly not considerate and is, at this time, unpatriotic. What has the ordinary retail price to do with the price charged by the farmer? The farmer's price should be the lowest he can charge and obtain a reasonable return on his investment in the labor of producing and selling—not the highest he can squeeze from an already badly squeezed public. Even in the case of consumers who visit farms, by automobile or other means, farmers often demand city retail prices. Of course the only effect of persistence in such practices is to discourage direct buying and to play into the hands of the middleman, from whom the farmer must accept lower prices.

BREAKING IT GENTLE.

(Indianapolis Star.)
It may be significant, as London papers contend, that the German censor is permitting the Berlin journals to publish rumors of peace. The early ending of war is not expected but the public mind in Germany apparently is being prepared for a changed attitude on the part of the government. The papers are allowed to say that Germany may renounce any claim to supremacy over Belgium and may withdraw absolutely from that kingdom, as a part of a peace program.
The allied governments have insisted from the first that the evacuation of Belgium is one of the first conditions that would be imposed. Peace could not be considered on any basis short of that. France insists that it will listen to nothing that does not include restoration of Alsace-Lorraine. It also is on the allied cards that Serbia and Montenegro are to be evacuated and restored and that Poland is to be rehabilitated and made independent.
The German press, apparently, is not saying anything about what is to be conceded anywhere except in Belgium, but that is a long step forward. It indicates that the Berlin government realizes the futility of hoping to enforce the terms of a conqueror on the allies. It is getting the public mind ready by intimating that Berlin magnanimously will come down in its Belgian attitude in the interest of the cause of peace.
These in authority in Berlin know the full truth. They are aware that they will have to make other concessions. They know that if they can not keep Belgium through strength of arms they can not force allied acceptance of a German peace, and that they will have to yield to Serbia, Poland and elsewhere. But it would not do to tell all that to the people at once. The news is being broken to them gradually, beginning with reports of yielding in Belgium.
It is an interesting manifestation of what is going on back of the enemy's lines. A year or two ago he was obsessed with the idea that it was only a question of a little time before the allies would be begging for mercy. That era has passed and the German people, evidently, are being schooled to disappointment in the hope of tempering their wrath when the truth is brought home to them and peace is made.

Schrader & Wilson, the insurance agents, have pleasant rooms now at No. 7 Court street, Judge Lowry's former law office.

Wing & Mahurin, the architects, expect to have the plans for the shops of the new Mahoning railroad completed next week.

The electric street cars were delayed twice today for about an hour on account of the failure of the dynamo to generate sufficient electricity to operate them.

Frank Edmunds has finished his contract for the publication of 50,000 programs for the Deutsche theater and ball, which is held in Schroeder's hall on Broadway.

A bold burglary and inhuman assault was perpetrated at Hoagland last night. Dr. H. A. Miller, a prominent druggist at that place, was assaulted in his own store, bound and gagged and then robbed.

The Swinney sisters gave a lovely luncheon at their home on West Jefferson street yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Those present were the Mesdames Flora Varley, of Columbus, Judge Cheney, Charles Knight, S. H. Curtis, Samuel Morris, J. I. White and Judge Morris.

The biggest well in the Indiana oil field "came in" on the McCollister farm, near the Wells county line. When first struck it flowed at the rate of 6,000 barrels per day, and it keeps up a steady stream of 100 barrels per hour. McCollister, owner of the farm, is enjoying an income of $112 per day as his share.

John F. Solinger is the latest victim of a railroad accident and he now lies on a cot at St. Joseph hospital, awaiting the result of the loss of both legs. Amputation was performed by Drs. Stemen. About midnight he was making a coupling at Convey, Ohio, when he slipped on the track and the wheels of a freight car passed over both of his legs, mangling them in a horrible manner.

on a charge of intoxication. Miller was released.

Under Heavy Bond.

John Baker, a well known of South Bend, is held by local police under $10,000 bond to await the arrival of South Bend officers, who charge Baker with grand larceny. It is alleged that the man drew upon his uncle's check-book account to the sum of $700.

Baker was arrested by Detective Sergeant Walter Himmel Monday night when the man was standing on Calhoun street. His two children, a daughter, aged 15, and a son, aged 7, had gone to a picture show. After Baker was locked up the police started to hunt his children. They were not located until Tuesday morning.

Claims a Mistake.

James Damina, 19, denies having taken a gold watch from the coat of Don Kowsky, a chef, on a Pennsylvania train. Damina, who was a helper on the diner, says that his arrest is due to a grudge Kowsky has for him. Damina pleads that there are other witnesses. The case is continued until Wednesday. The youth is held under $50 bond.

Trial on Friday.

George Bailey, vendor, charged with selling rotten peaches, will be tried on Friday. He is at liberty under $25 bond. He claims that his delverman mixed the peach baskets on Monday and that the wrong basket was delivered to a Barr street home.

Other Police Court Cases.

Jack Case will be tried on Wednesday on a charge of disorderly conduct. Cases of public intoxication were: Frank Crawford, fined $5 and costs; Mary Johnson, $1; William Ward, $1; William Cook, $1; Dan Hughston, $1; Philip McGuire, $1, and Joe Smith, $5. Patrick Shady, Frank Weaver and Joe Friskl were released.

JUDGE KERR STANDS BACK OF SOLDIERS

Man Who Stole Suit from Patriot Gets Half Year of Labor.

Judge H. W. Kerr, who presides in the city court nearly every morning, is one of the men who stand back of the soldier boys. He fined Roman Pettit, of Anderson, $10 and costs and sentenced him to 150 days at the state farm because the man attempted to steal the civilian clothes left behind by an enlisted youth.

"It is for us who remain at home to guard the property of the brave men who have marched away to fight our battles," said the judge Tuesday morning after sentencing Pettit. "I want the word to go out that the property of the soldiers is not to be molested while they are working for the cause of freedom."

Pettit had taken a suit belonging to the son of Lydia Harvey, 616 Montgomery street, it was testified. Pettit was a roomer in the Harvey home. He had been here but a few days and his wife remains in Anderson. The man said he had only borrowed the garments. He will be at the state farm until the wild March winds are blowing.

Let Case Drop.

When it was shown that Jack Harold, waiter in the Summit City restaurant, had paid $30 for the fur collar which he removed from a chair in the restaurant, Judge Kerr dismissed the case against the young man.

The judge expressed his disapproval at the method which officers had employed in allowing Harold to make the loss good. The waiter should have been brought before the bar of justice first, Judge Kerr said.

Must Have Battled.

Jack Hess, teamster, peered through two swollen and discolored eyes Tuesday morning. He had been the victim of the strength of three police officers when he resisted arrest on Monday night.

Hess had caused a disturbance at the corner of Fairmount avenue and Wells street, shortly before 10 o'clock. In a melee he had hit Knute Miller, who is deaf, with a piece of iron. Miller lay by the sidewalk when the police arrived. He was taken to the St. Joseph hospital and revived. Later he was taken to the city jail.

Hess battled the police, the officers testified. He was fined $3 and costs.

HOW TO SERVE WILL BE THEME TONIGHT

Patriotism Will Be Keynote of First Meeting in District.

The initial meeting in the Fort Wayne district comprising Allen, Whitley, Huntington and Wells counties, will be held this Tuesday night at the court house assembly room for the purpose of expounding patriotic questions. Judge J. W. Eggeman will preside and he has urged a large attendance, particularly of parents of young men who are in the service of their country. The meeting and others throughout the state are under the auspices of the State Defense Council.

Three speakers will be heard at the meeting. They are: Fred I. King, of Wabash; Herman Wilkie, of Elwood, and Byron Somers, of this city. All of these men have established a reputation as public speakers and as being leading thinkers in their communities on political and patriotic subjects. They are coming here as a part of the plan of the state and county councils of defense to arouse the people to the causes at stake and the prosecution of the war. It is probable also that Red Cross work and the liberty loan will come in for a full share of attention of the speakers.

The speakers in the meeting here are also scheduled to talk at Columbia City, Huntington and Bluffton.

Must you stop work to scratch?

Resinol

That itching, burning skin-trouble which keeps you scratching and digging, is a source of disgust to others, as well as of torment to you. Why don't you get rid of it by using Resinol Ointment? Physicians have prescribed it for many years. In most cases, it stops itching instantly and heals eruptions promptly. It is very easy and economical to use. Acts even more promptly if aided by Resinol Soap.

Resinol Ointment is so nearly flesh-colored that it can be used on exposed surfaces without attracting undue attention. Contains nothing that could irritate the tenderest skin. It comes in two sizes (50c and $1), never in bulk. All druggists sell Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. You'd better try them!

CONGRESS NEEDS A FOOLKILLER.

Speaking by and large—whatever that means—congress appears to be in fair mood to make about the same description of fool of itself over the exposure of von Bernstorff's propaganda in America that it did over the big bear raid in Wall street following the leak of the president's December peace note. We doubt if it ever has entered any sensible American's mind to suppose for an instant that von Bernstorff—ready enough though he may have been to do it—even so much as supposed he could "hand something" to a member of the congress of the United States. The German ambassador was not operating that fashion. He knew a trick worth two of that in bare matter of results and attended with less risk of immediate exposure and consequences to himself. The suave and subtle count had been long enough in America to learn thoroughly that there is nothing the demagogue in American politics so much fears as that some of his votes may up and fly from him. He dreads nothing so much as letters and telegrams counselling him against support of this measure or enjoining him to support of that measure. Von Bernstorff's essays to influence congress were guided by knowledge of that fear. He got the elements that, without special danger, he could make his mercenaries to assault congress with letters, telegrams and on practicable occasion by word of mouth. That some have been influenced in this way we believe there is no reason to doubt. That any were so sordid and traitorous as to criminally and basely yield to subornations from such a source is almost unbelievable and we do not believe an investigation will bring any evidence of it.

It is true enough some members of both house and senate have been so steadfastly and in a few instances so aggressively the friends of every congressional proposal the kaiser would admire and so consistently and implacably the foes of every congressional move the kaiser would fear and deplore that there has been now and then excited a suspicion of motives. Yet even in these extreme instances it will take clear evidence to convince the great body of clear-headed people in America that in congress there were mercenary traitors to their country and its cause. Prussian gold has been lush in this land for a good while and it no doubt has been at the refusal of any congressman who would pollute his hand by touching it, but we cannot think that any man in the American congress has done that or would do that.

Just as a man like our own Indiana Bill Wood, who is the sort to harbor sinister suspicions of others, went off half-cooked on the Wall street bear drive, so a bloviating emotionalist like Tom Heflin, of Alabama, who loves to pose with his elephantine body and roar with his mellow voice, blew the lid off his noise a day or two ago with the wholly unconsidered intimation that he had seen and he had noticed and there had been this and that and more else, wherefore there sat right among themselves in the congress of the United States men and members who—and so on and so forth.

Whereupon and forthwith the house goes into a regular corn-sweat of wrath and a vast heat of purpose to have the whole body of it laid bare in all its naked wickedness or in all its shining virtue, as the case may be, and the truth may come out. Wherefore congress needs an able-bodied and painstaking foolkiller in its precious midst working overtime for a day or two. The state department has expressly declared that it does not desire an investigation and that it has obtained no evidence whatever to bring any congressman under aspersion. It has offered to aid any inquiry congress may choose to make but has emphasized that it is not asking for one and has no reason to do so.

However, as there seems to be a fine opportunity to make much the same sort of monkey of Tom Heflin, of Alabama, that some months ago was made of Willer Wood, of Indiana, the house doubtless will go on the nosing adventure and so possess itself of a pair of very callow simians.

The place to look for the trail of von Bernstorff is not in congress, and congress knows it. It has a deal of proof of that. It can get more proof of it. And we believe that after it has foolishly amused itself a bit with Tom Heflin and made him good and sorry he has so much voice and only loose lips to control it there will be an end of the matter so far as the house is concerned. The state department knows, and still better the department of justice knows, what men and women in America have permitted themselves to become involved in the von Bernstorff propaganda.

THE CUT IN STEEL.

We know it was not a painless and we suspect it was not a bloodless operation whereby the government excised from 40 to 70 per cent of the profits on steel. It was a capital job of surgery and the patient will recover and maintain his health, we are assured by Judge Elbert H. Gary, whose interests and affections are quite acutely touched by this professional intervention for the removal of excess profits. Judge Gary admits that the area explored by the federal knife was somewhat more extensive than was looked for, but not so great as might have been and on the whole something of which the best can very well be made. To this Judge Gary adds that there will be no necessity for cutting the wages of men employed in the steel and related industries, which is a solid reassurance, for the United States Steel company raised the wages of its employees 10 per cent a few days ago.

What has been proceeding in the way of war profiteering in the steel industry may be approximated by any who will take the trouble to examine the cuttings and slashings that were made. In some instances almost three-fourths of the price littered the floor of the operating room. Yet Judge Gary stands for the statement that nothing was done that cannot be borne, and that, too, without any turning round to recoup the loss of these fat excesses at the expense of labor. It is very fine and it kindles to effulgent glow and stirring warmth the hope that when the government gets at fuel prices and food prices, as it has the fixed purpose to do, there will come benefit and relief that the average man will more readily appreciate and more directly feel than he does the lopping off of the excesses that have made the steel industry seem like the specially favored of God.

If there is to be federal control let us have it all along the line after the fashion of control set for steel. That means a level of prices that leaves something for the industry affected and yet takes enough off the top to save the consumer from eating and burning himself up. There is and there ought to be no purpose to reduce any branch of industry or trade to a profitless endeavor and a bootless energy. What the government is about is to see that rapacity shall cease to make the abnormal conditions brought on by the war the occasion and opportunity to heartlessly exploit the people and clean up on the government itself.

DO YOU WANT TO WIN? THEN HELP.

It will be worse than a disappointment of expectation if there shall fail to be a great crowd at the court house tonight to attend the patriotic meeting. Such failure will be taken for a sign that Fort Wayne is not interested in the purpose of the big drive that is to go on this week in Indiana to stir the people to a fuller sense of the fact of war and to give them a better understanding of the nation's position in the war.

Fort Wayne cannot afford to gain any reputation for slacking or even of lukewarmness in this patriotic effort because to do so will be to incur a great injustice. Fort Wayne so far has done the great part allotted to her on every call and occasion for support of the government, the army, the nation and all activities and movements that relate to the war. She has been lavish with the Red Cross. She was generous to the Y. M. C. A. fund movement and she shone brightly in the campaign of the Knights of Columbus for their big fund to establish institutions similar to the Y. M. C. A. in the army camps at home and abroad. She did her part for the Liberty Loan and she has set an example to the country in furnishing troops for all branches of the service. Not one has been missing from the ranks when the men selected for service were called. That and much more make up a record that is difficult to match.

Now let Fort Wayne's part in this big movement for a patriotic stirring of all of the people of the state to full spirit for the war be fully met. You want to win. Help to win by further effort.

This is the week of the big patriotic drive in Indiana—the struck hour for everybody to line up, be counted for the nation and help on with the war in whatever way each can serve the best. Fall in and march with the flag.

I fell slack, then, and slow;
My face was afire with truth,

Hate brought me the rags of strife,
Love choked my breath.

Now, I'm grave as the end of things,

Day harries me hard with wings,
Night brings muddy tears.

But, somewhere, this sad brew of me
God has to drink—
I rise to His lips, you see,
Then plunge down the Brink.

A movement is on foot to cut out the teaching of German in the high schools throughout the country. There has been much scattered comment upon this in the papers. Some educators believe honestly that German will never again be used and respected, as a language, in the United States, and some go so far as to say that it should be made elective in college. Much as we dislike all things that are German or of German origin, we must candidly admit that such an idea savors of pure and simple foolishness. Forbid the general conversational use of the language, if you like, but do not make it impossible to tap the stores of German literature—for, you must know, there is a culture in Germany that is not spelled with a "K."

DONNERWETTER!

SAYS BUTTER IS CHEAP.

Editor of The Sentinel: In The Sentinel issue of September 14th, the writer learned with some surprise that we are to be confronted with another attempt to change the present oleomargarine law. A representative from Louisiana attempts to tell of his troubles in times of high cost of living and attacks the subject with which he is least familiar. He lives where neither butter or oleomargarine are produced and cannot talk with intelligence on this subject. The underlined was raised on a farm and during the last ten years has been actively engaged in the manufacture of butter on a large scale and at the same time selling oleomargarine in a somewhat limited way.

Butter is a food produced in cows milk and consists of butterfat moisture and salt. Its caloric food value is higher than any other food of the same weight and price we have. It is our southern representative says, very palatable, nutritious and wholesome, in fact it has no comparison or substitute. Any other food like it is something else. Oleo is the finished product of a mixture of neutral oils, cottonseed and peanut oil and what not, churned in milk to make it taste like butter. Or it is the combination of by products of the packing industry and cotton gins. The sources of supply is the control of industries, and therefore limited by them.

Why is butter more expensive than in past years. All commodities have advanced in price from 25 to 200 per cent. Butter is today about 25 per cent higher than a year ago. Land values are higher, labor on the farm is doubled in price and impossible to get. Corn, wheat and hay, in fact everything the cow eats has advanced more than butter.
The high cost of meat is gradually diminishing the number of milk producing animals and unless the dairyman is getting a price for his product that will produce as much profit as other lines of farming he will not continue as a dairyman. The work is confining, as cattle demand attention every day at a certain time and place. It is a long way from grass and grain to butter on the table of the ultimate consumer.

Several years ago the United States government attacked the dairymen of the Elgin district as being a trust and violating anti-trust laws. A very thorough investigation of the production and manufacture of butter was made and in their reports they state that they have never investigated any industry where food was produced, or manufactured, or manufactured goods of any kind, where the margins of profit were so small as they are in the production of milk and manufacture of its products, especially butter. The annual average production of one cow is about 200 pounds of butterfat in one year. This, at prices averaged for the past year for feed, will mean a very small profit for one cow in a year. The farmer is patriotic and charitable, and will feed cows sometimes at a loss, as some of the feeds will bring more on the markets than his cows can manufacture from them, but he will not do it all the time and we should not, and can't ask him to do it.

Did it ever occur to you that butter at 50c per pound is the cheapest milk product you buy today? A quart of milk retails for 10c or 12c, and a quart of butter for 50c. This hundred pounds of milk will make four pounds of butter and retails for $2.00. The skim milk is worth 35c for feed. The butter for your table is costing you only one-half as much as the milk you buy. Butter is cheaper than the meat, potatoes, bread, vegetables, sugar, coffee, beans and many articles I might mention and still the man from Louisiana believes that a tax on oleomargarine is making butter too expensive.

Other industries, such as leather manufacture, meats, cheese, automobiles, pumps, belts to drive machinery, depends on the cow wholly or in part, for their most necessary parts and operations. Even oleomargarine could not be produced without the cow to furnish the neutral fats and some butter to put with the oleomargarine.

Now then, how much of a burden is this tax anyway. The oleomargarine you buy uncolored requires a tax of 1c per pound. Colored 10c per pound.

Ninety-nine per cent of oleomargarine is uncolored. The manufacturers pay a license of $600.00 a year, a nominal fee for the amount of output. The retailer also pays a small tax of 50c per month for selling it. In fact the total tax is intended to be enough to pay the cost of supervising the manufacture and selling of the food. Why does it need supervision? Because unscrupulous dealers and even manufacturers have made and sold oleomargarine as butter, and at prices obtained for butter, defrauding the consumers of millions of dollars for a product that was not what it was sold to be. The dairy business received a setback from which it has not yet recovered and the government passed rigid supervision laws to protect the public from being further defrauded in the sale of oleomargarine. Why should anyone but the manufacturer want this tax removed. The cost to the consumer because of this tax is about 10c per year. Oh! you say how about the ten cent tax on colored oleomargarine. When oleomargarine is colored it is with the thought of representing it as butter and getting butter prices for it, nothing else.

The public is paying enough for what it gets. Let us not permit any legislation that will permit such frauds as have obtained in the oleomargarine manufacture before the present laws were made and put in force.

THE FORT WAYNE MARKET.

(Indianapolis News.)

Fort Wayne city officials are considering closing the city's $200,000 market square because of the high prices charged by farmers who dispose of produce there. The producers, it is said, ask even higher prices than the retail stores. This is a phenomenon that is not peculiar to Fort Wayne. It has also occurred on the Indianapolis market, although the trouble here is generally believed to be due to monopoly by the middlemen, though not wholly so.

The situation suggests a wrong attitude of mind on the part of some farmers as well as middlemen. Of course, the farmer, who takes the time to bring his produce to a public market, stands in the sun all day to dispose of it, and takes to himself the work and the worry of selling his produce in small quantities, should have a higher price than he would receive from the middleman. But the price should not be higher than the ordinary retail price, which is often high enough to cover the legitimate cost of handling it, may be, several middlemen and to include speculative and unjust profits besides. Possibly the farmer's product is fresher and hence more desirable than that of the retailer, but it should be remembered that the price charged by the retailer is often artificially set through the operations of middlemen, and is not representative of the real value of the goods.

The practice of some farmers, noted in cases other than that of Fort Wayne, is to find out the highest retail price and then charge the customer that price. This course may be natural, but it is certainly not considerate and is, at this time, unpatriotic. What has the ordinary retail price to do with the price charged by the farmer? The farmer's price should be the lowest he can charge and obtain a reasonable return on his investment in the labor of producing and selling—not the highest he can squeeze from an already badly squeezed public. Even in the case of consumers who visit farms, by automobile or other means, farmers often demand city retail prices. Of course the only effect of persistence in such practices is to discourage direct buying and to play into the hands of the middleman, from whom the farmer must accept lower prices.

BREAKING IT GENTLY.

(Indianapolis Star.)

It may be significant that London papers contend that the German censor is permitting the Berlin journals to publish rumors of peace. The early ending of war is not expected but the public mind in Germany apparently is being prepared for a changed attitude on the part of the government. The papers are allowed to say that Germany may renounce any claim to supremacy over Belgium and may withdraw absolutely from that kingdom, as a part of a peace program.

The allied governments have insisted from the first that the evacuation of Belgium is one of the first conditions that would be imposed. Peace could not be considered on any basis short of that. France insists that it will listen to nothing that does not include restoration of Alsace-Lorraine. It also is on the allied cards that Serbia and Montenegro are to be evacuated and restored and that Poland is to be rehabilitated and made independent.

The German press, apparently, is not saying anything about what is to be conceded anywhere except in Belgium, but that is a long step forward. It indicates that the Berlin government realizes the futility of hoping to enforce the terms of a conqueror on the allies. It is getting the public mind ready by intimating that Berlin magnanimously will come down in its Belgian attitude in the interest of the cause of peace.

This in authority in Berlin know the full truth. They are aware that they will have to make other concessions. They know that if they can not keep Belgium through strength of arms they can not force allied acceptance of a German peace, and that they will have to yield to Serbia, Poland and elsewhere. But it would not do to tell all that to the people at once. The news is being broken to them gradually, beginning with reports of yielding in Belgium.

It is an interesting manifestation of what is going on back of the enemy's lines. A year or two ago he was obsessed with the idea that it was only a question of a little time before the allies would be begging for mercy. That era has passed and the German people, evidently, are being schooled to disappointment in the hope of tempering their wrath when the truth is brought home to them and peace is made.

FROM THE SENTINEL PAGES 25 YEARS AGO

The Tresselt mills are working on their export goods day and night for the present.

M. J. Blitt, the city ticket agent, expects to leave this evening for Cleveland, Ohio, where he will visit his parents.

Schrader & Wilson, the insurance agents, have pleasant rooms now at No. 7 Court street, Judge Lowry's former law office.

Wing & Mahurin, the architects, expect to have the plans for the shops of the new Mahoning railroad completed next week.

The electric street cars were delayed twice today for about an hour on account of the failure of the dynamo to generate sufficient electricity to operate them.

Frank Edmunds has finished his contract for the publication of 50,000 programs for the Deutsche theater and ball, which is held in Schroeder's hall on Broadway.

A bold burglary and inhuman assault was perpetrated at Hoagland last night. Dr. H. A. Miller, a prominent druggist at that place, was assaulted in his own store, bound and gagged and then robbed.

The Swinney sisters gave a lovely luncheon at their home on West Jefferson street yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Those present were the Mendames Flora Varley, of Columbus, Judge Cheney, Charles Knight, S. H. Curtis, Samuel Morris, J. I. White and Judge Morris.

The biggest well in the Indiana oil field "came in" on the McCollister farm, near the Wells county line. When first struck it flowed at the rate of 6,000 barrels per day, and it keeps up a steady stream of 100 barrels per hour. McCollister, owner of the farm, is enjoying an income of $112 per day as his share.

John F. Solinger is the latest victim of a railroad accident and he now lies on a cot at St. Joseph hospital, awaiting the result of the loss of both legs. Amputation was performed by Drs. Stemen. About midnight he was making a coupling at Conroy, Ohio, when he slipped on the track and the wheels of a freight car passed over both of his legs, mangle them in a horrible manner.

on a charge of intoxication. Miller was released.

Under Heavy Bond.

John Baker, a well digger of South Bend, is held by local police under $1,000 bond to await the arrival of South Bend officers, who charge Baker with grand larceny. It is alleged that the man drew upon his uncle's checking account to the sum of $700.

Baker was arrested by Detective Sergeant Walter Immel Monday night when the man was standing on Calhoun street. His two children, a daughter, aged 15, and a son, aged 7, had gone to a picture show. After Baker was locked up the police started to hunt his children. They were not located until Tuesday morning.

Claims a Mistake.

James Damma, 19, denies having taken a gold watch from the coat of Don Kowsky, a chef, on a Pennsylvania train. Damma, who was a helper on the diner, says that his arrest is due to a grudge Kowsky has for him. Damma pleads that there are other witnesses. The case is continued until Wednesday. The youth is held under $50 bond.

Trial on Friday.

George Bailey, vendor, charged with selling rotten peaches, will be tried on Friday. He is at liberty under $25 bond. He claims that his deliveryman mixed the peach baskets on Monday and that the wrong basket was delivered to a Barr street home.

Other Police Court Cases.

Jack Case will be tried on Wednesday on a charge of disorderly conduct. Cases of public intoxication were: Frank Crawford, fined $5 and costs; Mary Johnson, $1; William Ward, $1; William Cook, $1; Dan Hughton, $1; Philip McGuire, $1; and Joe Smith, $1. Patrick Shady, Frank Weaver and Joe Friskl were released.

JUDGE KERR STANDS BACK OF SOLDIERS

Man Who Stole Suit from Patriot Gets Half Year of Labor.

Judge H. W. Kerr, who presides in the city court nearly every morning, is one of the men who stand back of the soldier boys. He fined Roman Pettit, of Anderson, $10 and costs and sentenced him to 150 days at the state farm because the man attempted to steal the civilian clothes left behind by an enlisted youth.

"It is for us who remain at home to guard the property of the brave men who have marched away to fight our battles," said the judge Tuesday morning after sentencing Pettit. "I want the word to go out that the property of the soldiers is not to be molested while they are working for the cause of freedom."

Pettit had taken a suit belonging to the son of Lydia Harvey, 616 Montgomery street, it was testified. Pettit was a roomer in the Harvey home. He had been here but a few days and his wife remains in Anderson. The man said he had only borrowed the garments. He will be at the state farm until the wild March winds are blowing.

Let Case Drop.

When it was shown that Jack Harold, waiter in the Summit City restaurant, had paid $30 for the fur collar which he removed from a chair in the restaurant, Judge Kerr dismissed the case against the young man.

The judge expressed his disapproval at the method which officers had employed in allowing Harold to make the loss good. The waiter should have been brought before the bar of justice first, Judge Kerr said.

Must Have Battled.

Jack Hess, teamster, peered through two swollen and discolored eyes Tuesday morning. He had been the victim of the strength of three police officers when he resisted arrest on Monday night.

Hess had caused a disturbance at the corner of Fairmount avenue and Wells street, shortly before 10 o'clock. In a melee he had hit Knute Miller, who is deaf, with a piece of iron. Miller lay by the sidewalk when the police arrived. He was taken to the St. Joseph hospital and revived. Later he was taken to the city jail.

Hess battled the police, the officers testified. He was fined $3 and costs.

Must you stop work to scratch?

Resinol

That itching, burning skin-trouble which keeps you scratching and digging, is a source of disgust to others, as well as of torment to you. Why don't you get rid of it by using Resinol Ointment? Physicians have prescribed it for many years. In most cases, it stops itching instantly and heals eruptions promptly. It is very easy and economical to use. Acts even more promptly if aided by Resinol Soap.

Resinol Ointment is so nearly flesh-colored that it can be used on exposed surfaces without attracting undue attention. Contains nothing that could irritate the tenderest skin. It comes in two sizes (50c and $1), never in bulk. All drugists sell Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. You'd better try them!

HOW TO SERVE WILL BE THEME TONIGHT

Patriotism Will Be Keynote of First Meeting in District.

The initial meeting in the Fort Wayne district comprising Allen, Whitley, Huntington and Wells counties, will be held this Tuesday night at the court house assembly room for the purpose of expounding patriotic questions. Judge J. W. Eggman will preside and he has urged a large attendance, particularly of parents of young men who are in the service of their country. The meeting and others throughout the state are under the auspices of the State Defense Council.

Three speakers will be heard at the meeting. They are: Fred I. King, of Wabash; Herman Wilkie, of Elwood, and Byron Somers, of this city. All of these men have established a reputation as public speakers and as being leading thinkers in their communities on political and patriotic subjects. They are coming here as a part of the plan of the state and county councils of defense to arouse the people to the causes at stake and the prosecution of the war. It is probable also that Red Cross work and the Liberty loan will come in for a full share of attention of the speakers.

The speakers in the meeting here are also scheduled to talk at Columbia City, Huntington and Bluffton.

John B. Archer to LEAD 35,000 MEN

Well Known Musician Will

Be at Battle Creek Cantonment.

The hundreds of friends of John B. Archer, in this city, will be interested in knowing of his part in the service of his country which the following clipping from the North Adams, Mass. Herald explains:

"John B. Archer, of this city and Providence, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Archer, of Blackinton, has been selected by the United States war department commission on training camp activities to lead in singing at the big national cantonment at Battle Creek, Mich., and will leave shortly for that city to take up his new duties. Mr. Archer will have direct charge of the singing of 35,000 or more men, and while of course it will be necessary to make a start with a small contingent, the present plan of those interested is to have every man in camp take part in the singing after the work is once established.

"The war department stands back of the idea, for it is realized that the happy, singing soldier is the best soldier, and not only will he be sustained through the trying period of the war by reason of his songs, but when peace is once more restored on earth, these soldiers gathered from every village, town and city in the United States will carry back with them ideas of the benefit of song, and will assist in developing the community song spirit all over the country.

"A song leader will be appointed for every one of the big cantonments in the country, and also at the naval training stations. Mr. Archer could have taken the Newport school, had he so desired, and this would have been much more convenient as he makes his home a goodly portion of the time in Providence, but the Battle Creek offer gives better chances, the field being much larger.

"A uniform book is now being prepared by the commission, and this will be used in all the cantonments. Instead of light and silly songs, something much more substantial and patriotic will be secured, and these will be taught the soldiers. It is expected that song leaders will be developed in each camp, so that when the men go across to France they will take their song leaders with them, thus keeping up the work which will be so well started in this country."

Ruth Gordon in "Seventeen" Wednesday and Thursday.

Ruth Gordon, whom Stuart Walker is engaging for Lola Pratt role in "Seventeen," the new comedy, made from the Booth Tarkington book of that name, and which will be seen at the Majestic Wednesday and Thursday evenings, is actually only a few years older than the character she is to represent. Only nineteen years ago Miss Gordon was born in Boston and four years ago she decided upon a stage career. Her first engagement was with Maude Adams for "The Little Minister" and "Peter Pan," in which she played Nibs and Lily. Then followed a season of stock and a summer of motion pictures. Last season she fell heir to the Madge Kennedy role in "Fair and Warmer."

DESCRIBES HER BEST AFTERNOON GOWN

Written for the Daily Sentinel

("Best Dressed Woman on the Stage.")

This street costume, which I use for dress occasions in the afternoon, is in the French style. The skirt consists of four panels of green satin, the side panels starting only at the hip and exposing the white chiffon foundation up to the waist line at the sides, as well as at the spaces between the green panels. The crush girdle is of the same green satin, as is also the small pointed bib-effect which emerges just above the girdle. The blouse is made of white chiffon matching the foundation of the skirt and is simply made with a deep laydown collar. There are leg-of-mutton sleeves with deep cuffs, which are finished off by white chiffon frills, drooping over the hand.

There are three ornaments fashioned of green and white beads which adorn the vest. The two small ornaments are suspended by a triangular shaped piece from the lower edges of the bib, while the larger ornament hangs directly from the left side of the girdle and is finished off with ropes of beads. The costume is completed by a large long-handled parasol and a white sailor hat of broad-brim variety which is made of green satin-faced with double folds of white chiffon. There is a somewhat unique ornament on the hat in the shape of a key which pierces the crown. I call this my "French Key to Victory." I wear with this costume white shoes and stockings.

This is my favorite afternoon gown because of the color, green, which in French is the color for "Hope," and because the costume is very plain, while at the same time highly decorative.

When you return from work on a hot September evening you have little inclination to brush and massage your scalp.

You feel much more inclined to go to bed without even so much as braiding your hair for the night.

But don't do it, girls. Nothing shows inattention so quickly as hair that is not properly cared for.

It can lose its gloss and become frosty looking, dry and matty before you realize that you are really neglecting it.

The heat has a most pernicious effect on it always.

The first place that you begin to perspire is at the roots of the hair. Most of you will find that the hair close to your head is wet the greater part of the day in this hot weather.

Butter Is Needed Fat In Dietary for Child

Without some property which exists in butter or in the fat of milk a child can not grow properly. Scientists do not yet quite understand what that property is. It exists; that is as far as they have got.

In the present high price of foods there is danger that many children will be stunted unless their parents take the precaution to inform themselves regarding food values. Even though the stomach is filled, that is no sign that the body is getting all of the food elements necessary to its welfare.

All the straight fats and oils have about equal food value—butter, olive oil, cottonseed oil, beef or pork fat, etc.—reckoning the total food units that they contain per pound.

But butter has what the others have, plus that mysterious something that promotes growth. So that oils and other fats, while perfectly healthful for adults as substitutes for butter, will not do for growing children, unless they take a good quantity of whole milk. Skim milk will not do for this purpose, for it contains none of the butter fat.

It has been known for many years that growth and maintenance of tissue, fat and carbohydrate (starch and sugar) for fuel and energy, and inorganic salts for "balance." Certain amounts of these food elements are extracted from food by the body and utilized.

Yet when the same amount and kinds of these food elements, in a sci-

Patriotism in Gowns Means Good Taste, Too

A great deal has been said on the subject of American women being patriotic in the buying and planning of their clothes. Some say buy little; some say buy much. The fact remains that the manufacture of women's clothes plays an enormous part in the business of the country, and that if women hoard their money in this respect they are going to precipitate a great deal of suffering among the workers that might otherwise be averted by their help.

The government needs all the dark blue and olive drab woolen material it can gather together, and therefore it stands to reason that women shouldn't try to make these colors fashionable at the present moment. There seems no immediate prospect of their doing so. The smartest color today is brown, in every possible shade and tone.

Woman's patriotism may have something to do with her increasing independence in the matter of clothes. She no longer submits to a complete change in cut and line every six months. It is a fact undeniable that she has demanded planer and more comfortable clothes—not that Paris has told her to wear this sort; not that the war has put the pall of somberness upon her soul. Her clothes are not somber, nor sad, nor plain. They are simply sensible, and that they will be from now on—or the signs of the times are to be distrusted. This does not mean, as some cynics would have you believe, that women's clothes will not be beautiful. It means that she refuses absolutely to be a party to any freakishness deliberately planned by some remote person with an eye only to his own account.

ALWAYS KEEP OPEN THE BEDROOM WINDOW

In almost every home the necessity of keeping the bedroom window open at night is a recognized truth. But many housekeepers forget or do not know that it is just as important to keep the windows in the sleeping rooms open for an hour every morning after rising.

On cleaning day once a week, the windows should be kept open as long as the cleaning is being done. This gives the rooms the proper airing when unoccupied.

ANTO TURNS OVER. Two Bluffton Boys in Accident on Country Road.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 25.—Ernest Hurt and Grant Johnson, two grade school boys, luckily escaped serious injury Sunday evening en route home from Fort Wayne, when their auto turned over in the road three miles north of the city. They escaped with only a few bruises.

The boys had rented a 5-passenger Ford car from the Seabold livery and were driving rapidly. The machine began swerving and is said to have struck a culvert. The boys were thrown into the air and across the traction line tracks as the machine turned over. They were able to come alone to the city to report the accident to Mr. Seabold, who is making arrangements for the repair of the auto. The body of the machine was badly damaged and it will be necessary to get a new one.

Why Hair Falls Out. Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Dandrin at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub well into the scalp. After a few applications all dandruff disappears and the hair stops coming out. Advertisement.

GAS, HEARTBURN, INDIGESTION OR A SICK STOMACH

"Pape's Diapiesin" Relieves Stomach Distress in Five Minutes.

Time it! Pape's Diapiesin will sweeten a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach within five minutes. If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is usually a sign of acidity of the stomach. Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent box of Pape's Diapiesin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches or dizziness. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors. Pape's Diapiesin helps to neutralize the excessive acid in the stomach which is causing the food fermentation and preventing proper digestion. Relief in five minutes is waiting for you at any drug store. These large fifty-cent boxes contain enough "Pape's Diapiesin" to usually keep the entire family free from stomach acidity and its symptoms of indigestion, dyspepsia, sourness, gases, heartburn, and headache, for many months. It belongs in your home.—Advertisement.

This comes as good news to the people of Bluffton and shows that the greatest consideration was given the city's side of the case when it was presented to the war department by Mayor Mock and Superintendent C. NORMAN ASSISTED IN HUNT FOR LOST MONEY

All the Time He Knew He Had Given the Coin to His Wife.

Norman E. Weaver, 26 years old, who lives near the soap factory, took employment with the Indiana Furniture company Monday. He aided Elder Sherrick in making deliveries with the big truck. Sherrick missed $30, which he had carried in his hip pocket, when the men quit work at noon Monday. He told Weaver of his loss. Weaver helped hunt for the money. He hurried back from lunch and assisted in moving boxes and turning boards in an effort to locate the coin. Detective Sergeant William F. Papert was called to aid in the hunt. He suspected Weaver. He learned that Weaver had bought several pounds of meat when the man had represented himself as being penniless a few hours before. Weaver is claimed to have confessed Tuesday noon that he took the money and that he had deposited the sum with his wife before he helped in the search. The detective was able to recover $16.50 of the amount from Mrs. Weaver, it is stated.

INVITATION SENT TO THE VICE PRESIDENT

He is Asked to Attend City Garden Fair to Be Held in October.

An invitation was telegraphed to Vice President Thomas R. Marshall at Washington, Tuesday, by M. Costello, who is in charge of the local food relief work, to be present at the City Garden Fair beginning October 1.

Owing to the fact that F. W. Gray, formerly local food relief director and garden expert, has gone into the army, plans have been delayed in getting up exhibits for the fair. The fair, which it is hoped to have produce grown on city lots exhibited, will be held at League park.

Whether their vice president can come here for the fair will largely determine the success of the occasion and it is felt that owing to the fact that the food director has been called into the service that it may not be feasible to hold the fair at this time. However, it is believed if Mr. Marshall accepts the invitation more interest will be aroused in the project.

OPEN AIR SCHOOL

IS TO BE MOVED

Another Attempt to Sell High School Gymnasium Bonds Fails.

The open air school now located on West Jerry street will be moved into the house occupied by Dr. A. G. Emrick on Rivermet avenue, near the Lakeside school. This was decided upon at a meeting of the school board Monday evening. Dr. Emrick will vacate the house at once. The change was made by the board so that the school may be brought under the direct supervision of the regularly organized teaching force of the city schools.

Another unsuccessful effort was made to sell the $40,000 issue of bonds for the new high school gymnasium by A. L. Randall, president of the school board, at Indianapolis, Monday. The bonds bear only 4 per cent interest.

Instructions have been mailed to all principals ordering fire drills in each of the schools at regular intervals.

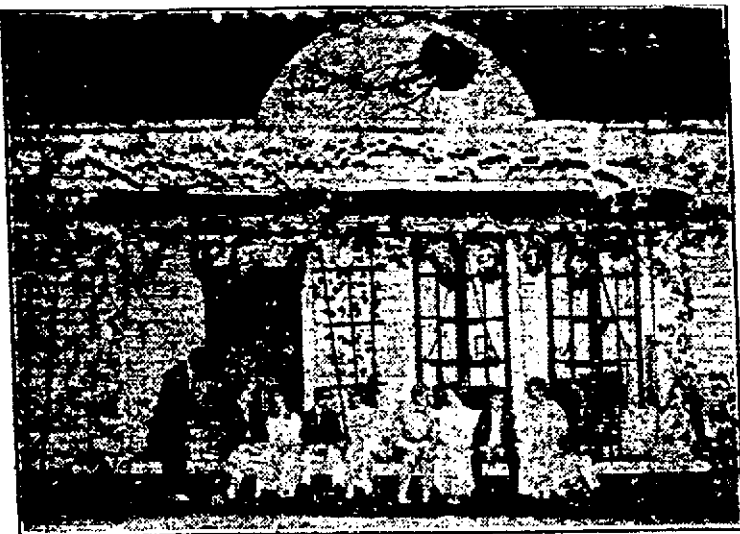

An address on military training will be given at the high school building Thursday evening by a representative of the State Council of Defense.

Giants Win Final Game In National League Pennant Race

New York Victorious for Eighth Time in History.

The White Sox will meet the Giants for the world's championship. Of course, most fans have known that fact for some time, but not until yesterday, when the Giants defeated St. Louis, was it absolutely certain that New York would represent the National league. Now, even if the Giants lose their remaining nine games, the Phillies cannot overtake them by winning their nine contests.

This is the eighth National league flag won by New York and the sixth for Manager McGraw. It is a peculiar situation, that although the Giants were conceded the pennant before the season started and the Sox were expected to have a hard fight, Chicago clinched the American league pennant four days before the Giants did the same in the National.

There is nothing sensational or surprising in the news that the Giants are the flag winners of 1917 in the National. Last fall when McGraw had strengthened his club by the addition of Heinie Zimmerman, of the Cubs, and Charles Herzog, of the Reds, the club went out and broke all records by annexing twenty-six consecutive victories. Right then and there everybody in the land who knows baseball at all realized that the Giants were stronger at that time than the National league entry in the 1916 world's series, the Brooklyn Dodgers, who succumbed rather easily to the Boston Red Sox in the annual October classic.

This spring every critic, manager, player and fan in the country predicted that the Giants would win in a romp, which they have done. Though pushed surprisingly hard by the Cubs and Phillies in the early weeks of the race there was never a serious doubt about the outcome. Wise ones knew that the Cubs did not have pennant winning material and that their early spurt was but a flash in the pan. Some hoped the Phillies, flag winners in 1915, would come through with the aid of Alexander's pitching, but they never had a real chance. McGraw had a great machine and it steadily battered down all opposition once it struck its actual stride. The Cubs went to the front on May 16 and led for almost a week. The Phils were tied with the Giants June 7, led again on June 8 and June 25. On June 27 the Giants went to the top never to be headed. From then on it was a procession. A peculiar thing about the figures on the National league marathon is that the Giants were on top on the 1st and 15th of every month, dates from which major league races usually are reviewed, from May to October. October is not here yet, but its a cinch now the McGraws will lead on Oct. 1.

SCHOOL OPENING SEES PURDUE STOCK RISE

Morning Practice Scheduled for Boilermakers by Coach O'Donnell.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 25.—Nearly all of the candidates for the Purdue varsity football team reported to Coach O'Donnell yesterday and some hard work will be done this week on Stuart field to prepare for the opening of the gridiron season Oct. 6.

The practice last week was very light, only a few of the varsity men being on hand. The university does not open until Wednesday and it was difficult to get the football men here much before that date. However, it was expected that today or tomorrow all the candidates would be here. Several are still on the doubtful list, having conditions to remove. This includes Spencer, the big 200-pound sophomore guard, who is counted upon to take Purdue's place in the forward wall; McDonald, a sophomore end, and Mize, another end. If these men should be lost to the team the effect would be disastrous. Purdue has barely enough candidates to make up one varsity eleven. Substitutes will be very scarce both in the line and the back field, but particularly in the back field.

Coach O'Donnell sprung an innovation today when he inaugurated morning practice. The football men assembled on Stuart field this morning and went through a strenuous period of drill. Tomorrow there will be another practice period in the morning. The usual afternoon practice was held today and will be held tomorrow also. After tomorrow the candidates for the Purdue varsity O'Donnell expects to begin team work drill within a few days. The Franklin game on Oct. 6 is less than two weeks off, and there is no time to lose.

GLOOM AT DEPAUW.
Greencastle, Ind., Sept. 25.—Yesterday was a gloomy day for Coach Buss and Depauw football enthusiasts, as but few of the veterans were able to appear in suits. Smith was out with a bad knee that may take a week to get back in shape. Wheat sprained his foot and is scarcely able to stand on it, while Cook, last year's varsity half, is being troubled with a bad neck.

INJURIES CUT DOWN ALREADY POOR CHANCES

Jumbo Stiehm Has Hard Sledding—Play Franklin Saturday.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 25.—Old Doc Jinx is still on the trail of the Crimson football squad. With barely enough men to face Franklin next Saturday, Coach Jumbo Stiehm faces less of Ingles, varsity tackle, and a mainstay of the Crimson line. Ingles' right hand was swollen to twice normal size today as a result of injuries received in scrimmage Friday and Saturday. Unless the hand shows unexpected improvement, Ingles will not be in the lineup on Jordan field next Saturday. Physicians took four X-ray photographs of the injured member Saturday.

Wilson, with comparatively little experience and weighing only 160 pounds, took Ingles' place at right tackle when the regular was forced from the practice game. Wilson, though a fighter, is too light for the line. Ingles' injury may force Coach Stiehm to shift Kever, who is holding down the right halfback position to the line, giving Heuring a berth in the back field. Von Tress at right guard, showed a decided improvement in play Saturday, and he may keep his place at right guard provided Ewert holds to his determination not to return to Indiana.

RAINING WHEN BOYS ARRIVED

Many Fort Wayne Men in Low Spirits Upon Entering Camp Taylor.

BUT THEY SOON FORGET ABOUT IT

All Well Pleased With Accommodations and Treatment Accorded Them.

E. F. F. (Staff Correspondent.)

Camp Taylor, Ky., Sept. 25.—Fort Wayne's second contingent of men for the national army arrived at Camp Taylor Friday evening in a slow, cold, drizzling rain.

Many of them were disheartened as they were compelled to march from the chutes to the battalion headquarters under this unpleasant condition. However, through preparedness on the part of the battalion staff officers and through the efficient work of the officers and the men who arrived here on the fifth they were quickly disposed of and conducted to their respective barracks.

On entering their "homes" the men lost all the disheartenedness which had overtaken them. At the barracks they were assigned to bunks. All the bed sacks had been filled and all the equipment had been placed in order on their bunks previous to their arrival. All the men immediately made themselves at home.

To make the men feel more contented the call was sounded that the cook had a steaming hot lunch ready for them and all the men grabbed their mess kits and hurried to the dining room where they were introduced to the "eat army food," "beans." Hot coffee and bread was also served.

On Saturday morning and also on Saturday afternoon the men were taken before the examining officer. The men from the second district took their trip to the infirmary Sunday morning. In addition to being examined the men were also vaccinated and inoculated. The result is that Sunday afternoon found most of the men nursing stiff and sore arms. Many of the Fort Wayne boys became weak in the knees when the doctor injected the anti-typhoid serum. None became seriously sick, however.

Edgell Mess Sergeant. Mess Sergeant Frank Edgell is acting as battalion mess sergeant. He is about the busiest man in the battalion but has won the esteem of all the men. Feeding 280 men is not a small task but Frank has proven himself to be capable of the task. None of the men have complained about the mess since he has taken charge.

All the men who arrived on September 5 and the following four days are acting in the capacity of non-commissioned officers and each one of them has been placed in charge of some of the latest arrivals were taught the foot movements. It has been stated by officials that it is their sincere belief that three months' training will make the Fort Wayne boys the crack soldiers of the entire camp.

Sunday was visitors' day at Camp Taylor and over 6,000 people took advantage of the opportunity. The visitors were conducted through the camp and shown the principal places of interest. All expressed surprise at the speed of organization and the cleanliness of the place and the accommodations which it offered the enlisted men.

Ten people of Fort Wayne were at the camp. Included in the number were Fred Bloemker and Cecil Rohyans.

How to Find Them.

They spent several hours in finding the Fort Wayne men. For the benefit of those from Fort Wayne who at any time wish to come to Camp Taylor the following directions are given: Board a Camp Taylor or Preston street car in Louisville and ride to the camp, alighting from the car at Coko's station. This will place you directly at the road which leads down the battalion headquarters street. The first building on your right upon entering the ground is marked 23rd. Bn. Follow the buildings until you reach the 17th battalion headquarters, marked in plain letters on the front of the building. Inquiry at that office will reveal the headquarters of the Fort Wayne men. Jay county and Adams county men are housed in the same barracks.

Too much stress cannot be laid upon the fact that mail and packages from home work wonders with the men here in training. Nothing is more greatly appreciated than the mail wagon when it drops a letter. Any additional "eats" are entirely welcome.

Adopt New Name.

The Sixty-sixth company, captained by Second Lieutenant O. R. C. P. L. Davidson has dropped the name of the Fighting Sixty-sixth and will hereafter be known as the "Scrappy Sixty-sixth." The reason of the change is noted in the name itself.

The company composed of men from the third district, Fort Wayne, has in addition to the piano secured two pool tables for the use of the men. Other home-like articles will also be installed.

Through the kindness and generosity of Father John Cavanaugh, of Notre Dame university, this company will soon be the recipient of football equipment for twenty men. The company has chosen Elvin C. Blair as captain of the football team and all candidates for places on the team are soon to be called for practice. The Scrappy Sixty-sixth intends to have the crack team of the battalion, regiment and brigade.

Physicians Assigned. Physicians and surgeons have been assigned to each one of the regiments and battalions and cleanliness and sanitation is being exercised. Every precaution is being taken for the safety of the men's health.

Fort Wayne men in general have termed Camp Taylor a summer resort and are enjoying the work to the greatest degree. With this willingness and pleasure displayed for work it is plainly evident that the young men here will do justice to the city of Fort Wayne and return in due time with honors and laurels. Fort Wayne mothers, fathers and sweethearts should be proud of the fact that they have given a man to the service.

Pleased With Officers.

Fort Wayne men are elated over the officers which have been assigned to this battalion. The officers have won the respect and esteem of all.

The regimental surgeon has made the explicit statement that Fort Wayne men who have passed under his eye for examination are without exception the best type of men in the entire regiment. He concludes that the Fort Wayne men with but few exceptions are in the highest grade in regards to physical and mental conditions.

Officers have further made the statement personally that if any commissions are passed out to the men, and it is very likely that commissions will be awarded, that Fort Wayne men will be the first to receive them.

MILITARY NEWS SERGEANT CHENY TO HANDLE RECRUITING

Will Be in Charge of Local Station in Absence of Major Ryan.

Sergeant Cheny has been appointed as the successor to Maj. Thomas F. Ryan, who leaves Monday for Indianapolis, and will be in charge until the return of Sergeant Turner, who will be the permanent recruiting officer.

Major Ryan, who has been in charge of the Fort Wayne district recruiting station since September 23, 1916, has been ordered to take charge of the station at Indianapolis. While Major Ryan's departure will be a matter of much regret to all who knew him or know of his splendid record while at the recruiting station here, his promotion was a deserved one and Fort Wayne will be proud to learn of his advancement. The plan is to abolish the four district stations and combine them all in one at Indianapolis, with Major Ryan in charge.

Major Ryan is spending a busy week packing and preparing for his departure Monday. Recruiting has been good and forty have enlisted Monday and Tuesday. Major Ryan reports that Fort Wayne's engineer unit will be examined Thursday and will leave soon for training at Camp Grant at Rockford, Ill. After a short training period they will leave immediately for France.

Spends Sunday Here. Corporal Urban A. Arnold, a member of the medical corps stationed at Fort Benjamin Harrison, was the guest of his parents here Sunday. Mr. Arnold was formerly a clerk in the Pennsylvania trainmaster's office.

Major Crowder Raises the Lid by Calling Them Into Service.

Aliens who have not been subject to draft and who have not been permitted to enlist will be taken into the army according to orders received by Major Ryan from Provost Marshal Enoch M. Crowder. Major Ryan was ordered to notify twenty-five alien laborers in Michigan City to report at once to the commandant at the Rockford, Ill., training camp.

This decision is thought to settle the alien question and open a way where they may get into the national army. Many have sought to enlist, but have been denied because they were not citizens. The consensus of opinion has been that aliens should not be permitted to remain in this country and receive the benefit of the high wages and positions of those who have gone to war without being made to fight the same as the American born.

ANOTHER CARRIER IS TAKEN FROM SCHOOL

Completion of Cultures Finds Throat Filled With Germs.

A second diphtheria carrier has been removed from the James H. Smart school.

When health officers were completing their cultures in the east end building, Monday, they found that the disease germs were thick in the throat of Fred Selp, aged 7, 2992 Alexander street, pupil in the second grade. The boy is now quarantined in his home.

The Selp had been ailing for several days, but was not critically ill. He had been allowed to return to school by his parents, who did not know that he carried disease cells. He was in line when the completing of cultures were taken.

This case is the second one to bring out the rare condition of a disease carrier, in which the person having the disease symptoms is not sick himself. Both cases of the kind have but who has the power to spread the been in the James H. Smart school.

Health officers now plan to take cultures in all city schools in which there has been a recent show of diphtheria. Tests may also be made to ascertain if any of the children are carriers of other ailments.

ARE BUILDING CABIN.

Giant Oak Will Shelter Lincoln Home Replica.

Hewing of timbers for the replica of the Kentucky cabin here of Abraham Lincoln is going on in Foster park. The large timbers, which have been hauled to the city park, are being cut and shaped for forming the log house that will represent in every detail the southern home of the great president.

The cabin will stand in the southeast part of the main portion of the park, near the entrance. It will be sheltered by a giant oak tree, one of the largest in this section of the state. The cabin will face the roadway, but will be far enough from the drive to allow a picturesque view of the building from the way.

The log cabin will be at least two weeks in the building.

Want More Action.

The board of works sent a letter to the Brooks Construction company, Monday afternoon, asking that immediate attention be given to the completing of the track elevation at Coombs street. The board had made numerous efforts during the past few days to obtain action from the Brooks company. Councilman A. H. Keller, of the Eighth ward, called upon the board Monday and explained that his constituents are growing weary of much waiting on the elevation work.

Place Polution on File.

The petition for sidewalks on Popular street, from Fox avenue to Miner street, was placed on file by the board of works Monday afternoon. Plans for a sewer in the alley south of Rudisill boulevard, from Indiana to South Wayne avenue, were ordered by the board at the regular session. No action was taken on the petition for placing ornamental lights along Florida drive, from Vermont to State boulevard.

Improving Park.

Work of improving Selling park, the triangular strip of land bounded by Warren street, New Haven avenue and Wayne trace, is going on at a rapid rate. Under direction of Park Superintendent Adolph Jaenicke, the land is being graded and sodded. Trees are to be planted in the half acre strip in November. A wading pool will be installed next spring and a drive way laid through the open spot.

Let Curb Contract.

The Moellering Construction company, upon a bid of $433.30, was awarded the contract of building 500 feet of curb and gutter, from the Bluffton road to the Frank Brown property, by the park board, Monday afternoon. Work of installing the curbing will start at once. Grosjean and Roemer bid $487.38 on the same job.

SOLDIER EVANGELIST DEAD.

Somerville, Mass., Sept. 25.—Rev. George W. Pierce, known for many years as the "Soldier-evangelist," died at his home here yesterday. Later he served in the regular army until 1876 when he retired to take up evangelistic work with the late Dwight L. Moody.

President Wilson notified the local committee in charge of the dedication that he would be unable to attend.

MUST HAVE MORE SCRAPS FOR COMFORT PILLOWS

Cotton Materials Are Needed to Finish Emergency Order.

The Red Cross society is bending every effort to furnish five hundred comfort pillows Thursday but in order to do this more cotton material must be received. This is the largest emergency order that the ladies have had and they want to finish it on schedule time so it will be necessary for every one to help and aid the work by turning over all the pieces of new cotton material that they have. Many waste pieces of cotton goods are allowed to be lost or destroyed which might be used to great advantage in this work. Over half of the pillows have been completed but there is much more to be done. Thirty-three new members have joined the Red Cross, but a number of these belonged to the Harlan auxiliary.

At a board meeting of the Red Cross work shop Tuesday morning it was decided to close the work shop on Saturday afternoons. It was also decided to establish an information desk. Mrs. N. D. Dougman will have charge of this bureau.

A. L. McDONALD CALLS

MEETING OF BOYS

Labor Differences Will Be Adjusted He Says.

A meeting of the boys who worked in the union fields of a farmer near Columbia City, will be held this afternoon at the Utility building at 5:30 o'clock. The meeting has been called by A. L. McDonald, city director of the United States Boys' Working Reserve. Some differences have arisen over the price paid for labor by the farmer and these will be settled, according to McDonald. The boys who went to work on the farm did so at the urgent request for help at the time of a recent frost which threatened the onion crop.

Isaac D. Strauss, of Indianapolis, state director of the Boys' Working Reserve, is in the city in the interest of the reserve. All boys, it is stated, who have applied for enrollment in the Working Reserve and have failed to return their cards, will be liable to the federal authorities.

VOTING IN MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston, Sept. 25.—Republican voters went to the polls in the state primaries today to decide whether Governor Samuel W. McCall should be renominated for a third term. His opponent was Grafton D. PULL IN DOUBLE HARNESS IN THE UNITED STATES CAMPS

Red-Blooded Y. M. C. A.

Tames War and Makes Religion Humanly Practical and Appealing to Our Boys "Over There" and Uncle Sam's Soldiers Swear by It and Are Made Better.

BY C. C. LYON. (Staff Special.)

With the American Troops in France, Sept. 25.—The American Y. M. C. A. over here is a mighty helpful organization. Also mighty human.

The boys in khaki all swear by it—not at all.

The Y. M. C. A. is dominated by young, red-blooded Americans who know how to get next to soldiers and stay next.

There has been a marked improvement in the moral atmosphere of the American camp since the Y. M. C. A. got under full steam, yet the soldiers themselves wouldn't be able to explain it.

The other day word came that a contingent from America would arrive and a couple of Y. M. C. A. secretaries were dispatched to meet the ship.

One, the older, had recently left the ministry for army Y. M. C. A. work. The other was a former Wyoming cow-puncher who got religion a year or two ago.

They stood on the dock waiting for the Americans.

"Now the first thing," said the preacher, "is to organize our Bible classes and get our prayer meetings going."

"Nix on that stuff, parson," replied the cow-puncher. "The first thing we've got to do with this crowd of he-soldiers is to fill their bellies with candy and decoy them into our circus tent to write letters to their mothers and sweethearts."

"Get the photographs going and the soft drinks flowing and your Bible classes will follow."

The cow-puncher represents the spirit of the Y. M. C. A. in France.

The prime object is to benefit young men in mind, body and soul.

You can't get a soldier's soul until you have done something for his mind and body.

READY FOR BIG DRIVE

$5,000 Campaign for Soldiers' Books Starts Wednesday Morning.

WILL GET ENTIRE QUOTA IN TWO DAYS

Others Cities Will Require Full Week to Solicit Their Share.

Fort Wayne is to take only two days to secure the $2,000 as its share of the $1,000,000 war library fund while other cities throughout the country are taking the entire week to fill their quotas.

Campaign director Henry Beadell has the assurance of the captains of the sixteen teams of workers who will solicit the funds that they may be counted on to secure the entire $5,000 between tomorrow morning and Thursday night.

The War Library Fund campaign will not follow the same lines as previous drives of a similar nature were conducted on, inasmuch as pledges are to be eliminated and all subscriptions will be made in cash. Mr. Beadell also points that this drive will probably not be as extensive as other campaigns.

"Owing to the whirlwind nature of this campaign," he says, "no doubt many relatives and friends of boys in khaki will not be solicited, and therefore, we want to urge everyone not to await the call of a solicitor, but to send in their subscription voluntarily." Such subscriptions may be addressed to W. H. Shambaugh as treasurer of the Fort Wayne War Library Fund.

Books Are Enjoyed.

It is said that no one who is not actually in touch with the situation can appreciate how much the Sammies in the national cantonments and in the trenches desire the books which this campaign is to supply. In a letter to his father one soldier says: "We read of course. But there never could be a library here big enough to keep us going. We can do with all sorts of books, but I don't think the ordinary sensational novel is quite the catch it was for a lot them in peace time. Some break towards serious reading, in the oddest fashion. I used to imagine that reading was meant to be a stimulant, but here it has been an anodyne."

Officers who have visited the trenches in France report that homesickness, dissipation, and other influences which seriously lower the morale of the troops can best be avoided, by supplying our soldiers with the proper kind of reading matter that the funds raised in this campaign will furnish.

The Lady Moose will give a pedro party Wednesday afternoon in Moose hall. The public is invited.

Have the Best of TOMATO ARGUMENT

In the injunction suit between farmers of Pierceton and the Reid, Murdoch & Co., which was to have been decided in Pierceton, Monday, the canning company failed to put in an appearance. The court ordered that costs be assessed against the Chicago firm.

Police Officers Charles Eisenhut, John Harris and George Eisenhut were witnesses in the case. They were accompanied to Pierceton by Judge H. W. Kerr, on Monday. They will ask that the Reid, Murdoch & Co., whose employees took fourteen bushels of tomatoes from the policemen a week ago, make good the loss to the officers.

ORMSBY DOES WELL IN RACES AT ANDERSON

Local Boy Captures Big Event, Competing With Armentrout.

Driving in a program of races similar to that given here at Centerville park several weeks ago, Ralph Ormsby, the local speed merchant in a Hudson Super-Six, captured the main event of the afternoon in the Anderson races Saturday.

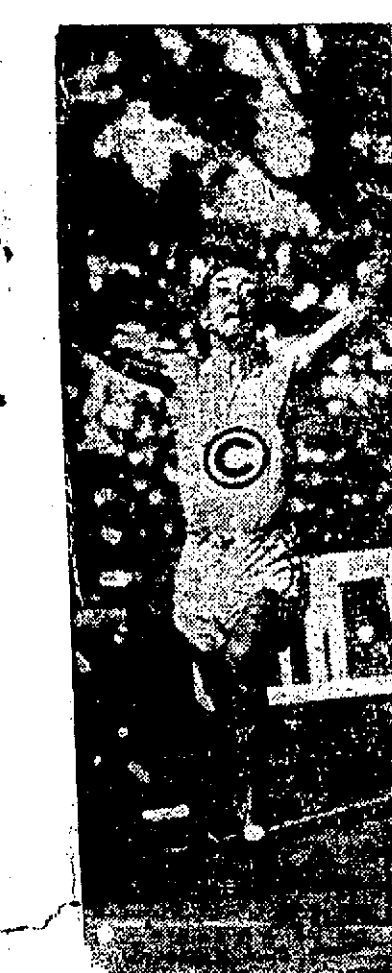

Ormsby beat out Dale Armentrout and several other drivers whose reputations are known here. He was given credit for making a game race in each event entered and showed more nerve than some of the other drivers in passing cars on turns.

The Automobile Racing association had scheduled a meet at Muncie for last Sunday, but the Delaware county prosecutor stepped in and called it off. The meet there will be held Saturday, September 29, instead.

BOWLERS WILL MEET.

Jack Collins Gets Three Hits But Ruth Stops Others.

Boston, Sept. 25.—Babe Ruth's good left arm and frigid climatic condition proved too great a handicap to the new champions and they dropped the final tilt of the series to the Red Sox 3 to 0. At no time during the contest did the Rowdies get warmed up to the situation, although they nicked the expert left-hander for nine widely scattered wallops. The outstanding feature of the champs' play was the hitting of Jack Collins, who peeled off a single and a pair of smart doubles. The score:

WITH THE WHITE SOX—

The White Sox aren't themselves this year.

It has taken the Sox just eleven years years to recover from their last world series.

We believe "Pants" Rowland was the only American league manager whose spring prediction came true.

Nobody can appreciate the joy of nursing and coaxing a century plant until it blooms, more than Comiskey.

Wonder how it feels to be a south sider and realize the Sox aren't playing jazz baseball this season?

Lost—somewhere between April and October on the Ban Johnson circuit, a phrase, "Hitless wonders." No reward is offered for its return. Finders, keepers.

AMERICAN RED CROSS RECLAIMING FRANCE

A Land Swept Desolate by Prussian Ruthlessness Must Be Helped.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 25.—H. P. Davison, chairman of the Red Cross war council, announces the receipt of the following cable from the Red Cross commission to France:

"Along that desolate path of ruin behind the French and British lines from Belgium to Switzerland, the American Red Cross work of relief and economic rehabilitation under Edward Byrnes Hunt, chief of the bureau, has rapidly taken shape. As turning refugees and repatriates have earth under them and sky over them—that is all. The land has been swept clean.

Twentieth century Frenchmen have to begin again where North American Indians would begin—by hunting for food, temporary shelter, a few clothes to cover them, a handful of household goods and utensils such as pots, pans, knives and spoons, an agricultural implement or two and perhaps a rabbit and some chickens, and, if they are very lucky, a goat or a donkey.

"It is to help such people as these that the American Red Cross has located its relief warehouses at strategic points just behind the lines, such as Soissons, Noyon, Ham and Peronne, and is shipping in food, clothes, blankets, beds, mattresses, stoves, kitchen utensils, rasps and binders, mowing machines, threshing machines, garden tools and hundreds of other articles of prime importance to people who were prosperous and contented only three years ago. The service of relief and economic rehabilitation has divided its field into six districts:

Ten cars of machinery from the local Dicks-Pontius sealing wax factory are being shipped this week to the main factory at Dayton, Ohio. The factory here was dismantled because of the fact that Thomas P. Pontius, secretary of the Dicks-Pontius concern, and manager of the local branch, is away at war. The machinery and equipment at the local plant will be used at the main plant in Dayton, where Jerry Hapner, foreman of the plant in Columbia City, goes Wednesday to work. Another factory or industry may be housed in the site of the sealing wax factory, owned by the Pontius heirs.

(By Paul Furman, the Daily Sentinel Sporting Expert.)
(Copyright, 1917, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

What is the "shine ball"? What will it mean in the world series? Will Eddie Cicotte be able to fool the cream of the National league with something American league players claim he has fooled "Ban" Johnson with all this season, helping the Sox to cop the American league pennant? Or—is the "shine ball" a myth?

I am going to tell you what Eddie Cicotte says about it himself. Eddie is given credit with being the inventor and the originator of this delivery which astute batters of the American league declare has resurrected him from an early trip to the bushes.

Here is the story of Cicotte on his work: "The talk about the 'shine ball' this year has probably had a great deal to do with making one of the leading pitchers in the American league. I can state truthfully that the talk has done me more good than any so-called 'shine ball.'"

"It was merely a matter of psychology. I outguessed the other fellow."

"So long as the batters in the league felt that they were battling against something they knew nothing about I had an advantage."

"That is really the success of the 'shine ball.' So long as Speaker, Chapman, Baker, Pipp and other heavy hitters of the league thought I was feeding them something 'phony' I had something on them. It is the same proposition that beat Terry McGovern in his famous fight against Young Corbett. Corbett was not the better man, but he made McGovern think he was.

"I have been accused of everything but murder this year. They have said I used talcum powder, lice and a number of other things on the ball, but they have never found a single instance in which they could really get the goods on me."

"My uniform has been stolen from the clubhouse on several occasions. Some of the ball players found out I wore a rubber pocket in the trousers of my uniform and immediately started a howl about it."

"That was mighty fine stuff for publicity, but the very fellows who did most of the talking about the rubber pocket knew that practically every pitcher in the league wears a rubber pocket, which was invented by Ed Walsh, who used to carry a slippery elm tablet in it to help his spit ball pitching."

"The fact is I cannot chew lice. It is nauseating to me. I will say to you that I do not use talcum powder or any of the other artificial aids I have been accused of using on the ball, but, as I said before the secret of this 'shine ball' has not been material. It has been psychological."

"The main benefits I have derived have been from letting the other players, who have batted against me, do most of the talking, while I kept still and kept on working, as I have worked since I have been in this league."

HEALTH OFFICERS AND THE DAIRYMEN

Dr. Barnard Points Need of Greater Co-Operation of Them.

Indianapolis, Sept. 25.—The need for greater co-operation between public health officers and dairymen is explained by Dr. H. F. Barnard, state food and drug commissioner, in a statement issued today. Dr. Barnard explains that the business of the health officer is not to put the dairyman out of business through the demands for the most careful handling of milk but that the health officers' duty is solely to insure the best of milk to safeguard the health of the public, especially the health of children.

In his statement Dr. Barnard says: "Health officers have always been interested in milk supplies. Once as the farmer saw it, their chief concern seemed to be to put the dairyman out of business. Of course that was not true—all the health department wanted was good milk. But now they are more interested in milk than ever for they are alarmed at the scarcity of milk and see in the disappearance of the dairy cow a menace to the health of growing children."

"Every increase in the cost of milk at the farm or at the consumer's door cuts down the use of milk, and the first cut is made in the families of the poorer classes whose children can ill afford to go without the milk that is absolutely necessary to their health. The health officer would have every family use more milk instead of less. He would repeat the advice of Dr. Graham Lusk, who says, 'Every family of five has no right to eat meat until it had used three quarts of milk a day.'"

"The state board of health last spring foresaw the coming milk scarcity and passed a rule effective January 1, 1918, which puts into effect the ideal milk regulations that are in force in Massachusetts, New York and California, and in many cities which so far are not suffering from a diminished milk supply. The health board realizes that bad milk is quite as great a danger as too little milk. It could not afford to say to the dairyman whose barns were poor, 'you are not equipped to produce good milk. Go out of business.' It could not say, 'bovine tuberculosis is a terrible menace to health; kill your cows before they kill children.' So it said to the dairyman, 'Make your milk safe by pasteurizing it before delivery. They shall know it will do its great duty as the one essential food without injuring the health of children or causing, as in the past, much of the deplorable waste in little lives.' Infant mortality tables and bad milk have a direct connection. Now with all market milk pasteurized, this connection is broken and the dairyman absolved from the horrid charge so often laid at his door by the mourning parents."

To Be First Girl Page in Congress

CECILIA MARTIN.

(Staff Special.) Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—The first girl page in congress—that's the goal of Cecilia Martin, 14-year-old Washington lassie, backed for the job by Miss Jeannette Rankin, first woman congressman, and Representative Clyde Kelly, representing the district including Cecilia's former home, Swisshaven, Pa.

Even if circumstances prevent Cecilia from attaining this ambition she had already qualified as the youngest and sharpest little lobbyist Washington ever saw. She has amazed house office building employees with her shrewdness and energy in lining up support.

"There's a woman in congress now," Cecilia says, "and there'll soon be more. So why not girl pages? The women congressmen will need them."

"I want to study law later, and I think the house job will help me a lot."

Does Cecilia understand the perils of politics and is she fitted to cope with them? Listen:

"Miss Rankin has told me she would do all she could for me, but she's a republican, but she can't help much when the democrats are in control. But Mr. Kelly is a democrat."

The girl's father is a steel shop foreman.

SCHWIER PLANS NEW FEATURES FOR LOAN Chairman of County Outside of Fort Wayne Calls Meeting.

A call has been sent to trustees, assessors and other county and township officers in the Allen county area outside of Fort Wayne by W. C. Schwier, liberty loan campaign chairman for that district, for a meeting at the court house Saturday, September 23, at 1:30 p. m. The purpose of the meeting is to arrange matters concerning the big October liberty loan drive. Mr. Schwier in a statement Tuesday declared that the success in the county of the liberty loan depends largely upon all officials. Mr. Schwier will name the trustees and assessors with the advisory boards of each township to select twenty more from each township to boost the loan in the concerted drive October 23, 24, 25, 26. The work in each township will be up to men in that township and no persons will be sent out from Fort Wayne or other cities to aid in the campaign. It is planned to put the work squarely upon the townships themselves. Four towns, however, Monroeville, New Haven, Harlan and Gracill, will have their own organizations independent of those in the townships located. A new feature of the campaign as planned by Mr. Schwier will be the assistance asked from ministers.

Washington, Sept. 25.—Early revision upward of coal prices in a number of outlying districts will be made by the fuel administration. The scale of prices recently fixed, it has been found, will not permit operators in some states to run their mines at a profit. This is particularly true in some parts of the south and west, where coal runs in thin veins. The revision will be accomplished by classifying the entire districts con-be continued. The bombing over this town continued for about two hours at intervals, but so far as could be learned, only three bombs were dropped and apparently there was no great property damage.

Reports from Yorkshire indicate that the Zeppelins which appeared early this morning off the Lincolnshire and Yorkshire coasts dropped bombs and aerial torpedoes. The amount of damage has not been ascertained. The signal that all was clear was given about 5 o'clock this morning. According to the official announcement the raiders came in different places in Kent and Essex. A few of them followed the Thames river and attacked London.

Bombs were dropped at several points. The casualties so far reported are six persons killed and about twenty injured.

British airmen engaged the raiders but with what result is not yet known. The Germans used a number of aerial torpedoes. The German planes appeared over the southeastern district of London soon after 8 o'clock and the engagement lasted until nearly 9:30 o'clock. The raiders were scattered and did not come in compact formation. Many star shells were used by the defense guns, giving the appearance of spectacular fireworks. The scream of the torpedoes used by the Germans was distinguishable easily from the explosions of guns or bombs. The people of London behaved well. They followed police instructions for taking cover and there was no panic. German Zeppelins also appeared across the coast of Yorkshire and Lincolnshire. The result of their visit has not yet been learned.

Settlement of the strike is still in the hands of the yard officials. The navy department has not been called upon as yet to intervene in any way. Details as to the demands of the striking trades are lacking here, it is said. Secretary Daniels indicated that he still hoped for an early agreement. He has taken no steps as yet to send representatives to Norfolk.

Nagasaki, Japan, Sept. 5.—(By mail.)—Manuel Neumeier, a bandsman attached to the Thirtieth United States infantry, has been sentenced to three years' imprisonment and fined 3,000 yen after conviction on the charge of inflicting fatal injuries on a Japanese tradesman.

The complaint admitted that the complainant admitted that the occurred during intoxication. In escaping from the police Neumeier is said to have knocked over a toilet powder manufacturer. It was alleged that the Japanese was kicked and that he received internal injuries from which he died five hours later.

The public prosecutor recommended imprisonment for ten years. The fine was imposed in connection with a civil suit instituted by the family of the victim.

The British front has quieted down from the state of marked activity prevailing for a week or more. Nevertheless there is a great deal of artillery work in progress, notably in Flanders, and London mentions especially the energy being displayed by the Germans north and east of Ypres. TOMORROW TO BRING STILL LARGER CROWDS

Today's Sentinel Contains Many Attractive Suburban Day "Specials."

TOMORROW'S SPECIALS.

The columns of The Sentinel today contain much good news not only to the people from the nearby cities, towns and farming communities, but to the town people as well. In these times of conservative buying, while still keeping the volume of traded up to normal, the merchants of Fort Wayne exhibit a most liberal willingness to do their part. The Suburban Day Specials deserve the most careful attention of every reader of The Sentinel.

The pages of The Sentinel today are crowded with Suburban Day "Specials" for tomorrow's buyers. The issuing of these "invitations" is one of the ways in which Fort Wayne seeks at this time to extend the glad hand to the thousands of people of the nearby cities, towns and farming communities who look upon this city as the logical center of trade.

But the element of trading is only a part of the Fort Wayne idea. The members of the local association hope, through this means, to make Fort

Wayne the common center of meeting for all purposes. Never before has the community spirit manifested its power. One strong lesson of the war period is the value of united effort. Never before have the rural and city communities found themselves so closely bound in sympathetic interests, and this fact has been especially shown in matters pertaining to the conservation of means and keeping the channels of trade open, by making careful purchases without in any way curtailing the volume of business done. This result is best obtained when merchant and patron are well acquainted. Every one likes to trade in the store where he feels the salespeople and the proprietor are his friends. A feeling of confidence which comes through the frequent meeting of the dealer and the patron is the firmest foundation of the best service, and this means satisfaction in every sense of the word. Such relationships as these are to be made in Fort Wayne down through the succeeding weeks and months of the Suburban day plan. The merchants are giving special attention to implanting the idea in the minds of the salespeople that the one great object of the trade day is to make new and lasting friendships with those who favor them with their patronage. It is on this firm basis that the day will grow into its real place in the development of Fort Wayne as a trade center.

And now for tomorrow—Fort Wayne's second big Suburban Day!

SUES TWO MEN FOR DIVORCE SAME DAY

"Sunshine" Shirley, Now 19, Done With Males and Wants Her Ma.

(Staff Special.)

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 25.—Mrs. "Sunshine" Savage Shirley, 19 years old, has set a new divorce record. She sued two husbands the same day for divorce.

One—her first—husband lives at Lulu. The other lives in Fulton-co., where the dual divorce cases will be tried.

Mrs. "Sunshine" Savage Shirley doesn't want to keep either of her mates. Toy Savage, whom she married when but 15—"I was too young to know better then," she explained—or E. F. Shirley, who, she avers, wedded her while she was in a trance.

As Avery Head the girl was known through all Fulton-co. as "Sunshine." It was then she met Toy Savage. He wooed and won her. On her wedding day Shirley saw her.

"I fell in love with her right there and then," he said.

A month later Savage deserted his child bride and Sunshine went back to brighten her parents' home.

She had had "enough of men," she asserted.

So when Shirley came a-wooing, she sent him on his way.

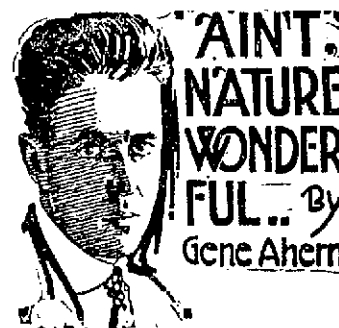

"But he offered my aunt money," "Sunshine" avers in her petition for divorce.

"And one day my aunt came over to our house and invited me to spend a few days with her. I went. She brought in a box of candy and told me to eat all I wanted. I ate the candy."

"Then it seemed that my soul had passed out of my body. I was wrapped in visions and in ecstasy, as in a

Why Society Women Wash Their Own Hair

They do, not because it is a fad, but because they wish to obtain the greatest possible hair beauty and be sure they are not using anything harmful. They have found that in washing the hair it is never wise to use a makeshift but is always advisable to use a preparation made for shampooing only. Many of our friends say they get the best results from a simple home-made canthrox mixture. You can use this at a cost of about three cents a shampoo by getting some canthrox from your druggist, and dissolving a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes an enough shampoo liquid to apply to all the hair instead of just the top of the head, as with most preparations. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear in the rinsing water. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you.—Advertisement.

Eighty Years Young -- Physician Says Nuxated Iron Did It

How Would You Like to Feel Like a Boy Again, Full of Energy, Vim and Vigor, With a Strong, Elastic, Forceful Step, Instead of That Nervous, Shambling Gait?

Doctor Says Nuxated Iron Often Increases the Strength and Endurance of Delicate, Nervous, Run-down Folks 100 Percent in Two Weeks' Time.

What's the use of feeling so old, cross, nervous and "grumpy" all the time, a burden to yourself and a constant irritation to others? It's not how old you are in years that counts, but it's the amount of iron in your blood that may tell the story. For want of iron, you may be an old man at thirty, dull of intellect, poor in memory, nervous, irritable and all "run-down" while at 50 or 60, with plenty of iron in your blood, you may still be young in feeling, full of life, your whole being brimming over with energy and vital force.

As proof of this, take the case of Dr. James E. Sawyer, who for fifteen years was Adjunct Professor in the New York Homeopathic Medical College. At nearly 80 years of age, Dr. Sawyer was very much weakened and run-down. He made up his mind to renew his vital energy and fill his veins again with youthful vim and vigor. He therefore prescribed Nuxated Iron for himself and took it. A short course of it made him feel like a new man. So much so that he says his friends ask, "What have you been doing to yourself you look so well and full of life?" His reply is, "Taking care of my blood and building it up with iron—Nuxated Iron."

Dr. E. Sawyer, a Boston physician, who has studied both in this country and great European Medical Institutions, said: "Nuxated Iron is a wonderful remedy. Not only does it increase the vitality of the body, but it also increases the strength and endurance of the body. I was astonished to find that a man who was nearly a century old and asked me to give him a preliminary examination for life insurance, I was astonished to find him with the blood pressure of a boy of twenty, and as full of vigor, vim and vitality as a young man; in fact a young man he really was notwithstanding his age. The secret, he said, was taking iron."

Nuxated Iron had filled him with renewed life. At 80 he was in bad health; at 40 he was careworn and nearly all in now at 60, after taking Nuxated Iron, a miracle of vitality and his face beaming with the buoyancy of youth.

If people would only take Nuxated Iron when they feel weak or run-down instead of doing themselves with habit-forming drugs, stimulants and alcoholic beverages, I am convinced that in this way they could ward off disease, preventing it becoming organic in thousands of cases, and thereby the lives of thousands might be saved.

Senator Towle says: "I have found Nuxated Iron of the greatest benefit as a tonic and regenerative."

And then there is former United States Senator Charles F. Smith, who just 65 is still a veritable mountain of tireless energy. Senator Towle says: "I have found Nuxated Iron of the greatest benefit as a tonic and regenerative."

Report comes from the United States department of the interior that a permanent home and means of self-support are now being offered by the government to the Papago Indians of Arizona. The Papago Indians, who number about 6,000, are a remarkably industrious people. For centuries they have lived in southern Arizona, crowded back into barren and desert territory so arid that white men could not have sustained life. Yet here they managed to carry on agriculture, and first introduced to arid regions the "Papago bean," or tepary bean, a hardy vegetable which is said to have no little food value.

When many of the Milwaukee (Wis.) children found that the bathing officials were cramped for locker space the children donned bathing suits and, with the aid of garden hose, enjoyed themselves to their back yards. So much fun was derived by the youngsters that the parents did the same.

CHAS. EDWARD RUSSELL TELLS HOW TO READ NEWS OF RUSSIA

Inside Story of How a Houseful of Anarchists, Issuing Manifestos and Touring in Automobiles Convinced World That All Was Chaos in Petrograd.

(Daily Sentinel Staff Writer Just Returned from Russia, Where He Spent Three Months as a Member of the Official American Commission.)

(Copyright, 1917, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)
I will now tell you a little story that shows how easily these scares are manufactured in Petrograd, and what they really amount to.
These fifteen gunmen from New York that I mentioned once before, looking for a little thrill, raided one afternoon the office of a Petrograd newspaper they didn't happen to like, drove out the printers and editors, and took possession of the shop.
A few hours later they were ousted by the soldiers, but the exploit gave them what they wanted, which was publicity and plenty of it.
It looked good to them, so two days later they took possession of one of the palaces of moldy dukes and such by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

things with which Petrograd was over-supplied. This one was in the suburbs and had been bestowed, at public expense, by the czar upon one of his mistresses.
The place was now become government property, so these east siders, having seized it, issued a flamboyant proclamation defying the government to remove them, and uttering a lot of rubbish about the blood with which they purposed to soak the streets of Petrograd.
Next they called on the telephone all the factories of the city that were then operated by the workmen, and announced in terrifying shrieks that the counter-revolution was about to be pulled off, the Russian democracy was in danger, the czar's friends were about to rise and overthrow the power of the people and the old system was about to be brought back.
You can start pretty nearly anything in Russia if you can make people believe there is danger of the czar's return. These gunmen urged the workers to rush with their arms in hand to the defense of liberty, and come to the palace, because that was where the first battle would take place.
In the next six hours about 3,500 workmen arrived at the palace with their guns and prepared to struggle to the death against the powers of reaction. They camped that night in the palace grounds, and looked for the big fights to start in about 9 a. m.
The next day passed without any more disturbance than there is at a prayer meeting, and by nightfall, it being apparent there was nothing doing, the workers began to go back home.
Meantime the gunmen who were all anarchists had scattered through the city half-lifting accounts of the proletarian uprising at the palace and the slaughter of the capitalists, which was about to begin, and this stuff had been eagerly seized upon by the correspondents and cabled around the world as conclusive evidence that everything in Petrograd had gone to ruin.

Lemon Juice For Freckles

Girls! Make beauty lotion at home for a few cents. Try it!

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.—Advertisement.

solved not to advertise the gang by ousting it, some news press agent device was necessary to get it back into the center of the stage. So the gunmen now announced for the following Sunday a grand anarchist demonstration that they were to lead, and if the government attempted to interfere with the marching hosts, blood would flow in rivers. They went through the city in automobiles, scattering proclamations telling of these direful deeds, and warning all citizens to keep within their houses on Sunday for the general massacre would begin about 10:15 and last all day, and no life would be safe.
A lot of timid souls took to a panic at this and begged the government to interfere. So on Friday the government issued an order forbidding for the next four days all kinds of demonstrations and parades in the streets.
Of course, here was the finest kind of scare material. The situation was so terrible that to save the lives of thousands of people and the destruction of the city in a civil war, the government had been obliged rigorously to prohibit all crowds in the streets, and keep the people in their houses, while it sat in terror, expecting every moment to be his last!
Sunday passed without a ripple of excitement. No city in the world that day was more peaceful. This gave a good chance to get up stories of suppressed excitement, tense atmosphere, expectant waiting for the slaughter, and all that sort of thing.

On Tuesday in the national council a bolshevik (or extreme radical) brought the matter up with a resolution condemning the government for prohibiting the demonstration and authorizing the anarchists to go ahead with their demonstration on the following Sunday.

At this, of course, there was a hot debate, and when the vote came on the bolsheviks were defeated in the usual way, getting about 119 out of 800.

As soon as the result was announced the bolsheviks, at a pre-arranged signal, arose and started to leave the chamber in a body. The council was therefore about to split, which of course would create the worst possible impression and reveal Russia to the world as hopelessly divided. The wise men on the other side of the council had a hunch in advance of what was coming, and were prepared for it. The bolsheviks were moving toward the door but were still within the chamber, when one of Kerensky's party hopped up.

"Hold on!" says he. "Before our comrades leave I have a proposal. I wish to submit to them," and he read a resolution adroitly prepared for the emergency, setting apart the next Sunday for everybody to demonstrate— anarchists— bolsheviks, menchevists, trade unionists, maximalists, min-maximalists, people's liberty party, peop's socialist party, Baptists, Methodists, Seventh Day Adventists and Quakers, everybody, high and low, sickly and weary, come out on that day and demonstrate until they didn't have a kick left in them.

This, of course, left the bolsheviks helpless. They couldn't object to demonstration, which is the Russian national game, and they couldn't insist that nobody should demonstrate but the anarchists. So they sat down again and looked pretty sheepish while the resolution boomed through unanimously.

But of course here was the grand chance for hectic imagination to foretell the horrors to be on that coming Sunday. About half a million demonstrators would be turned loose in the streets of Petrograd, nearly all armed, and what they would do to things beggared description. About the least you could expect was that the entire city

The thin cork sheets may then be glued to a strong cloth or in some cases placed between two layers of cork so as to form a waterproof garment or hospital sheeting.

"Sweetheart, You Look Ten Years Younger"

Complexion Blemishes Banished—No Sign of Wrinkles—How She Did It.

Only a woman who has watched her complexion change from wrinkles, coarse, yellow, ugliness to clear, soft, youthful beauty can realize the feeling of joy that came over me when first I saw that my own care-worn, aged-looking skin was actually regaining its girlish freshness. Yet prior to this there was no cure, no preparation, including treatment at the highest prices, which I had not tried, only to make my face look worse. Finally a French lady gave me a beauty recipe which she had obtained from a doctor in Paris, who told her the reason most things failed was because they lacked the power to get down into the skin and renew the youthful activity of the tissues. It was only a short time after that my husband exclaimed, "Sweetheart, you look ten years younger! That French beauty recipe is a marvel!" I am certain that most any woman can successfully use the same plan, so I gladly repeat it here for the benefit of others. Merely wash your face with buttermilk and rub in a teaspoonful of roseated cream which can be obtained from drug-gists, wipe the face and apply Poudre Petaliss a very fine complexion powder, prepared especially for shiny noses and had complexions. If your face is badly wrinkled, get a box of Japanese Ice Creams to use in connection with the roseated cream. Have seen many a wrinkled, hollow-cheeked, faded-looking woman banish every sign of wrinkles and complexion blemishes and marvellously increase her beauty through this simple and inexpensive recipe.

STUFF TO LOSE SLEEP OVER

Chum's a Chum to Homesick Sammy

This little scamp of a monkey brings his soldier master good luck as well as companionship. He plays the double role of mascot and confidant. When a feller's far from home anything to play with and fuss over and distract the attention from the grind of training or fighting relaxes the tension. And how could a soldier with a mascot like this ever get shot?

TELL THEM DAILY

The business man, the public stenographer, the architect, the moving man, the chiropodist and the carpenter who advertise in the classified columns of The Sentinel all know how important it is to keep their business announcements before Fort Wayne people every day in the week, month after month. They know that Fort Wayne people use these columns like they use the City Directory or the telephone book, "looking up" what they want to buy in the carefully indexed "For Sale" classification, and using the "Services Offered" column in the same way when they want to get in touch with reliable professional people. Whatever you do can profitably be told every day in The Sentinel.

CITY MARKET FAIRLY WELL PATRONIZED

Prices About the Same as Last Week—Reduction in Corn Expected.

The city market was fairly well patronized Tuesday morning. There were about the usual number of buyers although they bought more carefully. Good quantity of vegetables and produce of all kinds was offered at prices practically the same as last week. Butter sold at 45 cents a pound and eggs from 41 to 45 cents a dozen. There were plenty of tomatoes on the market with the price slightly lower. A reduction in corn is expected. One miller reduced his paying price from $1.95 to $1.70. Seven loads of corn were received at the city scales, more than on any one day in two weeks. The price was $1.80 to $2.05. As a matter of fact Tuesday was the busiest day at the city scales in two or three weeks. Nineteen loads of hay were weighed and ten loads of oats. Wheat prices remain the same.

DID NOT TAKE DRAFT TRAIN

Howard McDarby Failed to Appear for Final Roll Call.

YOUNG MAN SUBJECT TO COURT MARTIAL

Board for District No. 1 Will Call Offender for Hearing.

Howard McDarby, salesman, 1903 East Wayne street, has been assigned a place in the second draft contingent from the first city district. He did not appear for the final roll call and did not go to Camp Taylor with the rest of the men from the east end.

McDarby will be called before the first district draft board, probably on Thursday, to give his reasons for not answering the conscription call. He may be subject for court-martial, it is said.

It is reported that he was at the railroad station but failed to report or board the draft train.

ATHLETICS BOOM IN INDIANA COLLEGE

War Has Only Crippled the Big Squads and the Outlook is Fair.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 25.—Despite the preliminary announcements of some Indiana colleges at the beginning of the war that athletics might be dropped during the war preparations are in full swing for the major branches of collegiate sports. Practically every college in the state is claiming to have been the most seriously affected by the loss of athletes who have gone into war service, but a careful survey of conditions discloses the fact that while every institution has been crippled to a great extent there is in every case a nucleus of seasoned men who can aid the coaches in getting the new material together.

The usual interest in Purdue, Notre Dame and Indiana obtains at the beginning of the season this year as usual and the smaller institutions are biding for attention because of their intrastate contests scheduled more generally with the larger schools.

Wabash is hard at work under its new coach, J. B. Townsend, who has just arrived to take the place of P. V. Sheeks, who is now an officer in the army. Five letter men—Captain Hanneker, Stonebraker, Bacon, Walker and Thompson—are already practicing and the new athletes are slowly getting into form. The men are being pointed toward the Indiana game at Bloomington, October 6. The first game will be with Marietta college at Crawfordsville, September 29. Purdue will be played at the close of the Indiana games Wabash has instead of the beginning of the season.

Cochran time has had the DePaul men in hand for more than a week. The old men have been slow to show up for practice but the coach has been taking the new men through active practice. The first game with Hanover is only three days after the opening of college, and practically all of the practice must be on the players' own time. DePaul is actively awaiting the contest with Purdue at Lafayette the day Wabash meets Indiana at Bloomington.

The Franklin team is again working under Coach John M. Thayer, and while the lot of men for army service was largely from the ranks of athletes, the college reports a number of prominent high school athletes in view. Practice has already started, but the prospects for getting all the old men back in time for thorough practice work before the scheduled game with Indiana September 29, has led to talk of cancelling that game.

Rose Poly has one of its largest schedules—nine college games and one alumni game—and Athletic Director Rufus Gilbert has been putting the men through a grilling every after-

GASTON B. MEANS TO

BE HELD FOR MURDER

Counsel for Widow's Secretary Consent to the Procedure.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Concord, N. H., Sept. 25.—The defense in the case of Gaston B. Means, charged with the murder of Mrs. Maude A. King, consented this afternoon to having Means bound over to the grand jury.

When counsel for the defense announced today at the opening of the second day's preliminary hearing of Means that it would offer no evidence, but would rest its case on arguments for dismissal, it became apparent that Means' story of the tragedy would not be re-told at this time.

Two of the defendant's eight lawyers, Frank Osborne and L. J. Hartzell, had addressed Magistrate Pitts when court recessed for lunch and it was indicated that the remaining six would have something to say before the defense was through. Solicitor Hayden Clement spoke also this morning in answer to Mr. Osborne's arguments. Means' counsel today obtained an order from Circuit Judge James L. Webb, at Gastonia, directing that all documents seized in Means' apartments in New York, including the alleged second will of J. C. King, be delivered to the court of Cabarrus county. The order was directed against John Dooling, of District Attorney Swan's office, in New York, and against other New York officials aiding in the prosecution of Means.

Lake Shore Brand

PEACHES

The season is here at last. Don't wait too long but take them now while they are coming. Prices will be higher than any year for the past ten years so don't wait till they get cheaper. They won't. LAKE SHORE BRAND PEACHES WILL AGAIN BE DISTRIBUTED AMONG THE BEST TRADE. Besides the superior quality of peaches packed under this brand, you will get from three to four cans more from each bushel than you will get from any other peaches of other grades because the peaches packed under the LAKE SHORE BRAND are all put into the baskets by hand, one peach at a time, each laid beside the other, forming a ring pack from bottom to top. When the baskets are opened the peaches will appear packed in rings and by packing in this way five to ten pounds more peaches will be put in each basket. INSIST ON THE BEST AND CHEAPEST PEACHES. WE ADMIT THEY ARE HIGH BUT IN A SEASON LIKE THIS YOU WANT AS MUCH AS YOU CAN GET FOR YOUR MONEY AND YOU WILL GET QUALITY, QUANTITY AND PRICE. ALL IN ONE BASKET. ASK AND DEMAND LAKE SHORE BRAND PEACHES. THE ONES WITH THE OVAL BLUE LABEL ON THE LIDS. They cost no more than others not so good.

Astor Asquith, of Edgehill, Utah, has appealed to the postmaster to help him establish proof of his subscription to the Liberty loan. Asquith's young son, age two, swallowed his Liberty loan button, and one of the pigs, loose in the barnyard, ate up the certificate, which had dropped from Asquith's pocket while he was pumping water for the cattle. He says it was for a $200 bond.
